MORRIS FERTILIZER COMPANY

MANUFACTURERS OF

"SUPREME" and "SOUTHERN BIG" BRANDS

BLOOD, BONE and TANKAGE FERTILIZERS

ATLANTA, GA.

You can't always tell what a fertilizer is by looking at it. It may be in good mechanical condition and may have every earmark of being just the thing you want, but there are other considerations that are more important that the farmer should know when he is buying plant food for his crop.

He should know from what source his ammonia is derived and whether he can depend upon it to feed his crop constantly and continuously till maturity.

By no surer way can he guarantee himself full protection in this way than by the use of our excellently prepared Blood, Bone and Tankage fertilizers on all his crops. They are in absolutely fine and dry mechanical condition, thus insuring free and even distribution and uniform feeding of every plant. They do not contain one ounce of any ammoniating substance but the most scientifically prepared animal matter from our six large packing plants which insures quick and constant action through wet and dry seasons alike. They prevent shedding and keep the stalk healthy and vigorous.

This is why the "SUPREME" and "SOUTHERN BIG" Brands have been found better by those who have tried them beside other fertilizers. Call on your dealer for a copy of our 1911 Year Book and see what others think of them.

Clemson College.

During the first two days of the week Clemson had as her guest Mr. Bradford Knapp and his farm demonstration agents, of the Piedmont section of South Carolina. Twenty-five of the agents were present, and all were entertained in the barracks.

Mr. Knapp, Dr. Knapp's son, responded to a short address of welcome by Acting President Riggs, and insisted that his men should recognize that the Agricultural College is to the demonstration agents what an implement factory is to the farmer.

The Agricultural College must furnish the necessary information which the agents disseminate. His remarks along this line were well received, and the spirit of co-operation was manifested by hearty, approving resolutions. Various topics of agricultural interest were discussed by members of the faculty before the demonstration agents.

Mr. J. M. Casque, who for a number of years has held the position of assistant to the commandant, has resigned. It is not known as yet who will take his place.

One of the most attractive plays of this season's lyceum course was given on the evening of the 25th ult. The entertainment was a costume play of "Rip Van Winkle," in four acts. Another attraction of great note was the entertainment given by the "Festival Quartette" on the 1st inst. This quartette is composed of four of the greatest singers on the stage, and we were very fortunate in getting them to come to Clemson.

Dr. W. B. Weatherford, international student, secretary of the Y. M. C. A., is conducting a series of meetings here. Dr. Weatherford is known throughout the South as an eloquent and forceful speaker. His wide experience with college men gives him a keen insight into their lives. His able and helpful lectures have been well attended by the students. On Friday evening he delivered an address on "The Freedom of Mankind."

Baseball and track practice are now in progress at Clemson. Coach Dobson says deep down in his sleeves that Clemson is going to play her ball this season. Stub Stephens, the Southern vaulting champion, has already vaulted 11 feet. It seems that he is going to throw sand in the world's champion's record this season. Among the star runners is W. C. Garrett, a well-known Pickens county boy, and a Senior here at Clemson.

The people of Pickens will be glad to learn that Prof. Andrew Bramlette, one of the professors of mathematics at Clemson, is once more able to be at his post of duty, after quite a long siege of illness. Prof. Bramlette believes his health is now going to permit him to stay with his work. B. G. F.

Law and Order League Organization.

Pursuant to the call of Rev. A. H. Best, which has been published in the county papers, all good people who were in sympathy with and lovers of law and order, met at the courthouse, Tuesday, for the promulgation of a Law and Order League in this county.

Hon. Laban Mauldin was called to the chair, and after stating the object of the call, Rev. J. L. Harley addressed the meeting and stated the object of the League, which was to cooperate with the officers in the suppression of all crime, but more especially to help and assist the officers in suppressing the illegal liquor traffic. In the course of his remarks Rev. Harley stated that he had a list of every man in South Carolina who held a United States license for selling liquor; that out of the list of something over 700, 400 were in the city of Charleston, and two in this county, and they were in Easley.

After a thorough discussion of the question, the body resolved itself into the "Law and Order League of Pickens County."

Article 2 of their constitution says: "The object of this League is the suppression of the boot-legger and joint-keeper, and all violators of the prohibitory laws of our state, and the suppression of all other crimes," etc. "To this end we invite the alliance of all good citizens in harmony with this object, and the League pledges to avoid affiliation with any political party as such, and to maintain an attitude of neutrality upon questions of public policy not directly concerned or in harmony with the purposes and interests of the organization."

After perfecting the organization, the following officers were elected:

President—Rev. A. H. Best. Vice-President—C. E. Robinson.

Secretary—Treasurer—E. H. Craig.

Executive Committee—B. J. Johnston, Rev. J. C. Bailey, R. A. Bowen, G. M. Lynch, J. T. Taylor.

Membership Committee—Jno. Roper, H. M. Hester and R. T. Hallum.

Finance Committee—Dr. J. C. Walker, J. C. Garrett and F. E. Cox.

A meeting of the league will be held on the fourth Sunday evening, immediately after the talk by Rev. J. L. Harley, and all persons wishing to identify themselves with this movement will be given the opportunity to do so at that time.
