Tribute of Respect.

At a regular monthly meeting of Niagara Fire Engine Company, No. 8, held on Thursday evening, Dec. 7th, 1865, the following preamble and resolutions were unanimously adopted:

It has pleased Almighty God to visit upon us a heavy affliction, the gloomy badges of mourning, that we but a few months ago had cast aside. It now becomes our painful duty to wear once more. That unwelcome messenger, Death, seems to have hovered around us; and, in his reckless course, has summoned from us our late brother, J. C. MATHEWS. It cast a gloom over such a worthy comrade. His gentlemanly deportment and kindly feeling won the esteem and friendship of those who were associated with him. This tribute of respect is the last solemn right that tributes the memory of the dead. Let us unite in that last appeal to Heaven that his soul may rest in peace. Therefore, be it

Resolved, That we deeply mourn his loss, and sympathize with his afflicted family.

Resolved, That, as a mark of respect, we wear the usual badge of mourning for thirty days and that a blank page in the Minute Book be dedicated to his memory.

Resolved, That a copy of these preamble and resolution be sent to the family of the deceased, and that they be inserted in the South Carolina Leader of this city.

Scanlan was called to the chair, who briefly stated the object of the meeting. Mr. Butler Morrison was called to act as Secretary, Mr. C. C. Galien appointed to act as Assistant; after which the Convention was declared ready for business. The Chairman then appointed the following gentlemen as Committee on Drafting Resolutions: Messrs. A. H. Harper, C. H. Thompson, D. Cox, John Freeman, H. B. Pickinpack, Jr., H. S. Pickinpack, Senior. The Committee retired, and returned in half an hour, with the following resolutions, which were unanimously adopted.

We, the Committee, duly appointed by this Convention, do hereby present these resolutions:

Resolved, That we, as citizens of Charleston, State of South Carolina, assembled on the 13th day of April, A.D. 1865, at Bonum Hall, John Street, did then and there receive Mr. Charles H. Thompson, of Providence, R.I., with open arms, and received from him all necessary information relative to the organization of the General Grand Accessory Order of Brothers and Sisters of Love and Charity; and since which time he has labored diligently for our advancement, walking circumspectly before us.

Resolved, That we, as a united people, support him against all pastors and divines that may be against him rise, and our beloved institution, which we endorse as the members thereof, whether of political power be intrusted exclusively to the late rebels with their present disposition, the State will maintain that intimate and hearty relation with the National Government which is indispensable, and whether the dangers of impartial suffrage there are not very much more than balanced by those of partial suffrage?

Resolved, That should we, the officers and members of this institution, feel desirous of enriching our beloved Brother, we shall do it on our own privilege, and not the privilege of others.

Resolved, That as loyal citizens of Charleston, State of South Carolina, we pledge ourselves, as such, that we will support the Government of these United States and all its laws against treason or evasion of said Government; and also to respect and sustain the laws of South Carolina in favor of these United States, so help us, God.

Resolved, That the proceedings of this Convention be published in the "South Carolina Leader," and in the "Christian Recorder" of Philadelphia.

CHAS. H. THOMPSON, D. G. P. W. S., J. S. B. SPENCER, D. G. W. S., H. BOLDEN PICKINPACK, D. G. W. R. S. Dec 9 1w 10

Hon. Chas. Sumner has prepared an article for the Atlantic Monthly, entitled "Clemency and Common sense." The following propositions are laid down as a proper method for reorganizing the rebel States.

1. As a general rule belligerent traitors, who have battled against the country, must not be permitted at once without probation or trial to resume their old places of trust and power. Such a concession would be clearly against every suggestion of common sense, and President Johnson clearly saw it so, when, addressing his fellow-citizens of Tennessee, 10th June, 1864, he said: "I say that traitors should take a back seat in the work of restoration. If there be but five thousand men in Tennessee loyal to the Constitution, loyal to freedom, loyal to justice, these true and faithful men should control the work of reorganization and reformation absolutely."

2. Especially are we bound, by every obligation of justice and by every sentiment of honor, to see to it that belligerent traitors, who have battled against their country, are not allowed to rule the constant loyalists, whether white or black, embracing the recent freedmen, who have been our friends and allies.

3. Let belligerent traitors be received slowly and cautiously back into the sovereignty of citizenship. It is better that they should wait than that the general security be imperilled, or our solemn obligations, whether to the national freedman or the national creditor, be impaired.

