DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION. GOV. PERRY'S RESOLUTIONS.

What has become of Gov. Perry's Preamble and Resolution? why did not the Columbia papers give them to the public?

We call upon Gov. Perry to send them to this office for publication. We will not only print them, but we will send him a hundred copies for his private use...

Oh, Ex-Provisional Governor, you used to be thought to have a calm and cool head. If not a very wise one but poor Andy has crazed you.

REPUBLICAN SCRIPTURE, NOT FOUND IN DEMOCRATIC BIBLES.

They that saw in tears, shall reap in joy.—Psalm cxx, 5 v.

The proud have forged a lie against me, but I will keep thy precepts with my whole heart.—Psalm cxix, 69 v.

Let the proud be ashamed, for they dealt perversely with me without a cause, but I will meditate in thy precepts.—Psalm cxix, 78 v.

The hands of the wicked has robbed me, but I have not forgotten thy law.—Psalm cxix, 61 v.

It is better to trust in the Lord than to put confidence in princes.—Psalm cxviii, 9 v.

They reel to and fro and stagger like a drunken man, and are at their wits end.—Psalm cviii, 27 v.

They angered him also at the waters of strife, so that it went ill with Moses for their sake.—Psalm cvi, 32 v.

Wonderous works in the land of Ham, and terrible things by the Red Sea.—C. vi, 22 v.

When they were but few men in number; yea, very few, and strangers in it.—Psalm cya, 1 v.

The children of thy Servants shall continue, and their seed shall be established before thee.—Psalm cii, 28 v.

O God, the proud are risen against me, and the assemblies of violent men have sought after my soul; and have not set thee before them.—Psalm lxxxvi, 14 v.

Their eyes stand out with fatness; they have more than heart could wish.—Psalm lxxxii, 7 v.

They are corrupt, and speak wickedly concerning oppression; they speak loftily.—Psalm lxxxiii, 8 v.

God seteth the solitary in families; he bringeth out those which are bound in chains; but the rebellious dwell in dry land. L. xviii, 6 v.

They encourage themselves in an evil matter. They commence of laying snares privily; They say, Who shall see them. L. xi, 9 v.

Our Constitution gives to all men an equal chance in the race of life, and the Union party were the first to recognize you before the law.

Why should not the rights and privileges of every person, no matter how humble, be recognized and acknowledged? We think no candid and thoughtful mind will perceive anything unkind or unreasonable in these just and simple provisions.

A NEW PARTY IN PROSPECT.

Everything in the political world points to the organization of a new party. Republicans and Democrats alike pull unevenly and unceasingly in their party harness, looking for relief in the starting here and there of some new organ...

Let not the people wait for caucuses, conventions, or campaigns, but rise up now and quickly, or another President will be foisted on the nation to gratify some personal pique or party spleen.

"Sam is you a nigger?" "No sir, I's a colored man, and is gwine to continy one until after the 'lection, dat is, if Mas Perry don't git too poor to make a promis he has none to give now, at dis time. I's a man, and a part of Souf Carolina."

ADDRESS OF THE COLORED STATE CONVENTION TO THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF SOUTH CAROLINA.

Saturday November 24th 1865. FELLOW CITIZENS.—We have assembled as delegates representing the colored people of the State of South Carolina, in the capacity of State Convention...

We are denied the right of giving our testimony in like manner with that of our white fellow citizens, in the courts of the State, by which our persons and property are subject to every species of violence, insult and fraud without redress.

We are also by the present laws, not only denied the right of citizenship, the inestimable right of voting for those who rule over us in the land of our birth, but by the so-called Black Code we are deprived of the rights of the meanest profligate, in the country...

Your public journals charge us with destroying the products of the country since we have been made free, when they know that the country and products thereof were destroyed by ravages of war of four years duration.

We feel that the justness of our cause is a sufficient apology for our course at this time. Heretofore we have had no avenues opened to us or our children—we have had no firesides that we could call our own; none of those incentives to work for the development of our minds and the aggrandizement of our race in common with other people.

We simply desire that we shall be recognized as men; that we have no obstructions placed in our way; that the same laws which govern white men shall direct black men; that we have the right of trial by a jury of our peers...

We claim the confidence and good will of all classes of men; we ask that the same chances be extended to us that freemen should demand at the hands of their fellow citizens. We desire the prosperity and growth of this State, and the well being of all men, and shall be found ever struggling to elevate ourselves and add to the national character...

Our appeal is based on justice; but we do not rely solely upon that; we appeal to your generosity. We are oppressed and powerless. It is in your power to do us justice, and grant us the opportunity to elevate ourselves.

"Will, then, Mr. Johnson be convicted? Do not doubt it. The thing has got beyond accidents, beyond the shrewdness of attorneys or the dreaded accession of Benjamin Wade to hinder there is a tide bearing us forward to a certain issue, too powerful for ought to resist."

In Chicago some months ago, Richard Buckley stopped at the store of Bones & George, bargained for a lot of cabbages, had them put into his wagon, and on the question being asked, told one of the clerks he had paid for them...

But it is for no such purposes that we raise our voices to the people of South Carolina on this occasion. We ask for no special privileges or peculiar favors. We ask only for even-handed justice, or for the removal of such positive obstructions and disabilities as past, and the recent Legislators have seen fit to throw in our way, and heap upon us.

The New Orleans Republican says, that from all parts of Louisiana come the most cheering news of the earnest and active work being done by the representative men of the Republican party, and the determination which pervades all classes of the party to achieve a splendid victory at the approaching election.

"Sam is you a nigger?" "No sir, I's a colored man, and is gwine to continy one until after the 'lection, dat is, if Mas Perry don't git too poor to make a promis he has none to give now, at dis time. I's a man, and a part of Souf Carolina."

ADDRESS TO THE COLORED OF SOUTH CAROLINA.

The convention of the Democratic party of South Carolina feels it and bounden duty to speak to you didly and earnestly, and with no apology than that our interests are certain extent identical.

You have been suddenly put in position to exercise certain powers, the abuse of which may result disastrously to you and to us. It is impossible that your present power can endure, whether you use it for good or ill.

The world has never seen such a spectacle, and its whole history, and especially the history of your race, gives no ground for the anticipation. Perhaps, however, you expect to attain power by the aid of the Radical party at the North.

When undue power was given you by the Radical party, from motives which all men depreciated and despised, prejudice of race sprang up. The whites of this State endeavored to ally it—here at least—by inviting you to a course and a compromise which would have given it nothing to feel upon.

Our appeal is based on justice; but we do not rely solely upon that; we appeal to your generosity. We are oppressed and powerless. It is in your power to do us justice, and grant us the opportunity to elevate ourselves.
