Ed. Hendricks, of Pickens, R. I. is a breeder of Buff Orpingtons, and is a poultry crank right. His birds are fine ones and are winners wherever shown. Out of five birds shown at Pickens he won 1st and 2d cockerel, 1st and 2d pullet. At Greenville, out of four birds shown, he won 3d cockerel, 1st hen and stand 3d pullets in very hot competition. The birds were taken up out of the yard and exhibited without any grooming whatever. If you like the Buff Orpingtons, you cannot do better than purchase your stock or eggs from him, as his stock is of the Owen strain, the finest bred Orpingtons in America.

Blessed is the man who can raise anything and not be forced to sell on account of debt. Jas. Parsons, of Liberty, can do that. He tells the writer that he has sold enough of last year's cotton to pay for his guano and run him and all his hands this year, and still have 18 or 19 bales lying in his yard. Mr. Parsons says he never allows a hand on his place to go in debt only to him. He ascertains exactly how much cash a month it will take to run the family. At the end of each month he lets that family have that much money and books it—no lien or mortgage. If the hand leave at any time, Mr. P. says his work will tally with the advancement. If he stays till his cotton is gathered he hauls it to Mr. Parsons' yard, and he (Parsons) allows the market price for the renter's part. He charges no interest on the money. We have never heard of Mr. Parsons having any trouble with his hands. If other landlords would do this, would it not be better for both landlord and tenant? Better tenants could then be had. If both landlord and tenant would work to each other's advantage would it not be better for both? When a landlord gets a good tenant or a good tenant gets with a good landlord, isn't it best not to make a change?

John Williams, of Norris, is building a fine house. Lookout, girls, John says he can't always do his own milking. Well, "School Girl," I have not been studying so much about the Greenville girl as I have about you and "Bonnie Blue Eyes." The trouble with me is I don't know which to take, you or "Bonnie Blue Eyes." Of course I will have to wait a few years on "Bonnie Blue Eyes," but she will be awfully sweet when I do get her.

Marietta. A delightful entertainment was given at the home of Brown Foster last Saturday night. Among those present were the Misses Cairo and Verner Foster, May Lou Inman, Nannie Coward and Lillie Epps, and Messrs. Wade Betson, Paul Carpenter, Charlie Foster, Earl Foster and W. C. Gibson, Jr., from Greenville.

Vance Featherston, a tobacco drummer, passed through here the other day en route to his home in Pickens county. J. M. Gwyn has just returned from Greenville where, while serving as a juror, he became sick. W. T. Batson and wife visited at the home of J. M. Gwyn, Saturday.

Farmers are clearing up the land preparatory to spring plowing. They expect a good crop year. Many are going to plant less cotton and more corn, wheat, potatoes, etc.

It seemed to J. A. Stone, a civil war veteran, of Kemp, Tex., that a plot existed between a desperate lung trouble and the grave to cause his death. "I contracted a stubborn cold," he writes, "that developed a cough that stuck to me in spite of all remedies for years. My weight ran down to 130 pounds. Then I began to use Dr. King's New Discovery, which restored my health completely. I now weigh 175 pounds." For severe Colds, obstinate Coughs, Hemorrhages, Asthma, and to prevent Bronchitis it's unrivaled. 50c and 1.00. Little free. Guaranteed by all

Health exceedingly good and news exceedingly scarce. B. M., on the night of the 24th ult., to Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Bowen, a fine boy. D. M. Newton has returned from a trip to Vina, Ala., and reports a good time. He found his baby very sick, but is better at this writing. Winter has just set in. The March winds sure do blow. Rev. Walker filled his regular appointment on the last fourth Sunday. This gentleman is truly a fine preacher.

Misses Ada and Ila Woodson, two of Liberty's amiable young ladies, visited in Norris last Saturday. We were glad to have them in our section. Annie Phillips, L. G. Phillips' little girl, was bitten by a cat the other day, but nothing serious will result. Joe Powers, of Old Pickens visited Walter Mauldin on Saturday at Norris.

happy couple have the best wishes of their many friends. Born to Mr. and Mrs. J. L. O. Thompson, on the 23d ult. a son, "J. L. O., jr.," who, we hope, when Father Time calls on us to lay aside the cares and burdens of conducting a country newspaper, may be able to pick up the work on THE SENTINEL-JOURNAL and carry it on, and prove to be a power among and a blessing to the people he serves.

J. H. G., Jr., and E. G. McDaniel, of Forest City, N. C., arrived in Pickens, Tuesday evening, for a few days' visit with their parents and other relatives and to be present at the "homecoming" dinner served by their father, J. H. G. McDaniel, on Sunday to his children and grandchildren. There will be twenty-four of them present.

Dr. J. N. Hallum, with his yard of White Leghorns and White Wyandottes, has one of the prettiest sights to be seen anywhere. Dr. Hallum is meeting with great success in raising and selling these breeds of birds. He has the finest strain that money can buy and is keeping them in all their purity, and is breeding for quality alone.

Pickens county poultry fanciers are not all dead! They are very much alive, and some of them are pushing their birds before the public eye in every way they can. Some of them are advertising in the newspapers and poultry journals and selling their stuff. One breeder in our town has sold over $200 worth of eggs from his yard and had orders for over $500 worth, but just didn't have the goods for his customers. Some of the boys have had some mighty nice prizes done (at this office) for their business and are flooding the country with literature relative to the good points of their respective breeds. Name your yard and let us figure on your next printing bill.

The many friends in Pickens county, and elsewhere, of Hon. W. T. Bowen will be sorry to learn that he fell out of the barn left Wednesday morning and is seriously hurt. Mr. Bowen was out doing the feeding and in some way missed his footing and fell to the ground, striking on his head. He is pretty seriously hurt, and fears are entertained that his back is broken along with the other injuries he received. Medical aid was immediately summoned, but as we go to press we have not learned the doctor's diagnosis. It is to be hoped, however, that Mr. Bowen's injuries are not as bad as first reported and that he may soon be out again.

Pickens now has electric lights that are second to none in the country. The machinery has all arrived and been placed and the current turned on. Sunday night the arc lights spread their brilliant and effulgent rays over the peaceful little embryo city, to the delight of the many well-wishers of the Ivy Water, Light & Power Co. The residences which will be connected up this week and a regular current turned on. Hurrah for Pickens! Now let us all pull for waterworks, which is really needed more than lights. Fire protection is what Pickens now needs most of all things.

The Southern Purchasing & Sales Co., with headquarters in Greenville, is the latest Mountain City industry, the proprietors being Messrs. C. O. Hobbs and Tom J. Turner. The business of the new company will consist of conducting sales, buying bankrupt and general stocks special commercial advertising campaigns; direct mill connections, will buy mill ends through mills all over the United States, and ship direct to stores through the south for special sales, etc. The Southern Purchasing & Sales Co. will operate through the southern states, and will employ entirely new methods in conducting sales. Mr. Hobbs is in charge of the office work and Mr. Turner is field manager and director of conductors of sales and advertising. These enterprising young business men have the best wishes of a great
