

To our Patrons.

We are happy in being able to state, that in a short time the dimensions of the Herald will be again enlarged. It is a pleasure to make this announcement, it evidences a liberal patronage, in subscribers as well as advertisers. Some preparation has to be made before this enlargement can be effected, but we trust it will be soon.

We take this opportunity to call the attention of advertisers to the fact that we advertise cheaply, and that our paper circulates largely through the up-country.

Threat of Violence to Gen. Van Wyck.

It is a subject of deep regret, that there are turbulent, restless spirits among us, men who, without responsibility, care for themselves, or for their neighbors, are guilty of the grossest violations against law and order, and the peace of society. The man must be insane, who with the examples of the past, and the dangers of the present staring him in the face, wantonly, insanely attempts or threatens that, the execution of which would not only endanger his own safety, but place in jeopardy the lives and property of an innocent community. We allude to the threat of personal violence made to Gen. Van Wyck, at Chapell's depot last week. Coming among them unarmed, on a peaceful mission, as their guest, if not for reasons of great prudential interests, should have preserved him from insult, from the threat of violence—the taking of his life. We trust it was but an idle, foolish threat of braggadocio, never contemplated as a reality. The party, whose names we forbear mentioning, were evidently under the influence of bad whiskey, or it could not have happened. The successful efforts of the gentlemen who interfered, and happily preserved harmony, should prove that law, order, and peace are the prevailing sentiments of the community at large. We trust the like will never again occur, or anything calculated to stir up a spirit of discord, or animosity. We must remember that we have not taken upon ourselves any light obligations towards the government, (or its representatives) against which we have been contending, and that it is the duty of all to pour oil upon the troubled waters, to bear and forbear, that we may soon enjoy the blessings of that peace, which good-will must ensure, and that our State may the sooner glide into the still waters of civil law and a happy prosperity.

We learn that the parties have been arrested, and await trial.

Don't Read This.

The Greenville Enterprise says: "Would you have your location, and business or profession generally known? If so, advertise. Let the people know where you are, and what you are doing. Don't wait for them to find you by accident and learn what you have, and what you are doing. Our paper has a good local and District circulation, and an advertisement in its columns will reach the eyes of many. The small amount expended in advertising may be of much benefit to you. We will make liberal advertising contracts." All this, and more to the same purpose, has been said time and again, and again it is repeated. Advertise; let people know something about you and your business, and our word for it it will pay, and that largely. Shrewd business men advertise, and are always successful. Don't be afraid; nothing venture, nothing gain. Hear what the Philadelphia Price Current says: "Mr. Jay Cooke has just made an explanation of the means he employed to obtain in one week subscriptions to the national loan amounting to nearly one hundred million dollars. The explanation is in a single word—he advertised! This explains the marvel. He did nothing more; but he did it well. He accomplished nothing that another man may not accomplish in his own business. Liberal advertising in the papers was the rod with which he smote the rock, and performed a financial miracle. Business men should profit by this example, of the great success, which attained the largest financial operation yet recorded in the world's history."

A Few Words.—The editorial rooms of the Courier are for the use of the editors.

Parties having no business to transact with the editors are respectfully requested to keep away from the rooms.

The business apartments of the establishment are on the first floor.

We do not keep a grog shop.

We do not keep a circulating library.

Our exchange newspapers we want for our own use and convenience.

In a word, we wish it to be distinctly understood that the Courier's editorial rooms do not afford facilities for bummers, loafers, book-worms, hangers on, pilferers of exchanges or any other idle or useless class of the community.—Charleston Courier.

To TRAVELERS.—C. Y. Pool's hack line connects with the cars at Hope Station, immediately upon the arrival of the down train, and will convey passengers safely and securely to Columbia; it will also carry passengers from Columbia to Hope Station, in time to take the train the same day for Greenville.

A special dispatch from Galveston dated the first inst., says: orders have been issued to the officers at Matamoras to prepare accommodations for thirty thousand troops, to consist of French, Austrians, and Algerians.

