

POETRY.

To the Sun Flower.

Where is the Man who thus can nobly say? I hail'd bright truth in her eternal source; Pursued her flight through all the realms of day.

If on this earth that Man sublime there be, That Man O! lovely Flower resembles thee.

The breeze that wakens with the orient dawn Scarce from thy bosom shakes the quivering Dew;

Scarce is the dusky veil of night withdrawn, Ere thy fond eye expanding to the view, With kindling rapture meets the golden gleam,

That now ascends the sky, now floats along the stream.

And, when the burning blaze of summer nee Darts from the midway Heavens ethereal height;

Thy daring eye, broad as the rising Moon, With transport gazes on the King of light

Though all around thee droop the languid head,

And all the energies of life are fled.

And oft as evening sheds the dewy tear O'er the pale relics of departed day,

And in the blue expanse of Heaven, appear

The first faint gleams of many a Starry ray,

Dost thou responsive to the Zephyrs sigh, Mourn the past radiance of the Western sky.

Thus, thus may Natures more than magic charm,

Attract forever my admiring gaze; Her purer dictates all my bosom warm

And guide me far from Superstitions maze. Tho' lost to yon vain World, may Achmed prove

True to the last faint gleam of Reason Faith and Love. CHARLES FOX.

C. such as forty and twenty cent bills and some silver.

Bradford's Springs.

IT is a circumstance of no small importance to the citizens of this State to have a convenient and healthy situation, to which they can have access during the Summer and Autumnal months.

The Bradford Spring, at this time, exhibit such a situation. The buildings, here, are capacious and convenient; and are as well calculated for the accommodation of the delicate and infirm, as those who are in search of pleasure.

The situation is, probably, one of the most eligible that this country affords. The elevation is considerably above the common level of the surface. The rise and declivity of the hill is gradual and regular; and its summit smooth and unbroken.

The water is a strong mineral. It is transparent and palatable. The ingredients which form the composition of this mineral, have not yet been accurately ascertained by chymical analysis.

The ruinous condition of the buildings in all probability, and the want of accommodation has, hitherto, prevented a number of persons from attending these Springs. But the subscriber flatters himself that he is now, well prepared for the accommodation of a number of persons.

And if any person insuring any Buildings or Goods in this Office, shall describe the same differently from what they really are, so that the same be insured at less than the rate of Premium specified in the printed proposals of the company, such Insurance shall be void and of no effect. Each property must be separately valued, and a specific sum insured thereon.

II. No Insurance, whether original or continued, shall be considered as binding, until the actual payment of the Premium.

III. Goods held in Trust, or on Commission, are to be insured as such; otherwise the Policy will not cover such property.

IV. Policies of Insurance, subscribed by this Company, shall not be assignable, without the consent of the Company, expressed by indorsement made thereon. In case of assignment without such consent, whether of the whole policy or of any interest in it, the liability of the Company in virtue of such Policy shall thenceforth cease.

V. Notice of all previous Insurances, upon Property Insured by this Company, shall be given to them in writing at or before the time of their making Insurance thereon; otherwise, the Policy subscribed by this Company shall be of no effect. And in case of subsequent Insurances, on Property insured by this Company, notice thereof must also, with all reasonable diligence, be given to them in writing; to the end that such subsequent Insurance may be endorsed on the Policy subscribed by this Company, or otherwise acknowledged in writing; in default whereof such Policy shall thenceforth cease to operate. And in all cases of Double Insurance, this Company shall be liable for such rateable proportion of the Loss or Damage happening to the Subject insured, as the amount insured, by this Company shall bear to the whole amount insured thereon, without reference to the dates of the different Policies.

VI. This Company will be liable for Losses on Property burnt by Lightning, but not for any loss or damage by fire happening by means of any Invasion, Insurrection, Riot, or civil commotion, or of any military or usurped power.

VII. Books of account, written securities, or Evidences of debt, title-deeds, writings, money or Bullion, are not deemed objects of Insurance.

X. Every Policy of Insurance issued by this Company becomes void, if a larger quantity of Gun-powder than the Law allows is kept in an Insured Building, or on the premises where such insured Property is contained.

