

Give The Stomach A Chance To Work

We can't expect the stomach to act normally if the natural avenues of elimination are blocked so it cannot dispose of its refuse. When the bowels are constipated the stomach is called upon for work beyond its capacity and the result is bloating, belching, headache, and discomfort generally, and, unless the condition is promptly relieved, serious illness.

An effective remedy for constipation is sold in drug stores under the name of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It is a combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin that acts on the bowels in a gentle, natural manner, without griping or other pain or discomfort, affording speedy relief. Get a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin from your drug store and have it in the house when you need it; it costs only a few cents and is the ideal family remedy, mild enough for children and old people, yet sufficiently powerful for the strongest constitution. A trial bottle, free of charge, can be obtained by writing to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 456 Washington St., Monticello, Illinois.

TRADING WITH ENEMY BILL

Consideration of the Administration Measure Begins in Senate.

Washington, Sept. 11.—Consideration of the administration's trading with the enemy bill, which passed the House in July, began today in the Senate, with hardly a dozen Senators present.

An amendment was adopted to supplement the President's proclamation prohibiting German insurance companies from writing marine or war risk insurance after Senator Frelinghuysen said it had been found that German submarines had received such information by wireless regarding sailings. The amendment authorizes American insurance companies to abrogate contracts with enemy companies made prior to the war.

Upon a motion by Senator Reed the Senate eliminated a provision that the President shall have no power to license any enemy insurance company to carry on any business prohibited by his proclamation of July 13 last, regulating enemy-owned insurance companies.

"Vaporize" Croup or Cold Troubles

Vapor treatments for cold troubles are better than internal medicines, as the vapors carry the medication direct to the lungs and air passages without disturbing the stomach.

When Vick's "Vap-O-Rub" Salve is applied over the throat and chest, these vapors, released by the heat of the body, are inhaled with each breath. 25c. to $1.00.

VICK'S VAPORUS SALVE

DESIRES INFORMATION.

To Farmers of Lancaster County:

In some sections of the State there is a shortage of farm labor to the extent that farmers are concerned about the gathering of their crops this fall. In other sections there is a probable surplus of labor which would be of great service to the farmers in sections showing a shortage of labor. The great problem to be overcome is that of getting the farmer needing labor and the laborers together. Looking to this end the Farm Management Division of the Agricultural Extension Service is now listing by counties the farmers needing help and also the laborers available for work in other communities.

In order that we might find out the situation in this county I would be glad for the farmers who need labor would give me the following information:

1. Name of farmer desiring help.
2. When and how long wanted?
3. Whether men, women or boys?
4. Number of each.
5. White or colored?
6. Kind of work to be done??
7. Wages offered?

Should there be a surplus of labor in any community that would be available for work in some other section of the county or in some other county we would like to have the following information regarding such labor:

1. Name of laborer?
2. When and how long available?
3. Whether men, women or boys?
4. Kind of work they can do?
5. Wages expected?
6. How far will they go for work?

It is important that we have this information as early as possible if it is to be of value to the farmers in need of help. So I would like to urge all those who need farm help and those who want to do farm work to give me this information at once.

Yours for service,

R. W. GRAEBER,
County Agent.

"SATAN'S CARNIVAL"

Consul Frost Tells of the U-Boat Horrors.
Minneapolis Journal.

The heartlessness of "the jackals of the sea"—the Kaiser's submarines—was described in all of its horrible details yesterday by the man who gathered data on U-boat activities for the United States, Wesley Frost, American consul at Queenstown.

The man who for nearly three years worked night and day, taking evidence, told of his experiences at the morning session of the American Alliance for Labor and Democracy.

A story that made the blood run cold was told by this young, slender, overworked American. In picturing the scenes he had witnessed after the Lusitania went down, after the Laconia was sunk, after hundreds of smaller vessels were shattered and their occupants set adrift on the rolling seas, there was an evident desire to avoid exaggeration. With diffidence, the American consul told his story.