The reason given for thus collecting troops is because we have a similar number at Brownsville, and other points. French officers assert that there is no reason why a United States army of a hundred thousand strong should go to Texas, unless she designs an aggressive movement on Mexico.

LOCAL ITEMS.

GEN. VAN WYCK having been relieved, Col. R. Tyler assumes command of the 2d sub-district. An able, and efficient staff has been appointed by the Col. We will give a more extended notice next week.

Look at them, the candidates we mean. Can any one fail to get a proper man out of this goodly array? Make a good selection, gentlemen voters, and remember that three from fifteen and twelve remain.

What a good time some folks are going to have this winter. Acres of peaches are being converted into oceans of brandy, to be taken internally, or rather as we meant to say, internally, for the stomach's sake, with a small proportion of honey, mixed. Should any one send a gallon of the vile stuff to this office, it is hoped a little honey will accompany it, together with the name of the donor, that it may be properly labelled and put away.

THE SPIRIT OF FREEMASONRY, an Address delivered before Saluda Lodge, No. 103, A. F. M., by Rev. J. Hawkins. We commend this address to the Fraternity, and to the public generally, as worthy of attentive perusal. The subject is especially interesting, and ably handled, showing the author to be no novice in the great principles of the order which he advocates, and so clearly enunciates. It is for sale by Mr. Houseal at the store of Webb & Lovelace. Do not fail to procure a copy.

PAYORS.—We strongly suspect our friend, Dr. Gouin, as having laid on the table editorial sample of fine chewing Tobacco, as he is the only man in town who has anything as good. It was found nicely enveloped, and addressed to the printer. If the Dr. denies it, we must place it to the credit of his right hand man, and our other friend over there, Jimmy Larkin.

Capt. Wm. Kinard will accept thanks for a basket of delicious grapes, the finest certainly of the season.

Many friends have kindly placed at our disposal copies of interesting papers, of which use will be made. Accept thanks.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.—Our old friend, Andy Wicker is awake once more. See his advertisement, everything good. Give him an early call, good people.

Webb & Lovelace, it is refreshing to see, have a well selected stock of goods; looking in on them we find the stock not only well selected but pretty cheap.

We are pleased that Mayos & Martin have joined teams, and now have quite an assortment of goods, which they know how to dispose of if our readers but call on them.

We call attention to card of Dr. M. M. Cohen, Columbia. Merchants and others will find it to their advantage to look at his stock before buying elsewhere.

Notice the card of Willis & Chisolm, Charleston, Factors & Commission Merchants, and if you have business in their line give it to them.

And then there is that of Baggett & Co., Charleston, Factors & Commission Merchants also. All business entrusted to them will be faithfully and reliably attended to.

Observe the card of Mr. W. J. Gayer—"Government Claims and Applications for Pardon." Also, Attorney at Law. Mr. Gayer's ability and industry are superior.

See orders from Headquarters, all interesting and highly important.

And do not overlook the Sale of Furniture, and other notices which want of space precludes special notice.

COMMUNICATED.

I am compelled to decline being a candidate for a seat in the Convention, at the approaching election. My school, upon which I am now entirely dependent for a support, is advertised to open about the time of the meeting of the Convention. Thanking my friends for the confidence in me which my nomination implies, I am constrained to decline the honor which, under other circumstances, I would cheerfully accept.

JNO. J. BRANTLY.

THE INDIANS.—It is said that 50,000 Indians will soon assemble in Great Council, at Armstrong's Academy, in the Choctaw Nation, on the first of September. Representatives from all the tribes, civilized and savage, will be there, from the Choctaw in his broadcloth suit, to the greasy, staring Lipan, and the government is to furnish rations. The object of the Council is to harmonize, if possible, and adopt measures for the general welfare of the red men, and bring them into a lasting amity with the whites.