4. Let pardons issue only on satisfactory assurance that the applicant, who has been engaged for four years in murdering our fellow-citizens, shall sustain the equal rights, civil and political, of all men, according to the principles of the Declaration of Independence; that he shall pledge himself to the support of the nation's debt; and that he be among the large holders of land, that he shall set apart homesteads for all his freedmen.

Following these simple rules, clemency will be a Christian virtue, and not a perilous folly.

The Suffrage.

The suffrage question has many aspects. It is both denied and asserted with equal vehemence that political rights are natural rights; but every American at least must be very wary how he commits himself to the negative of the proposition. If governments justly exist by the consent of the governed, it is rather difficult to show that there is no higher claim to a share in political power than the consent of those who already enjoy it. That it may be withheld is very possible. That it can justly be withheld is not evident.

But in the discussion of impartial suffrage in the late rebel States we may descend from the heights of abstract right, and regard the point as purely one of expediency. It is asked, and fairly enough, whether in the condition of public opinion in the loyal States, as shown in the Connecticut refusal of impartial suffrage; in the defeat of the same proposition in Wisconsin by a majority of ten thousand in the popular vote, while the Union ticket was elected by eight thousand; and in the disabling suffrage laws of many of the other States, it is advisable to insist upon impartial suffrage in the States which are to be reorganized. We say this question is fair and natural enough, but the subject must be regarded from the point of view of the national welfare.

Thus in a State like Connecticut, which is indisputably faithful to the Government, it is not directly essential to the national safety that the two thousand colored men should be allowed to vote. It is a pitiful disgrace to the State; but it is not essential to the nation, because the non-voters are so few, and because the political power remains steadily in patriotic hands. So also in Wisconsin and other Western States. But in Georgia or Mississippi the considerations are very different. In those States the question of impartial suffrage involves directly the national welfare. The point of inquiry is, whether if political power be intrusted exclusively to the late rebels with their present disposition, the State will maintain that intimate and hearty relation with the National Government which is indispensable, and whether the dangers of impartial suffrage there are not very much more than balanced by those of partial suffrage?

Resolved, That should we, the officers and members of this institution, feel desirous of enriching our beloved Brother, we shall do it on our own privilege, and not the privilege of others.

Offers its Agency to owners of land of every description, especially in the Southern States, and to Northern and European capitalists, emigration societies and conductors of emigration, and individuals, farmers, mechanics and others, desirous of transferring their labor and skill to the South.

It designs to aid, through the means offered by a central office in New York, and its branches elsewhere, in the great work of the social and economical reorganization of the South, by bringing together the owners of plantations and farms seeking purchasers and industrial development on the one hand, with those who command the capital and labor and skill on the other hand. It will devote itself to the work of accumulating and methodizing information and statistics, useful for those who may, on grounds of pecuniary philanthropy, desire to contribute, through the reorganization of industry, to the material means by which the South can be restored; its people of every condition made prosperous men and good citizens; its mechanics and laborers brought to take their share in promoting the welfare of the whole country.

The company proposes to interest the enterprise and money of the country in the opportunities of pecuniary and profitable employment, afforded by the broad lands of the South now open for the first time for free labor, but whose owners and occupiers are suffering from the waste of capital and means for their needs, and the public, and is prepared to enter immediately on the transaction of business.

FERRY DAVIS' VEGETABLE PAIN KILLER.

WE BEG TO CALL THE ATTENTION of the public to this long tested and unrivalled FAMILY MEDICINE.

The Painkiller is a purely vegetable compound, and while it is a most efficient remedy for pain, it is a perfectly safe medicine even in the most unskillful hands.

FOR SUMMER COMPLAINT, or any other form of bowel disease in children or adults; it is an almost certain cure, and has without doubt been more successful in curing the various kinds of CHOLERA than any other known remedy, or even the most skillful physician. In India, Africa, and China, where this dreadful disease is ever more or less prevalent, the Pain Killer is considered by the natives, as well as European residents in those climates, A SURE REMEDY. As a Tonic for the Stomach, it is unrivalled. A few doses will relieve severe cases of INDIGESTION, and it is often a perfect cure for Dyspepsia in its most aggravated forms. Its tonic and stimulating properties, arousing the system to vigorous action, render it a most effectual cure for COLDS AND COUGHS, when used according to directions.

For external application, it is unsurpassed by any medical preparation known.

RHEUMATISM, and Neuralgic Affections, are quickly relieved and often cured by it. Any Soreness in the Muscles or Joints can be relieved by its application. It cures instantly the most violent Toothache.

It should always be kept near at hand, to be used in cases of severe BURNS OR SCALDS. If applied immediately, according to directions, it will give instant relief, and prevent blistering. Nov. 18 3m—7