Upon its completion, the alliance voted unanimously to have it published in pamphlet form and sent out to the workers of the land.

"The ocean south of Ireland has been the happy hunting ground of the submarines," he said. "I have listening to the stories of hundreds of men and women who came to me with the voices of their dead comrades ringing in their ears."

Germans Play Grim Joke.

Mr. Frost told of the grim jokes played by submarine commanders when they placed survivors of vessels on top of the U-boat and then submerged, leaving the helpless men and women struggling in the sea. He told of submarine sailors gleefully taking snapshots of human beings drowning.

"Can you imagine an American crew on a submarine torpedoing men and women who were ready to surrender?" he asked.

"Can you imagine our American sailors torpedoing in the dead of night?"

"Can you imagine our boys refusing to tow a helpless lifeboat towards shore?"

"Rough work on the part of man against man is comprehensible. Rough work on the part of man against helpless men and babies is unthinkable."

"The stories that came to me were not idle dreams, they were given by men and women of our own land, sworn to before Almighty God."

Germans Give No Warning.

"Even a rattlesnake sings before he strikes; the submarines give no warning."

"The submarine usually aims at the middle of a ship, where the boilers are located. It means the scalding to death of the workers. The smaller craft, even though they cut their sails and were ready to surrender, have been shattered by shell fire."

"In only one case that I investigated did the submarine give towage to a vessel. And in that instance, after towing the lifeboat for some distance, the submarine suddenly submerged. It would have dragged the lifeboat with it but for the presence of mind of the captain, who cut the tow rope quickly."

The sickening story of the sinking of the Lusitania was recited by Mr. Frost. He said that he saw corpses piled high like so much cordwood. He saw on a dead mother's breast the bodies of her two infants.

"Of the 1,200 souls thrust headlong into eternity when the Lusitania went down there were 100 little children, thirty-three of them infants in arms," he said.

"When the Laconia went down, when American women lost their lives, the submarine commander insisted on getting the name of the vessel and its tonnage several times. He was proud of his work."

Mr. Frost contented himself with giving simply facts as gleaned by him in his service at Queenstown, facts about "Satan's carnival," as he called it.

WOMAN CURES HORSE COLIC.

The men were away as usual. The horse was bad. A lone woman could not "drench" in the old way. She called up a neighbor and her men were away—but: "We have Farris Colic Remedy that you drop on the horse's tongue," says Mrs. Neighbor. So she came over and dropped Farris Colic Remedy on the horse's tongue and the horse was well when the men came home. Moral: Get Farris Colic Remedy so the women can cure horse colic. PASSING IT DOWN THE LINE.

Youth's Companion.

One mistake often leads to another—and sometimes to a third—as it does in a story that the secretary of war told in the course of an address not long ago when he was speaking of United States army regulations.

One hot day recently a private sat in a train with his tunic unbuttoned. Presently a sergeant strode up to him and said: "Button up that tunic! Did you never hear of by-law 217, sub-section D? I'm Sergt. Winterbottom."

A gentleman in the seat behind tapped the sergeant sternly on the shoulder. "How dare you issue orders," he said, "with a pipe in your mouth? Go home and read paragraph 174, section M, part IX. I am Major Carroll."

At that a gentleman with a drooping white mustache interposed from the other side of the aisle. "If Major Carroll," he said coldly, "will consult by-law 31 of section K, he will learn that to reprimand a sergeant in the presence of a private is an offense not lightly to be overlooked. I am Gen. Atchison, retired."

DRAFT RESISTERS' TRIAL.

Ablene, Texas, Sept. 9.—Fifty-six alleged members of the Farmers' and Laborers' Protective Association will be placed on trial tomorrow in federal court here, charged with activities in connection with resisting the selective draft. While no official announcement has been made it is understood that the government has asked that if any of the men are found guilty of treason, the death penalty be imposed.

The majority of the men are residents of West Texas.

The Farmers' and Laborers' Protective Association had for its ostensible object the mutual benefit of farmers.

