

An Overworked Brain. Determinded to rise in his chosen profession as an educator, Ernest Kemper, of Plerceon, Ind., overtaxed himself mentally and physically.

In addition to his studies, Mr. Kemper was teaching a school some three miles from his home. Finally, his excessive work led to the exposure of going to school in all kinds of weather under such strain.

He was taken to his bed with pneumonia and his overworked brain almost collapsed. For several weeks he was seriously ill.

Cataract had taken root in his system and his mind was in a delicate condition. He spent three months at receiving any benefit.

America's Greatest Medicine

The following is a characteristic Hood's Sarsaparilla testimonial. Facts like these have made Hood's Sarsaparilla America's Greatest Medicine and endeared it to thousands of homes scattered all over this broad land.

"We like to tell what Hood's Sarsaparilla has done for us. Our four children had diphtheria. From the very first our little boy Ralph, then seven years old, was very sick and for several days it seemed as if he would never be any better.

All Strange in His Limbs gave out. The physicians told us it was paralysis, which sometimes follows an attack of diphtheria. We did everything for him, but he grew worse until he was in a pitiful condition.
