

The Herald Bulletin.

We present our little BULLETIN to the members of the Newberry Agricultural and Mechanical Society, visitors and citizens generally, as an aid to the success of this our Second Annual Fair, distributing it free to all in the hope that it will serve the purpose intended, and prove of interest. It will be issued each morning of the Exhibition and will contain as much of each day's doings as we can squeeze into so limited a space. Believing that it will be appreciated we send it on its mission.

The indications to-night as we go to press are that we will have a wet time, but the people of Newberry will not let that dampen their ardor, as they intend to make the Fair a success. A large crowd is expected to be out to-day of those "who never mind the weather so the wind don't blow."

The Secretary of the Newberry Agricultural and Mechanical Society is a model of patience and industry. Through all the confusion, annoyances and hard work of his position he pursues placidly the even tenor of his way, always as serene as a clear May morn.

The Exhibition Building is a neat and substantial structure; its dimensions are 75x52, with two piazzas 75 x12. The timbers are very large, and you couldn't break it down if you were to pack people in it from floors to ceiling—so there's no danger of a catastrophe.

We hear farmers say that they would like to do their trading here at home, but can't because they can get more for cotton at road side stations. Is this true—and who is responsible for it?

The Committee has 206 premiums in silver and over $300 in money to be distributed as prizes at the County Fair.

Don't let the wet weather deter you from going to the Fair Grounds; you can be as comfortable there as anywhere.

A visit to the Fair Grounds late yesterday evening showed that the articles on exhibition in the different departments are of a superior character.

The music by the Newberry Band will add greatly to the pleasures of the Fair.

The owners' names will not appear upon the articles exhibited; they will be designated by numbers.

There have been about seven hundred entries for the Fair.

The BULLETIN will, during the Fair, contain column after column of advertisements—each advertiser claiming to have the best and the cheapest. I am not a magician, and in spite of modern improvements, have no private method of importing goods from the moon or from any other planet, nor have I discovered the secret of making money by selling all goods at less than cost.

And yet the comparison of my prices with those of other houses, as well as the unbiased remarks of customers, firmly convinces me that for GENERAL SHOPPING, my establishment is superior to any in Newberry. The Departments are all full. My Mammoth Stock comprises DRY GOODS, BOOTS and SHOES, CLOTHING, HATS, CROCKERY, TRUNKS, SADDLES, HARNESS, &c. FANCY GOODS and NOTIONS a specialty. Particular attention is called to the Department of DRESS GOODS and LADIES' CLOAKS. A lot of Horse Covers at $1.50 each. A visit of inspection, entailing no obligation to purchase, is cordially extended to all.

Fare to the State Fair.

The following are the rates from stations in this County to the State Fair in Columbia, which begins the 11th of November and closes the 14th. For round trip tickets: Pomaria, $1.30; Prosperity, $1.60; Newberry, $1.90; Chappell's, $2.60. Tickets on sale from the 8th to the 13th of November, good to return till the 18th of November, inclusive.

As to excursion trains from Newberry, we have received the following from Jabez Norton, Jr., Gen. Ticket Agt. of the G. & C. R. R.: "Unless some unforeseen circumstance arises to prevent, we will run the excursion train between Newberry and Columbia. We cannot yet name the days or the schedule—but probably each day—leaving Newberry early in the morning and returning in the evening."

We will keep our readers informed.

Newberry County has as many pretty women to the square mile as any place on the top of the earth. If you don't believe it just keep your eyes open this week and see.

Visitors to the Fair

Are cordially invited by P. A. Clark to visit him at J. B. Leonards' Family Grocery Store, next door north of Simmons House. Polite attention and best quality of goods. 3t.

Brown & Kibler are buying cotton and propose to give the highest market price for it. Their object is to bring trade to the town, not to drive it off. That is right gentlemen, keep up the price.

Eugene started to Miss Fannie Leavell's School last week and reported at night that he, Annie G. and Beata L. were the only BOYS who behaved well.

There is space for a few more cards in the BULLETIN—take a place in it for Thursday morning. It don't cost much.

Anybody can afford to sleep on a bedstead at present prices. M. Foot & Son can sell you a sleeper at $2.50.

Look out for pickpockets—as a precaution against heavy loss do not take more than $1,000 to the Fair Grounds.
