Fruit Trees

Which an Expert says are Worthless---"German also the "Bush Strawberry."

From Raleigh Paper:

State Horticulturist H. Harold Hume yesterday gave out an interview in regard to two frauds being practised upon the farmers of the State. He has received a large number of letters asking bush strawberry.

The statement Mr. Hume issued is as follows:

" It appears that certain parties have been selling or attempt ing to sell, what are called Ger man grafted trees. The parties represent these trees as being gratted on a stock or root which imparts some peculiar property or virtue to the sion so grafted that when it grows, becomes al tree and bears fruit, neither the branches, leaves, nor fruit will be attacked by insects, rots or mildews-certainly a much to be desired condition in any tree-but unfortunately the whole thing is a pure fake, made up by some defraud the tree planting public. Farmers should beware of agents appearance, but the paint is a or any one else making such re presentations because they are false and impossible.

"But what of the strawberry bush? The plant probably rerespherry. This plant, known by folias, is a native of China, the foculus he is forced to paint.

They were expected to take the weather, and, at most, might find reluge under an open shelter, where the cold wind and the driving rain could beat in upon them. But happily there has been a change, and the man who owns a cow and expects to get the best results from her is as careful about her food and comfortable stable as he is to see for information in regard to Ger. that his horse is well provided man grafted fruit trees and the for in such things. Unfortunately, however, there are some people who are not as mindful of their horses, in this respect, as they should be. Show us the farmer who has good stock and you will generally find that it is a sure index to his success in other matters.

But most especially should there be a change in the houses occupied by laborers on farms. Many of them are not habitable and are a reflection upon the owners. A house with only one room is not large enough for any family. It should have at least four rooms, and they should be plastered or ceiled. And when the work is completed, several ingenious and dishonest mind to coats of paint should be added. which will add not only to the protection to the building.