XI. All persons insured by this Company, and sustaining loss or damage by fire, are forthwith to give notice thereof to the Company; and as soon after as possible to deliver in a particular account of such loss or damage, signed with their own Hands, and verified by their Oath or Affirmation, and also, if required, by their Books of Accounts and other proper Vouchers; they shall also declare on oath, whether any and what other Insurance has been made on the same Property, and procure a Certificate under the Hand of a Magistrate, Notary Public, or Clergyman (most contiguous to the place of the fire, and not concerned in the loss) that they are acquainted with the Character and Circumstances of the person or persons insured, that he, she, or they, really and by misfortune, and without fraud or evil practice, hath or have sustained by such fire, loss and damage to the amount therein mentioned; and until such proofs, declarations, and certificates are produced, the loss shall not be deemed payable. Also, if there appear any fraud or false swearing, the Claimant shall forfeit all claim by virtue of this policy.

XII. Payment of losses shall be made in sixty days after the loss shall have been ascertained and proved, without any deduction whatever; and in case differences shall arise touching any loss or damage, it may be submitted to the judgment of Arbitrators indifferently chosen, whose award in writing shall be binding on the parties.

XIII. Insurance may be made for seven years, by paying the premium for six years; and for a less number of Years than seven, a reasonable discount shall be allowed.

XIV. Insurances once made, may be continued for such further term as may be agreed on, the premium therefore being paid and endorsed on the Policy, or Receipt being given for the same; and they shall be considered as continued under the original representation, in so far as it may not be varied by a new representation in writing.

One Hundred & Fifty

Lots,

In the Town of Chatham, (South-Carolina.)

WILL BE SOLD AT PUBLIC AUCTION On the 20th of April next.

To give an idea to purchasers of the immense importance of this place, and of the extensive business which will be carried on there, when the contemplated internal improvements are effected, an account of the advantages it possesses is subjoined:

The town of Chatham seems formed by nature to be a place of great trade. It is situated on the Pee Dee River, running back about one and a half miles; the river bank is 30 feet high, forming a level and running say 250 yards; thence it rises 30 feet more and forms a dead level for a great distance. Buildings can be carried on at a cheap rate, for there are large quantities of fine timber and a number of saw mills; good clay for making bricks is also in great quantity. The inhabitants speak highly of the health of the place. Its advantages for good society, are various, it being situated but eleven miles from Sneedborough, N. C. fifteen miles from Chesterfield Court House, twelve miles from Marlborough Court House, and fifteen miles above Society Hill; the roads leading to and from all these places, intersect Chatham at right angles.

It has been ascertained by men capable of estimating its advantages, from a long residence there, that when the expected internal improvements are made, the Town of Chatham must be the great depot for all the produce which the western parts of North Carolina yield; but which is now carried to Fayetteville, Petersburg, &c. There is only occasion to examine the situation of these places to be convinced of this fact. It is generally known that three fourths of the produce that now goes to Fayetteville, is raised on the Pee Dee and west of it, and as Chatham is situated but very little south of west of Fayetteville, the former will have a fair opportunity of being as good a market, at least, and that seventy miles nearer. The fact is also evident that at least one million worth of produce, from the borders and west of Pee Dee, finds its way to Petersburg, but which will also naturally go to Chatham for a market. Exclusive of this, there are 25,000 Bales of cotton made within a circumference of 30 miles from this town, and the articles of cotton, Tobacco, Flour, Wheat, corn, Flaxseed, and all kinds of produce, will go to Chatham for a market, for the reasons mentioned above.

All the produce from this place will go to Charleston. This will be done with little expense and little danger, for the canal from Pee Dee (which is already commenced and will be finished to the course of a short time) will open an inland passage to Charleston.

A Steam Boat, with three tow Boats, are to be prepared this summer to ply between Chatham and Georgetown. The river has recently been examined by a person experienced in river navigation, and found practicable without any improvements. Boats of 40 to 60 tons can go up as high as Chatham at present.—The contemplated improvements above Chatham, are only to admit boats carrying 15 to 18 thousand weight, Chatham must consequently be the depot for all produce going up and down.

Thus a full account has been given of the advantages the Town of Chatham holds out to the man of business, that a proper estimation may be made of the Lots to be disposed of.—A number of merchants, foreseeing the advantages of the place, have determined on locating themselves there.
