

THE LEADER.

THE ULTIMATUM.

No friend to the country can doubt what this should be, when the reconstructed States shall apply for the admission of their delegates into Congress. Though these States may have done every thing to make their constitutions republican in form, except to secure the enfranchisement of the black citizens of the United States, they will yet lack the vitality necessary for life in the restored Union.

Negro manhood enfranchisement now is the obvious ultimatum of Congress to the seceded States. Not only does justice to the negro citizens of the Republic demand the enforcement of this ultimatum, but the safety and security of the white citizens of the Union, hereafter, imperatively require it. Not only is it called for by the dictates of humanity and the necessities of the nation, as a measure of right, but the VOICE OF THE LORD GOD walking through the land summons Congress in unmistakable tones to enfranchise his black outcasts while it has the power to do so.

The President has enforced all his ultimatums upon the rebel States, and he used no physical power to insure their adoption. It was simply his potent word that was obeyed, and that, too, by the very people who had been in arms against the Republic. Will not the voice of Congress prove more powerful still than that of the Executive? Let it solemnly declare that the constitutions of the seceded States which refuse manhood suffrage to the negro not be republican in form; the applicants will not be long in finding out wherein; and they will hasten to supply the deficiency. The deliberations of Congress will teach them the way of readmission into that Union which they so wickedly and causelessly left; and that way will be right through the ballot-box of black democracy.

"To your tents," then, ye reconstructed States, and finish up the work. Give the negro the right to vote, and the doors of Congress will fly open to welcome your admission; but not till then.—The Right Way.

HENRY WILSON.—Born February 19, 1812, in Farmington, New Hampshire; was brought up on a farm, and when twenty-one went to Natick, Massachusetts, where he learned to make shoes. In 1840 he was elected to the Legislature of Massachusetts, in which he served four years, and then four years in the State Senate, of which he was President two sessions. In 1852 he was the free soil candidate for Congress, but was defeated by a very small vote; in 1853 he was a member of the State Constitutional Convention, and has since then taken an active part in political conventions, and in 1855 he was elected a Senator in Congress to succeed Edward Everett, and was re-elected in 1859 for a long term. From 1842 to 1851 he was actively connected with the militia of Massachusetts as major, colonel and brigadier general. In 1861 he raised the Twenty-second regiment of Massachusetts Volunteers, of which he became colonel, and after joining the Army of the Potomac was made a member of General McClellan's staff, on which he served until the meeting of Congress. Since the commencement of the war he has been Chairman of the Committee of Military Affairs, which has had to pass on eleven thousand appointments and to devise most important measures of legislation during the rebellion. In 1859 he was challenged by Preston Brooks, of South Carolina, pronouncing his assault on Senator Sumner, "murderous, brutal and cowardly;" but he replied that, while believing in the right of self-defence, he declined the challenge, as duelling in his opinion was a violation of law and the relic of a barbarous age. He was again re-elected to the Senate for the term commencing in 1865 and ending in 1871. Within a few months past he has published a work entitled "Anti-Slavery Measures in Congress" and is understood to be engaged on a history of the Thirty-seventh and Thirty-eighth Congresses, as well as of the Congressional measures connected with the prosecution of the war for the Union. He was the originator of the bill abolishing slavery in the District of Columbia, and also that establishing the American Academy of Sciences.

THE PRESIDENT AND THE FREEDMEN.—In his speech in the Brooklyn Academy of Music a few evenings since, General Fiske is reported as giving the substance of a conversation lately had with President Johnson, as follows:

Yesterday I had a talk with the President, who said to me that he felt the great responsibility committed to him. "People say, sometimes, I was born South, and I will not treat the negro as a freeman, but I mean and desire to carry out the views of the great and good Abraham Lincoln, and to see that those people have a guarantee of their freedom. I may not believe with you in their ultimate attainments, but I mean they shall have a fair chance. I wish the people of the North knew what I have to stand between. Daily I receive telegrams and letters from all parts of the South of dreadful import. If they could but see the difficulties of my position, they would pity me and give me their prayers." This he said with tears in his eyes; and I asked him if the Freedmen's Bureau was to be discontinued—my resignation being already in his hands—and he said to me, "Go back, go to your work, and see justice done to both white and black. The Freedmen's Bureau will only cease to exist when the Southern States are resolved to deal honestly and justly by these freedmen."