It is said that Captain Frazer and two daughters were recently shot and killed in Mexico. Sixteen generals and twelve priests were shot on the Plaza. The French troops are said to be very bitter toward Americans. The Imperials are expelling and murdering the American residents. The Mexicans are enthusiastic for the expulsion of the Imperials and annexation to the United States.

Mudd, O'Largalin, Arnold and Spangler have been conveyed to Fort Jefferson, on the Dry Tortugas. The three former it will be remembered were sentenced to imprisonment for life, and the latter for six years.

WHOLE TOTAL LOSS.—The total losses of the North and South during the war, runs up eight thousand, eight hundred million dollars.

Thousands of Kentucky Freedmen have crossed the Ohio River and are crowding the towns and cities of the State lying opposite.

The number of emigrants which arrived at the port of New York, during week ending July 16, was 3,328.

The thermometer marked 95 degrees in the shade in New York, July 23, at thirty minutes past 7 in the morning.

Columbia is to be supplied with gas by the 1st of October.

OBITUARY.

Many true patriots and brave soldiers have fallen! Corp'l JAMES D. SHEELY, Co. G. 13th Regt., S. C. V., was mortally wounded in the breast, at the battle near Darbytown, Va., on the 16th Aug., 1864, and carried to the field infirmary, where he died that night, far, far away from loved ones, a noble sacrifice for Southern independence.

Corp'l SHEELY was a native of Newberry Dist., S. C., and was in the 28th year of his age. He leaves a fond and devoted wife and three small children to feel his loss; three sisters and a large circle of relatives and friends to mourn his untimely death. He was endeared to all who knew him, and bid fair to a long, vigorous life of usefulness; but, alas, he was cut down in mid-life! He maintained an exemplary moral character, and was a frequent attendant on divine services, and often expressed his fears of the increase of vice during the war. He died in the confident expectation of exchanging the toils of war for the blissful pursuits of "that better country." When on the eve of death, he expressed his willingness to die in assurance of a glorious immortality, which is far better than the toils of this life, and only lamented leaving his infant children fatherless. Though his family has lost a fond protection and society a useful member, we hope "our loss will be his eternal gain" throughout eternity.

He volunteered in Co. G., 13th Reg. S. C. V., at its formation, and served his country's cause faithfully, part of '61 on the coast of S. C., and came to Virginia in time to share the fighting around Richmond, and the campaign under Jackson in '62, nobly endured the fatigues and fighting of the campaign of '63, to Gettysburg, and through a short time in the hospital, from disease incurred by the hardship of war, shared gallantly most of the fighting till his death, and received his death wound bravely doing his duty at the post of danger and honor. He was a noble, patriotic and heroic soldier, and bore uncomplainingly the toils and privations of camp, the march and the dangers of battle. We miss his jovial tales of fancied victories won, rumors of foreign recognition, and witty repartee: so that it was said on the 1st march, whilst camped during a very cold night, with good fire, by the murmuring Nettaway, that Sheely should be here to enliven the cheer of camp. We have lost an esteemed comrade, South Carolina will treasure up the name of Corp'l J. D. Sheely in her jewelled casket, when she gathers up her heroic, fallen sons, and will give his name a prominent place on her scroll of honor.

Alas! the noble and true have fallen, But, it is their country demands the price. Weep not, then loved ones for the slain! For 'tis his country's noble sacrifice.

Cherish fondly his endeared memory, and join him in a brighter, better realm.

Brother, thou wast mild and lovely, Gentle as the summer breeze; Pleasant as the air of evening, When it floats among the trees.

Peaceful be thy silent slumbers, Peaceful in the grave so low; Thou no more will join our numbers, Thou no more our songs shall know.

Dearest brother, thou hast left us, Here thy loss we deeply feel; But it's God that hath bereft us, He can all our sorrows heal.

Yet, again, we hope to meet thee, Where the day of life is fled; There, in heaven, with joy to greet thee, Where no farewell tear is shed.