MALCOLM IS ACQUITTED

London, Sept. 11.—Lieut. Douglas Malcolm, who was being tried for the murder of Anton Baumburg, a pseudo count, was today found not guilty by a jury at the Old Bailey Police Court. The case which has been characterized as a "dream of passion" was the first to be tried here in which the unwritten law was the sole defense.

A coroner's jury had returned a verdict of "justifiable homicide" after hearing Lieut. Malcolm's plea that he had killed Baumburg "in defense of his wife's honor." The case was one of the most sensational seen in London in many years.

SWEAR LOYALTY TO KAISER

Resolutions Contain Open Attack Against Reichstag Majority Peace Resolution.

Copenhagen, Sept. 11.—German children as well as German women are being mobilized in the agitation against President Wilson's standpoint. A beginning has been made at Harburg, near Hamburg, where all the public schools on Sunday participated in a demonstration at which the usual telegrams were sent to Emperor William, Chancellor Michaelis and Field Marshal von Hindenburg. The Roman Catholic Mercantile Associations of Germany also adopted a similar resolution.

The Vorwaerts of Berlin points out today that the motive of the conservative and pan-German wire pullers to utilize the American note to the Pope for delivering a mighty blow to the democratic movement, is steadily becoming apparent.

All the resolutions commence with a display of strong language against President Wilson and then proclaim a readiness to hold out until victorious peace was attained. They contain a more or less open attack on the Reichstag resolution declaring it to be unrepresentative of the people's will, and conclude with a declaration of loyalty to the reigning dynasty.

The new Fatherland party of Admiral Tirpitz and Privy Councillor Wolfgang Kapp has been formed, as Vorwaerts points out, as a part of the same scheme to discredit the Reichstag majority and to persuade Chancellor Michaelis to disregard the peace resolution entirely.

Vorwaerts says indications steadily confirm the impression that Dr. Michaelis will not disassociate himself from the parties opposed to peace based on good will because he is only waiting a good opportunity to avail himself of the help they may offer against the Reichstag.

The Bremen labor unions have protested against the recent resolution, adopted by the Bremen merchant guilds, which avow that in wide circles in Bremen the population was opposed to the Reichstag majority attitude on peace. The resolution of the labor men endorsed the Reichstag resolution, demanded peace without unnecessary delay and declared for democratic reforms.

QUIET IN CHATANOOGA.

Chatanooga, Sept. 11.—Complete calm prevailed here tonight. The absence of street cars and the presence of the first battalions of Companies A, B, C and D, Sixth United States Infantry, which had replaced two troops of cavalry rushed to the city from Fort Oglethorpe during the crisis last night, were the only indications of a strike.

At a meeting of the city commission this evening a resolution was passed calling on both sides of the controversy to furnish the officials in writing a basis on which a settlement of the trouble may be reached.

Take HERBINE for all disturbances in the bowels. It purifies the bowel channels, promotes regular movements and makes you feel bright, vigorous and cheerful. Price 50c. Sold by all dealers in medicine.—Adv.

TROOPS AFTER MEXICANS

Laredo, Texas, Sept. 11.—In response to a call for help against a bandit invasion at Dorola creek, twenty-eight miles south of here, just before last midnight, several truck loads of soldiers and many motorcycles left for that place.

The reports received here during the night said the bandits approached presumably from Mexico and that the telephone wires into San Ignacio and La Perla, Mexico had been cut.

An Ambition and a Record

THE needs of the South are identical with the needs of the Southern Railway: the growth and success of one means the upbuilding of the other.

The Southern Railway asks no favors—no special privilege not accorded to others.

The ambition of the Southern Railway Company is to see that every interest that is born of co-operation between the public and the railroad; to see perfected that fair and frank policy in the management of railroads which invites the confidence of governmental agencies; to realize the liberality of treatment which will enable it to obtain the additional capital needed for the acquisition of better and enlarged facilities incident to the demand for increased and better service; and, finally—

To take its niche in the body politic of the South alongside of other great industries, with no more, but with equal liberties, equal rights and equal opportunities.
