Newberry as it is to-day—its Business and its Advantages.

Newberry is one of the most thriving towns in the State. With an enterprising and energetic population, backed up by a fertile country and industrious and successful planters, she would long ago have risen to the dignity and proportions of a city but for her lack of railroad facilities. Her energy and pluck are shown by the manner with which she has met and overcome misfortunes. A fire in 1865 destroyed nearly half of the business portion of the town, but so completely has she recovered that the fact is scarcely remembered. March 8, 1877, a terrible conflagration swept away a large portion of the business part of town. Starting at Pool's Hotel, corner of Pratt and Caldwell Streets, it laid in ashes every store on both sides of Pratt Street for a distance of two blocks. At present there is nothing to indicate the ravages of that fire except the handsome buildings that have taken the places of those destroyed, and the ascending walls of what is soon to be one of the handsomest hotels in the State. On the 17th of Feb. 1879, another great fire occurred, sweeping away the entire block of stores enclosed by Pratt, Caldwell, Friend and Nance Streets. Already the entire block is re-built, except the three stores on the corner, which are now going up, and the last state of that block will be far better than the first. Newberry has had several other fires of less importance; but she seems to be imbued with the qualities of Phoenix, and rises each time from her ashes with fresher beauty and vigor.

As a cotton market Newberry has no superior in the interior of the State. Our lands are admirably adapted to the fleecy staple. Some idea of the business done here in that line may be gathered from the following figures, showing the number of bales shipped from this point for several years past, from September to September:

1873-4,	25,520	1876-7,	19,895
1875-6,	21,855	1878-9,	19,067

There are fifty-three stores in Newberry, divided as follows: Dry Goods 12; Groceries 8; Dry Goods and Groceries combined 6; Confectioneries, Cigars, etc. 2; Bar-rooms 6; Furniture 2; Drugs 3; Hardware 2; Bookstores 2; Millinery 3; Bakery 1; Tinware 2; Shoes 1; Saddlery and Harness 1; Jewelry 2. There are 2 Livery Stables, a Thespian Club and Hall, a National Bank, 2 Newspapers, 2 Trial Justices, 22 Lawyers, 6 Physicians, 3 Dentists, 2 Undertakers, 1 Marble yard, and 9 Churches,—6 white and 3 colored. Her population is between 2,500 and 3,000.

The health of Newberry cannot be excelled by that of any section of the State.

Her educational facilities are of a very superior character. The Newberry College, under the auspices of the Lutheran denomination, but totally unsectarian in its spirit and instruction, is presided over by a complete and able Faculty. We have also the Newberry Female Academy, under Prof. A. P. Pifer, a thorough instructor, aided by competent assistants. Though only an "Academy", its course of instruction will compare favorably with that of any of those female institutions in the State that bear the pretentious and high-sounding title of "Colleges"

Taking Newberry all round, in her social, religious, educational and business advantages, there is not a more pleasant nor desirable place anywhere. This is abundantly proved by the fact that very few ever leave her to hunt other homes; if they do they soon regret it, and in nine cases out of ten they are glad to return. To a Newberrian it is emphatically true that "there is no place like home."

Our County Fair.

Newberry had the best County Agricultural Society in the State before the war. With such men as John Belton O'Neill at its head every citizen felt a pride in its success, and the influence it exerted upon the farming and mechanical interests of the County were very marked. The war broke up the organization, and it was not till last year that the matter was revived. The present Agricultural and Mechanical Society was organized the 17th of August, 1878, with the following officers: President, John C. Wilson; 1st Vice-President, Thos. W. Holloway; 2nd, John McCarley; 3rd, John R. Spearman, Sr.; 4th, W. D. Hardy; Secretary and Treasurer, George S. Mower; Executive Committee, A. J. Kilgore, Alan Johnstone, J. A. Sligh, S. A. Hunter, and M. Werts.

So short was the time allowed for preparation that many were in favor of not making any attempt at a Fair last year; but it was decided to do the best possible. Preparations were made hurriedly, and the Fair was held in Mr. Mower's buildings on the corner of Pratt and McKibben Streets, and the small grounds attached, on the 20th, 21st and 22d of November. Its success far exceeded the most sanguine expectations. Every department was well represented and the attendance was very good. Over $500 was taken in as gate money alone. Quite a number of premiums in money and silver was distributed, without incurring any debt. At the close of the Fair the officers of the Society, who had performed their duties so satisfactorily, were re-elected. Eight acres of land was purchased on Main Street, and the Executive Committee have worked like beavers for the past four months in putting the grounds in proper condition. Unlimited praise is due to Messrs. Kilgore and Alan Johnstone for their self-sacrificing and constant labors in this work. We now have Fair Grounds that are unequalled in the State, outside of Columbia, and in some respects are superior to those. The Fair of 1879 opens to-day under very favorable auspices. The whole County and surrounding Counties, to a large extent, are interesting themselves in its success.
