

America can never be compared with the possession of a ribbon or a star, and we shall probably hear no more about the matter till we are again roused either by despatches or some more effective from Washington.

We have all eyes upon for the Peacock. The Commodore with his squadron waits her arrival, and immediately afterwards the Erie, Capt. Stockton, will sail for America.

Accounts from Cuba represent the probability of the fever will at 100 per cent, but great hopes are entertained that the cold weather now on in will destroy it.

The new Steam Boat See Dee has been built at Wilmington of the size of that built by the late Capt. Stockton in this harbor, exceeding in power her competitors, and she is very handsomely fitted out for her velocity, and she is strong and will hold up under a strain of at the rate of at least five miles in the hour.

CAMDEN.

Public Lands.—The Surveyor General of the public lands in Mississippi and Florida has caused a large quantity of land to be surveyed and prepared for market in Cape Girardeau district. The townships 30, 31, 32, 33, north of the base line of latitude 36° 30' N. 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, and 15 east of the 9th principal meridian are reported ready for sale, and may be advertised and sold as soon as the President will give the order. The sales of these townships, and of others in the Cape Girardeau district will probably come in in the spring. The number the better. The U. S. has not yet offered any lands for sale in that line tract of country, which is now filled with a numerous population, wanting money in hand, to make purchases for themselves and their posterity. In fact the Cape Girardeau district is already a well settled country, abounding with respectable farmers, and much in need of the opening of a land office. The grants from the Spanish government are on file to furnish the inhabitants with houses. And in the meantime a large emigration has been pouring in, and waiting for the public sales to become freholders. These are the first hands get ready for market east of the 5th principal meridian. The old claims, principally east of that line, and many of them being yet unsettled, oppose great obstacles to the progress of the surveys. General Bator, however, proceeds with the business as rapidly as the instructions of the government, and the adjustment of the old claims, will permit it to be done.

Rapid Emigration.—It is stated in the St. Louis paper of Oct. 30 that for ten days ending on Sunday the 12th inst. one hundred wagons with families and stock, crossed the Mississippi for the Salt River country above.

M. Milbert, a French naturalist, is at present traveling through different parts of North America. He intends to cross the Alleghany Mountains and to penetrate as far as Lakes Erie and Michigan, the country of the Illinois, &c. The expenses of his journey are defrayed by the French government.

Scientific.—Mr. Henry R. Schoolcraft is about publishing a work on the Miseraology of the Western States, and particularly in reference to the country of the Missouri. Mr. Schoolcraft is a young gentleman of talents, and possesses those acquirements in science, that render him a fit person to execute the task which he has undertaken. He has chosen to travel from the west to our own metropolis, and make New York the theatre of his first essays as an author. [N. Y. paper.]

Great Hunting.—A party of ten young gentlemen, of Boscawon, N. H. on the 1st inst. made a hunting party in the neighboring woods, and returned at twilight, with sixteen hundred and sixty-five grey and red squirrels, death cocks, hawks, owls, ducks, partridges, crows, rabbits, muskrats, minks, hedge-hogs, foxes, and others. This, adds the official account, vastly exceeds all former hunting in Boscawon and we believe it would place even the above statement of the west in a secondary position.

MARRIED.—At Charleston, by the Rev. Mr. Peabody, Mr. Harry Lee, of New York, to Miss Adeline DeLoach of Charleston. By the Rev. Dr. Gardner, William E. Peabody, Esq. of Marlborough District, N. H. to Miss Mary Ann DeLoach, of Charleston.

MARRIED.—At Philadelphia, by the Rev. Dr. Abernethy, Mr. James Deane, to Miss Elizabeth Deane, all of that city.

MARRIED.—Upon a lady of the name of Mrs. W. when the wind blows the clouds will rock.

