NEW-YORK, February 1.
U. S. MAIL ROBBED.

The great Southern Mail from Philadelphia to this city, was waylaid and robbed last night, by three footpads who were dressed in short jackets, with their faces painted. They met the mail coach near Bridgetown (N. J.) and called to the driver, desiring him to stop, which he did. They then instantly rushed upon him with presented pistols, and ordered him down from the box. One of them cut the traces of the wheel-horses, to make sure of their object. This done, and the driver secured, they proceeded to rob the passengers, five in number, who kept their seats in the coach. They presented pistols at them, and brandished a large carving knife or dirk over their heads, threatening their lives if they did not give up their watches, pocket books and money. One of the passengers complied with their demand, and gave them his gold watch; and the others gave them what loose money they had in their pockets. They then enquired for the mail, and on being told that it was not inside of the coach, but forward, they left the passengers and proceeded to rifle it of its contents. They filled a large pair of saddle bags and a pocket handkerchief with letters, and then took to their heels. We understand, that on examining the mail at our post office, there appears to be two Philadelphia packages of unpaid letters from New-York missing, and probably many single packages from the south of Philadelphia were taken out. This is the second time that our mail has been robbed within a short time, and unless the government will furnish a guard for its protection, there is no security in trusting money in it.

Since the above was written, we learn, that one of the passengers had in his charge $33,000 in bills for one of our banks. As soon as he discovered the unpleasant predicament he was placed in, he contrived to slip the package out of his pocket on the floor of the coach, and covered it over with straw, by which means he saved it. When they searched him, all they found in his pockets were a few shillings in silver. A reward one thousand dollars is offered for the apprehension of the robbers.—Post.

EDENTON, Jan. 29, 1819.
Steam Boat Albemarle.

We have, at last, the pleasure to announce the arrival of the Steam-Boat Albemarle, in a passage of 41 hours from Ocracock. After meeting with much detention in Currituck Sound, it was found impracticable, owing to the depth of the water, to go through, she was compelled to go to sea again and proceed to Ocracock. The Albemarle is intended to ply between this place and Plymouth as a ferry-boat, which will go and return from one place to the other, every day. We have no hesitation in pronouncing her, superior in speed, and equal in every other respect, to any boat of her class in the United States: her first trip to Plymouth was performed in two hours and five minutes, a distance of 21 miles! Such a boat as the Albemarle, has long been wanted on our sound, where the mode of transportation has hitherto been attended with every difficulty, incident to such an inland sea, navigated boats, which from their kind, were susceptible of little or no improvement, and to persons not accustomed to water-travel, seemed dangerous in the extreme. This boat has been expressly built for a ferry-boat she has been made sufficiently large to carry horses and carriages, upon deck with safety and ease, and provided with every accommodation, which the comfort and convenience of passengers may require. To correspond with the arrangements of the Steam-Boat, a line of Stages has been established from Plymouth, through Washington to Newbern, and from Washington, through Tarborough to Raleigh, & another from Plymouth, through Tarborough to Raleigh. By these new lines, between Raleigh, (N. C.) and Norfolk, (Virg.) a distance of about 200 miles, the main mail stage route of travelling through the Southern States, has been connected with the Steam-Boat line, on the Chesapeake: so that travellers from South to North, and from North to South, have it now in their power to avail themselves of all the facilities, which Steam-Boat transportation affords above every other.

Gen Jones, of Raleigh, N. C. has issued proposals for publishing a Magazine, one number in every two months, to be devoted to Agriculture and the Rural Arts, with occasional remarks on Political Economy, National History and popular Medicine.

FOREIGN EXTRACTS.

The Paris Moniteur mentions that there had been a great commotion at Lyons, alarming in its nature. Lord Ellenborough, chief justice of England, died on the 13th December. The Courier says there is no foundation for the reported changes in the ministry, with the exception of the retirement of Lord Mulgrave from the master generalship of the ordinance, which is to be filled by Lord Wellington. The Paris papers of the 23d December says the funds have declined to 64. The London Courier is very loud against Mr. Monroe when commenting on his message to Congress.—The case of Arbutnot and Ambrister is adverted to; and many pretty anathemas pronounced against the government. The Courier also indulges in the old slang of a division of the states—that we cannot remain long a federate union under our general government. (Alas! poor ghost.)
EXTRACT OF A LETTER DATED Liverpool, Dec. 26, 1818
"We have to state that our Cotton market remains in the same depressed condition as to prices, which has been the case for some weeks. The demand however has in some degree revived, and the sale, for the two last weeks amount to 4,390 bags; and the imports for the same period amount to 8,938 bags, of all descriptions. In reviewing the prospect of any alteration we have on the one hand to take into account the stock at present held, with the expectation of heavy supplies from the East Indies; which latter, and especially Surats, from their very prices, tend to depreciate the price of our upland; and on the other hand, it is anticipated that the new crop from the States, will be unusually late in coming into the market, and will so prove very deficient in staple. Should this latter supposition prove founded, it may probably be the means of increasing the value of the old Cotton, although we apprehend no improvement in prices likely to take place until some time after the new year sets in, and business improves. The sales this week have been principally inferior to middling qualities—Upland, 17d. a 18d. a few at 20d.; Orleans, 17d. a 19d.
