

SOMEbody.

Somebody's courting somebody,
Somebody's whistling to somebody,
Somebody's listening to somebody,
Under the bright moonlight,
Near the bright stars' gleam,
Kissing in pain and glow,
Talking so soft and low,
She sits with somebody,
Feeling somebody's core,
Sighed by the breathing reed,
Wounds never breathed before,
Round sweet to somebody,
Under the maple tree,
Deep though the shadow be,
Plain enough they can see—
Bright eyes has somebody.

GROWING OLD TOGETHER.

Do you know I am thinking, to-morrow
We shall pass, on our journey through life,
One more of the milestones that bring us
Still nearer the goal, my good wife?
The glad anniversary morning
Of our wedding day cometh once more,
And its evening will find us still waiting,
Who had thought to have gone long before.

UNFINISHED STILL.

A baby's boot, and a skein of wool,
Red, and soiled, and soft;
Odd things, you say, and I doubt you're right,
Round a seaman's neck this stormy night,
Up in the yards aloft.
Most like it's folly: but, mate, look here!
When first I went to sea,
A blood on you far-off strand,
With a wedding-ring on the small soft hand,
Which cleave so close to me.
My wife—God bless her! The day before,
She sat beside my foot,
And the sunlight kissed her yellow hair,
And the dainty fingers, soft and fair,
Knitted a baby's boot.