DIED.—On the 14th inst. at the residence of Colonel Thomas English, in the 23d year of her age, Mrs. Maria, wife of Mr. William B. English. The death was believed to have been induced by the pain and affliction to the deceased lady was not, however, painful and she died with some, happily indicated by the unobscured testimony of the deceased lady a state of suffering exchanged for the relief of eternal rest. In death, as in life, indeed, she was more happy and resigned than in the one now recorded. Her submission to the will of her heavenly Father, and patience which suffered not a murmur to be heard, under a long and painful illness, is evidence of a Christian spirit—then in our friend's happy. Not evidence of her acceptance, still more strong and consolatory, were graciously vouchsafed her. Dependence on our God, and faith in our Lord Jesus Christ, enabled her to abide passing through the valley and the shadow of death, to rejoice with joy unspeakable and full of glory. How remarkable the goodness and condescension of God. The Heaven and Heaven of Heavens cannot contain Him. Yet he dwells in the humble, believing heart that confesses Jesus to be the Christ, the only begotten of the Father, full of truth and grace.

PROPOSALS
FOR PUBLISHING BY SUBSCRIPTION
In the Town Columbia, (S. C.)
A WEEKLY MISCELLANY, TO BE CALLED THE
SOUTHERN LITERARY REGISTER,
By ANDREW J. CLINE.

THIS paper will be principally devoted to History, Biography, Criticism, Moral and Religious Essays, Poetry, and the Fine Arts. Agricultural, Medical, and other articles, which may be thought of general interest, will likewise be admitted, together with such matter of wit and amusement as may be judged useful or entertaining. A general Summary of Politics will be added each week, and a Monthly List of New Publications at the end of every fourth number.

The inducements which have led the editor to issue proposals for a publication of this nature, are such as he believes to be of sufficient weight and importance to warrant the undertaking. The wealth, refinement, and literature of the southern states; the genius and erudition of numbers, who either hold important offices under government, or are at the head of the literary institutions established among us; and the rapidly increasing taste for learning and the arts, which is spreading among all classes of people, are the proud evidences of a flourishing and improved state of society, and afford him abundant encouragement to hope for a successful prosecution of his plan. It is not a little remarkable, perhaps, that an undertaking of this kind has been so long delayed, and that while, in many instances, our daily newspapers have attempted to blend literary articles of interest and merit with the dry detail and barrenness of political matter, no one should have thought of separating the two, and publishing a general repository for the reception and circulation of useful and polite literature. As far as the editor has the means of information, he is acquainted with no paper published south of Baltimore which bears the character of the one he has in contemplation; and as Columbia is nearly the central situation between North Carolina and Georgia, this place affords peculiar local advantages to many others, and particularly to the wide distribution of such a paper through this and the neighboring states.

In prosecuting this work it will be the editor's constant aim to furnish it with such matter, as may be of general utility, or interesting and important on account of the ability and merit which it may display. He will firmly resist any impertinent or private attacks on individual worth, (whatever importance he may otherwise attach to these considerations,) whenever a subject presented for publication shall be deemed unfit for the pages of the Register. A constant regard will be had to the propriety of every article, whether original or selected; and however striking the wit and imagery of a writer may seem, these will never be considered as making up for a general looseness of expression, or a want of sense and propriety in the management of the subject. Party disputes, either in religion or politics, will be as carefully avoided.

CONDITIONS.
The Register will be published every Friday, on a fine super-royal sheet of paper, in an octavo form, each sheet to contain sixteen pages, at four dollars per annum, if paid within thirty days after the delivery of the first number, four dollars and fifty cents if paid after that date and within twelve months, and five dollars if not paid until the year has expired.

Advertisements every six months a third page and those will be added, for the accommodation of those who may wish to have their advertisements inserted in columns. Advertisements will be inserted on the two last pages only, at the usual rates.

No subscription will be received for less than a year, nor discontinued until all arrearages shall be paid.

The first sheet will be issued as soon as a sufficient number of subscribers is procured to justify the publication.

Letters addressed to the editor, post paid, will be punctually attended to.

Subscriptions received at this office, by the direct of the publishers, throughout the state, and the publishers agents in the principal southern towns and cities.