A COMPLIMENT TO WILLIAM LLOYD GARRISON.—At the last meeting of the Pennsylvania Anti-Slavery Society the following resolution was adopted: "That in view of the fact that the close of the present year is to terminate the existence of the Liberator, we desire to express to our beloved friend, William Lloyd Garrison, our high appreciation of his editorial labors in the cause of freedom, to offer him our congratulations that the great work to which in youth he dedicated his life seems so near its glorious accomplishment; and to assure him that our hearts in sympathy with those of his and our fellow-laborers throughout the country, fervently pray that, in the complete triumph of liberty in America, in the blessed consciousness of a life spent in the service of his fellow-men, and in the peace which passes all understanding, he may find his abundant and everlasting reward."

THE BIBLE.—I, for one, love the Bible supremely. In all the world I have found no book to set beside it. Other books I love well, Milton, Taylor, Carlyle, Tennyson, Emerson, Spencer, and many a noble name beside in this great brotherhood is so dear to me that there are few sacrifices I could not gladly make rather than lose their companionship. But when I am in any great strait—when I want to find words other than my own to rebuke some crying sinner, to stay some desperate sinner, to whisper to the soul at the parting of the worlds, to read, as I sit with them that weep beside their dust, words that I know will go to the right place as surely as coin dropped into good soil on a gleaming May day—then I put aside all books but one—the book of which my mother read to me, and over which she sang to me, as far back as I can remember. And it is like those springs that never give out in the driest, and never freeze in the hardest weather, because they reach so directly into the great warm fountains hidden under the surface—it never fails me.

But have we not all noticed the curious fact that men go to the Bible for what they want to find, rather than for what they ought to find; that those who profess the most absolute submission to its authority offer generally the finest possible illustration of the supremacy of the soul over the Bible in the way they contrive to make it serve their turn? and that it is by no means impossible to find duplicates of the good Scotch woman's minister, of whom she said—"If there is a cross text in the Bible, he is sure to find it and to take it for a sermon?" The truth is, the Bible is like a great pasture, into which you turn all manner of feeders. The horse takes what he wants; so does the cow. The sheep is true to its instinct; so is the goat. And then, last of all, the ass rolls the thistle, like a sweet morsel, under his tongue. So, when a man with a large, sweet nature, comes to the Bible, he crops, by a sure instinct, all the large, sweet passages. The hopeful man finds the hopeful things; the sad man, the sorrowful things; the hard man, the gritty things; and every man the things that satisfy his craving, though they may in no way make for his peace.—Rev. Robert Collyer

THE LAUGH OF WOMAN.—A woman has no natural gift more bewitching than a sweet laugh. It is like the sound of flutes on the water. It leaps from her in a clear, sparkling rill; and the heart that hears it feels as if bathed in the cool, exhilarating spring. Have you ever pursued an unseen fugitive through trees, led on by a fairy laugh—now here, now there, now lost, now found? We have; and we are pursuing that wandering voice to this day. Sometimes it comes to us in the midst of care, or sorrow, or irksome business; and then we turn away and listen, and hear it ringing in the room like a silver bell, with power to scare away the evil spirit of the mind.

How much we owe to that sweet laugh! It turns the prose to poetry; it flings flowers of sunshine over the darkness of the wood in which we are traveling; it touches with light even our sleep, which is no more than the image of death, but is consumed with dreams that are the shadow of immortality.—Prentice.

TRY AGAIN!—No matter what that business is; farmer, artisan, artist, professional man, or scholar, keep your hand to the work and you will succeed. Suppose you are a farmer, and you want to get rich faster, don't speculate how you can make an enormous sum at once, or wish you could cheat somebody out of ten thousand dollars and then run away; or that some rich old fellow would "will" you a little amount, and then run away (to heaven) himself; but study the necessities of your craft, work with diligence, and then if you have any leisure time, sit down and watch the ant rearing his pile, or the bee collecting his store, rather than berate the tardiness of "outrageous fortune!"

Never let a failure of expectations break you down, and "if at first you don't succeed," remember how many times Kepler tried before he got the theory of the heavenly bodies, and what was his ultimate success.

Young man, and young woman, you have the elements of a better character—perhaps a great character—within you, and if you make up your mind to develop that into its proper expression through the acts of your life, no common obstacles can possibly stand between you and success.

