A large crowd attended Baldwin's Illustrated Lecture at the First Presbyterian church Sunday night. The pictures and lectures were interesting from start to finish. The Rock Hill Herald says: Patrons of the 3C's division of the Southern will be pleased to learn that the masonry for the new iron bridge at the Catawba river between here and Lancaster is about completed, and that they will soon begin placing the steel. The old bridge at this place for many years had been a source of uneasiness to the patrons of this division and since the flood of July, 1916, took it away and recently another flood took off the temporary structure, it has made the situation even more uneasy for travelers going this way.

"GO TO SUNDAY SCHOOL DAY" TO BE OBSERVED

Everything Points to Record Attendance Throughout the County on November 4.

Mr. John T. Green, president of the Lancaster county Sunday school association, requests the publication of the following:

Everything points to a record-breaking attendance in the Sunday schools throughout our county on International "Go-to-Sunday School Day" Sunday, November 4th, according to local Sunday school leaders. It is said that the same is true throughout South Carolina and the rest of the United States participating in the observance of this national day.

The watchword of the campaign, "Everybody invited, everybody welcomed, everybody come," is being heard all over our county. This is said to be the second time that such a concerted, systematic, organized effort has been made simultaneously by all denominations to reach through the Sunday schools the last man, woman and child in South Carolina, the first occasion being the "South Carolina Go-to-Sunday School Day" observed nearly a year ago.

Officers of the South Carolina Sunday School Association, who are directing the campaign in this State, in co-operation with leaders holding similar positions in other States and in the Provinces of Canada, are said to be more than pleased with the present prospects.

A large number of our Sunday schools of all denominations have already indicated intention of observing the day, and an active campaign is being carried on. It is expected that in a short while every Sunday school of every denomination in the county will be actively taking part in the movement.

Wisconsin Man Accidentally Shot by Brother, Dies at Farm House.

Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 22.—United States Senator Paul O. Hastings, of Wisconsin, died at a farm house near Rush Lake, Wis., late last night as the result of wounds accidentally inflicted upon him with a shotgun by his brother, Gustave, while hunting ducks.

Senator Hastings recently returned to his home at Mayville after the close of the extra session of congress, where he was one of the leading supporters of the administration's war program.

With his brother he had gone on a hunting expedition to Rush Lake and the two were in a boat when the accident occurred. He had sighted a flock of ducks and called for his brother to fire and at the discharge of the shotgun he rose slightly, received the full charge of the gun in his back. He was rushed to the farm house, where all efforts to save his life were unavailing.

SOCIAL NEWS.

WEDDING AT ROCK HILL TODAY.

Miss Christine Cowan, of Rock Hill, and Mr. Frank Green, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jno. T. Green, of this city, will be married at the home of the bride's mother in Rock Hill this afternoon at five o'clock. To attend the wedding, Mr. Jno. T. Green, Miss Mildred Green, Mr. W. M. Green, Miss Janie Green, and Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Green left this morning for Rock Hill.

One afternoon last week Miss Ruth Youngblood entertained in honor of the bride-elect. The Rock Hill Herald gives the following account of the shower:

A lovely affair of the season was the miscellaneous shower, at which Miss Ruth Youngblood entertained in honor of her cousin and prospective bride of the month, Miss Christine Cowan.

The home of the hostess' uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Cowan, on E. Main street, the scene of the affair, was attractively adorned in Halow'e'en emblems, presenting a most pleasing and appropriate effect.

A guessing contest was engaged in, the prize, a miniature bride, being the reward of Miss Isabel Boyd.

Especially beautiful was the dining room, where on the lace-covered table a pumpkin held central place, filled with fruits. A menu was served, the hostess being assisted by the bride's younger sister, Miss Mary Ruth Cowan, and Miss Alice Smith.

During the afternoon, little Robert Cowan appeared, dressed as a farmer boy, and drawing a wagon filled with hay and pumpkins. Hidden among these were a number of pretty and useful articles for the bride-to-be.

Miss Cowan was modishly attired in an afternoon gown of Alice Blue satin.

Miss Youngblood wore a becoming costume of white Georgette crepe; and Miss Mildred Green, of Lancaster, a sister of the groom-elect, wore a dainty gown of blue Georgette.

RED CROSS NOTES.

Mr. B. Y. Funderburg contributed $1 to the wool fund.

The first box of knitted garments was shipped today. It consisted of thirty-four sets and one hundred and thirty-five pairs of socks; also seven mufflers and eleven pairs of mittens which could not be matched up.

The knitting committee wishes to thank all the ladies in town and throughout the county, who are doing their bit in this noble work. Cold weather is coming on and we feel sure that the boys at the front will be much more comfortable when they are fitted up with these lovely warm garments.

Another box was shipped to headquarters on Monday. It consisted of four pairs of pajamas, nightgale, and light comfort kits.

On last Saturday a barrel of canned goods was sent on for the soldiers. The ladies responded to this nicely, and sent in six half gallon jars of fruit, twelve quarts of fruit, and seven pints of fruit, fourteen glasses of jelly, and one quart of tomato catsup.

The Red Rose tea room is open every afternoon from four to six o'clock. Drop in and have a cup of tea or coffee, and a sandwich, so as to help increase the work room fund.

How many pounds to a ton—2000 or 1500?

HOW many pounds of real roughage are you getting to a ton? If you are buying old style hulls you are getting about 1500 pounds because they are about one-fourth lint which has no food value.

If you are buying

BUCKEYE HULLS

you are getting 2000 full pounds because they are free from lint and are practically 100 percent roughage. Try them and see how much farther they go.

Other Advantages

Cost much less per ton than old style hulls. Allow better assimilation of other food.

No trash or dust. Sacked—easy to handle. They mix well with other forage.

Mr. W. C. Owens, Charlotte, N. C., feeds thirty cows. He considers Buckeye Hulls the cheapest feed and gets the best results.

To secure the best results and to develop the ensilage odor, wet the hulls thoroughly twelve hours before feeding. It is easy to do this by wetting them down night and morning for the next feeding. If at any time this cannot be done, wet down at least thirty minutes. If you prefer to feed the hulls dry, use only half as much by bulk as of old style hulls.

Book of Mixed Feeds Free

Gives the right formula for every combination of feeds used in the South. Tells how much to feed for maintenance, for milk, for fattening, for work. Describes Buckeye Hulls and gives directions for using them properly. Send for your copy to the nearest mill.

ton, and $9.12 in San Francisco. The average for twenty-four cities and towns in the United States was $9.43.

"The menus provided at these figures are not especially tempting, the report says. "A really palatable dietary will cost approximately 2 per cent more than the price just quoted. A comparison of the price charged in the different cities shows that both bread and meat are disproportionately high in New York. For this reason the family of limited means is urged to make every other day a meatless day. If the people are likely to economize they must cut down their present, excessive consumption of meat."
