Special Orders No. 87.—Whereas, in the issue of the Richmond Whig of July 11, 1865, a certain clause of the merciful Amnesty Proclamation of the President of the United States, pardoning certain traitors, is stigmatized as "heathenish," and a law of this land, duly enacted by Congress and approved by the President, is characterized as "mean, brutal and cowardly."

Ed. W. Smith, A. A. G.

Artemus Ward in Richmond. The old show-man takes a trip to this city, immediately, to use his own language, "arter it caterpillered." And from there gives a very humorous description of the sights and sayings which attracted his attention.

Extract from Mr. Perry's Speech. At a public meeting of the citizens of Greenville, held on Monday, the 2d of July, Mr. E. P. Perry says:

"It has been too common, to attribute the failure of this great revolution to the President of the late Confederacy. This is a mistake. The people were themselves to blame for its failure.

"I will here frankly say, as I have often said during the past four years, that there was not a man in the United States who more deeply regretted the secession of the Southern States than I did at the beginning of the revolution, and there is not now in the Southern States any one who feels more bitterly the humiliation and degradation of going back into the Union than I do.

"The future to my mind, is not so gloomy as some would have us believe. I have no doubt that in ten years the Southern States will be happy and prosperous again, and we shall find that the loss of slavery will be no real loss at all to our comfort and satisfaction. The planter and farmer will find that his net profits are greater, with hired labor, than with slave labor.

"The idleness and vagrancy of the negro, in a free state, may be a nuisance to society. It must be corrected in the best way we can. I have no doubt, in nine cases out of ten, freedom will prove a curse instead of a blessing to the negro.

THE PERMANENT STANDING ARMY.—The composition of the permanent military establishment of the country seems to be settled as follows, making a standing army of nearly 200,000 men. General Officers—One General, five Lieutenants General, fifty Major-Generals and seventy-five Brigadier Generals.

Several wagon loads of returned prisoners passed through Newberry, last week, looking remarkably well and hearty.

Our streets present an animated appearance these days, from daylight to dark, and great is the traffic carried on in the watermelon and peach line, in spite of the tightness in the money market.

A little reform is needed in our streets, and we hear occasionally of contemplated cleanings up, but nothing is yet done, and the sense of sight and smell are still offended.

Attention is called to card of Mr. E. S. Bailey, who we are glad to see once more in our midst. Mr. B. is a superior workman, and a reliable gentleman.

against the sale of ardent spirits has brought about a condition of dryness in the "cuppers" of the old "hards," most lamentable to witness. The weather, too, so warm and dry, militates against the comfort of an opposite class, we mean the ladies, and those who prefer nature's own beverage, when they cannot do better, to taking something stronger.

We don't know what has come over the boys and girls of late, wherever we go, the universal topic is love, young love, sweet love, Miss so-and-so is beautiful, ravishing, or Mr. what's-his-name, is charming, elegant, so graceful. Something more than moonshine and sweet talk must be the end of this. It is as easy to fall in love with a pretty girl as to fall from a tree, and its pity that the poor, unreflecting victim, innocent of the intention of going into "harness" has no friend to point out the dangers.

It is supposed that the Atlantic cable will be ready, and in working order in about twenty days. When the circle around the earth is completed, nations in one part of the earth will be able to hear in one day of events that took place the day after in another quarter. To explain: At 1 o'clock a. m., August 1, I send a message from Liverpool to a friend in New York, informing him of a certain event which has just happened. He receives the message between the hours of 9 and 10 p. m. on July 31. What is the time?

A letter says that true loyalty is scarce in Galveston, even now, while soldiers patrol the streets and powerful fleets are anchored in the bay. The people cling to the idea of State independence. They want to be the lone star flag once more, and to subdivide the country into four States and become a recognized power in the world.

The last novelty in fashionable bonnets is thus described by a Parisian writer: "Madame de Z—"s Bonnet consisted of two ounces of gold beaten into a band, and four square inches of black lace, the whole to conclude with a gold button, which fastened one end of the lace over the other.

Speaking of the confession of Mrs. Surratt, Rev. Mr. Walters says, not revealing the confessional, that as God lives, Mrs. Surratt was innocent of the murder of President Lincoln, or of any interest in the conspiracy to murder him.

A Missouri postmaster thus expresses his opinion that his official returns are correct:—"I liberally certify that the four gold A Counties is as sure bite as I know how to make it if there is any mistake in not Dun a purpers."