BEQUESTS TO COLORED PEOPLE.—The Hartford, Conn., Courant has the following: "The will of Mrs. Hullah Bunce, who died recently in this city, has been admitted to probate. Her principal bequests are to colored people and the Talcott Street [colored] Church. The contents of the will are substantially as follows: She bequeaths to Henry Nott, a colored man, the sum of twenty-five hundred dollars, together with such money as I may have in the Savings Bank of Hartford, and also the furniture of my sleeping-room; and other furniture which is designated. She gives to Peter Nott, son of Henry, eight hundred dollars; and to James, his brother, three hundred dollars. I give and bequeath to the Hartford Hospital my large mahogany sofa and my large calico-covered easy chair, together with twelve flag-seated imitation rosewood chairs. She gives two thousand dollars to the Colored African Society, located in Talcott Street, and one thousand dollars to the 'Widow's Society' of Hartford, of which Mrs. Norman Smith is President. Further, she bequeaths to Andrew Mitch, a colored man, and his wife, three hundred dollars; to Thomas B. Bennington, so called, a colored boy, three hundred dollars; to American Home Missionary Society, one thousand dollars; and any residue of the estate goes to the colored society above named, Talcott Street, which will amount probably to ten or twelve thousand dollars.

"In a codicil, dated May, 1863, she gives to Peter Nott fifteen hundred dollars, instead of eight hundred dollars. In another codicil, dated August, 1864, she bequeaths to Statira Freeman, a colored woman now in my service, two hundred dollars. About twenty thousand dollars will be realized from the estate."

Recent intelligence from Liberia shows increased prosperity. Emigration is again active, and new markets are opened for native products.

"I would have every one consider," says Addison, "that he is, in this life, nothing more than a passenger, and that he is not to set up his rest here, but to keep an attentive eye upon that state of being to which he approaches every moment, and which will be forever fixed and permanent."

PLANTATION BITTERS.

A great many side hits are being made at the Plantation Bitters by a score or two of disinterested friends who have endeavored to imitate or counterfeit them. It's all of no use. The people won't be long imposed upon. The Plantation Bitters are increasing in use and popularity every day, and "that's what's the matter." They are in same size bottle, and made just as they were at first, and will continue to be, or we shall stop making them. The Plantation Bitters purify, strengthen and invigorate.

They create a healthy appetite. They are an antidote to change of water and diet. They overcome effects of dissipation and late hours. They strengthen the system and enliven the mind. They prevent miasmatic and intermittent fevers. They purify the breath and acidity of the stomach. They cure dyspepsia and constipation. They cure diarrhea, cholera and cholera morbus. They cure liver complaint and nervous headache. They make the weak strong, the languid brilliant, and are exhausted nature's great restorer. The recipe and full circular are around each bottle. Clergymen, merchants, and persons whose sedentary habits induce weakness, lassitude, palpitation of the heart, lack of appetite, distress after eating, liver complaint, constipation, etc., will find immediate and permanent relief in these Bitters.

But above all, they are recommended to weak and delicate females and mothers. They are sold by all respectable merchants. See that each bottle has our private Unit States stamp over the cork and steel plate side label. Beware of refilled bottles. See that the stamp has not been tampered with. Any person pretending to sell Plantation Bitters by the gallon is a fraudster and impostor, and should be immediately reported to us.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,
FOR THE RAPID CURE OF
Coughs, Colds, Influenza, Hoarseness, Croup, Bronchitis, Incipient Consumption, and for the relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced stages of the disease.

80 wise is the food of its usefulness, and so numerous are the cases of its cures, that almost every section of country abounds in persons publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the lungs by its use. When once tried, its superiority over every other expectorant is too apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the distressing and dangerous affections of the pulmonary organs that are incident to our climate. While many inferior remedies thrust upon the community have failed and been discarded, this has gained friends by every trial, conferred benefits on the afflicted that can never be forgotten, and produced cures too numerous and too remarkable to be forgotten.

We can only assure the public, that its quality is carefully kept up to the best it ever has been, and that it may be relied on to do for their relief all that it has ever done. Great numbers of Clergymen, Physicians, Statesmen, and eminent personages, have lent their names to certify the unparalleled usefulness of our remedies, but space here will not permit the insertion of them. The Agents below named furnish gratis our AMERICAN ALMANAC in which they are given; with also full descriptions of the complaints they cure.

Those who require an alterative remedy to purify the blood will find Ayer's COMP. EXT. SARSAPARILLA the remedy to use. Try it once, and you will know its value. Prepared by J. C. AYER & Co., Lowell, Mass., and sold by all Druggists and Dealers in Medicines.

STERLING'S BLOOD PURIFIER.

Whatever contributes to the purity of the blood, promotes health and prolongs life, and insures the life of the body is dependent on the blood. Every part of the body is nourished and sustained by the blood. Health and life depend upon the proper distribution of this vital fluid through every part of the human system, in equal and just proportion, otherwise one part of the system may become oppressed with an excess and another part become languid and weakened from want of it. EVERY MOMENT OF OUR LIVES THE BLOOD IS UNDERGOING A PROCESS OF CLEANSING, WITHOUT WHICH LIFE CANNOT BE SUSTAINED.

The Lungs, the Liver and the Kidneys are depurating organs, and one at least of the functions of the perform is the purification or depuration of the blood. If the lungs fail to diminish carbon, the liver bile and the kidneys urine, the constituents of carbon, bile and urine must accumulate in the blood, and, by contaminating it, render it capable of duly nourishing and stimulating the organs, without which process life could not be sustained. It is absolutely necessary, therefore, that these functions should be kept in a healthy and vigorous state, so that the depurating process be in perfect harmony with the requirements of the whole system. For this purpose is especially designed. It contains well known ingredients, scientifically compounded, and carefully selected, and especially adapted to aid nature in her efforts to overcome disease.

STERLING'S BLOOD PURIFIER
cleans the blood of all impurities, gives tone and vigor to the nerves and muscles, invigorates the whole system, and gives strength to the bones and sinews.

This specific should be much used in WARM CLIMATES on account of its purifying qualities. It will, if taken before the appropriate approach of disease, PREVENT ITS INTRUSION. And all its baneful consequences; while it SPEEDILY REMOVES DISEASE. Where it had already commenced, it is an INVALUABLE SAFEGUARD.

The agreeable coolness and freedom from fever which it induces, are also great recommendations in sultry and noxious climates.

IT WILL DO GREAT GOOD TO ALL BY LAYING THE FOUNDATION OF HEALTH AND STRENGTH.

All heavy and grossy sensations, which are the forerunners of disease, are effectually ward off by this Medicine; it also conduces to sound and refreshing sleep; a high flow of spirits; great vigor and lightness of body, as well as a keen appetite to enjoy the most homely fare. Sight and hearing, so indispensable to our enjoyment and happiness, are greatly strengthened by the depuration of their respective organs. It also acts equally well in the following cases:

BILIOUS COMPLAINTS,
BLOTCHES OF THE SKIN,
DEBILITY,
FEMALE IRREGULARITIES,
HEADACHES,
JAUNDICE,
PILES,
SALT RHEUM,
SCROFULA,
TUMORS,
LIVER COMPLAINTS,
SECONDARY SYMPTOMS,
ULCERS,
WEAKNESS FROM WHATEVER CAUSE,
Is one of the very best

SPRING AND SUMMER MEDICINES ever known; it not only purifies the whole system and strengthens the body, but it creates

NEW, PURE AND RICH BLOOD;
a power possessed by no other medicine so great a degree—and in this lies the grand secret of its wonderful success.

When the blood becomes lifeless and stagnant, either from the effects of Spring fever, change of climate, want of exercise, or the use of a uniform saline diet, or from any other cause, will renew the blood, carry off the putrid humors, cleanse the blood, regulate the bowels, and impart a tone of vigor to the whole body.

No one should attempt a sea voyage without a full supply of this article, and in fact, none who are in health should be without it in any case.

No female in delicate health—old, young or middle aged—should neglect to take it.

PRESERVE HEALTH BY WARDING OFF DISEASE!
Keep your blood pure and healthy—all of which is done by the use of

STERLING'S BLOOD PURIFIER.
It is never injurious, and always beneficial, especially to NEUROUS, DEBILITATED and DELICATE FEMALES. It quickens the circulation of the blood, infuses it in the extremities, and creates new life in the most feeble and prostrated.

If used according to the directions on the wrapper of each bottle, 25¢ Price One Dollar per bottle. Sold by Druggists.

TO THE POOR.
