Judge Corporter and Gen. Butler

On Friday next, 29th July, at 11 o'clock, A., these distinguished gentlemen will admiss the citizens of Greenville. Let the news objects. Une great object in giving the election of Governor to the people, was said to be, that they might see, and hear, and become acquainted with the candidates, and be able to judge for themselves of their merits.—

If the people care to know who they wate for or against, let them come and see.

The War in Europe.

We give a general summary of the week's news from Europe, as to the war between France and Prussia. As yet no great battle has occurred, and even some hopes are entertained that the storm may blow over without much bloodshed, but the general opinion is that there will be a terrific strug-

July 23. There is a report that Russia had declared war against France-not confirmed. Two hundred French soldiers reconnoitering were captured by the Prus sians. Prusaia is preparing vigorously for the war, and has put her whole army in motion. Martial law has been proclaimed in the Rhenish provinces. The French Emperor came to Paris on the 28d, and received the legislative assembly at the Tuilleries.

An English gentleman just returned to London from a trip on the Rhine, describes in the Times the difference in the temper and manners of the French and Prussian ar mies. He says the German army is quiet grave, anxious and resolute. On the other hand, the French are yelling, drinking. ewaggering, and literally "spoiling for a fight." The serious men are apt to get the heat of a fight in the winding up.

The Emperor of France issued a proclama-tion to Frenchmen, on the 23d, in which he tries to throw the blame of the war on Prus-Beerverers from the French chasseport. Beerverers from the French army are very numerous, and were continually coming within the Prussian lines. The London Times states, that a projected treaty has been submitted by France to Prussia. It asks the consent and aid of Prussia for French acquisition of Luxemburg and Belgium—France admitting and recognizing the late acquisitions of Prussia. Such a treaty would hardly be accepted by Prussia, or tolerated by other European powers.

In the "dry year " of 1845, when the upland corn in all the middle and upper part of this State was almost an entire failure, the alarm produced was so great that turnips were resorted to, and proved a great success. Hogs were partly fattened on them, and cattle were fed with them a good part of the winter; in fact, without turnips that year thousands of stock would have perished all over the country.

Most persons in this part of the world are not aware of the immense value of the turnip when extensively and properly cultivated. In England, the single county of Norfolk produces a turnip erop estimated to be worth seventy-five millions of dollars ; Just think of it. One county, not larger, perhaps, than Greenville, producing a crop worth more than the entire cotton crop of South Carolina and Georgia, with that of North Carolina thrown in. Nomination for Congress. A number of respectable citizens have requested us to invite attention to the fac hat a convention of delegates from the countles composing the Fourth Congression al District, has been called to meet at Greenville on the second Tuesday in August to nominate a candidate for Congress, Every county of the Congressional District it is thought, will send delegates; and next salesday, August 1st, would be a good time to appoint them, as has been already suggested in the call published in the Colum bia Phornix.

We see it suggested by the Winnsbor News that the delegates assemble in Columbis, instead of at Greenville, on account of the former point being more accessible .-We don't see the necessity of going outside of the Congressional District to nominate a candidate; and as this City has been published as the place of meeting, why alter it ; besider, the people of Greenville wish to be visited by our neighbors of Oconce Pickens, Laurens, Spartanburg, Union, York Chester and Fairfield, in order to show them one of the prettiest little cities. right under the brow of the mountains, they ever rambled over.

Death by Lightning.

We are pained to learn that Jonn Rusus possibly a reverse might new come, but he SMYER, Jr., third con of Mr. J. R. SMYER, hoped for success, relying on a good army Sr., was struck dead by lightning, on Wednesday evening last, 20th inst. about 2 o'clock, during a severe thunder storm, at his home, 12 miles below Greenville. He was killed outright, bruising him very much, and setting fire to his clothing. An elder brother was slightly affected, who was standing some fifteen yards from deceased. His flesh was much torn and in places crisped up, and his brother, on run ning up to him, said that a stream of fire poured out of his mouth. The body of the unfortunate young man was immediately placed in water in order to endeavor to re vive him, but all to no purpose. A horse not far distant was also very slightly in. Times was arrested as a spy at Metz, but jured. The deceased was only about 14 was released and expelled from the French | years of age, and was a promising lad. We sympathize with his family.

Judge Carpenter and General Butler As we informed our readers last week, Judge CARPENTER having changed his appointment for Greenville, will address the people on Friday, 29th inst, at this place. Gen. M. C. BUTLER, who is also a fine speaker, will be present likewise. We are cleased to see that Congress has removed his disabilities by a two-thirds vote. This does not look, by any means, as if the re- est by following in a large concourse to the publicans and the President in Washington felt any opposition to the Union and Rcform party in this State. Death of a Good Citize We regret to announce the death of one of Greenville's best chizens, Cot. II. L. Hozz, Mak, who resided in the lower portion of the County. He died on Saturday night last, at the residence of Dr. J. L. Woonerns day last, at Fairview Church, Rev. C. R. STEWART preaching the funeral sermon to a very large congourse of sympathizing friends. His complaint was consumption, from which he had been suffering for a number of years. He was in his forty-first year, and leaves a wife and large family of interesting children, besides a nume respectable connexion, to mourn his loss. An upright man, a determined patriot, and Christian gentleman, has gone to his last reward.

Municipal Election. Municipal Election.

We regard the approaching election for Mayor and Aldermen, as the most important municipal election which has occurred since Greenville was incorporated. The questions with which the next Council will have to deal, will be more important, and more vitally affect our fature prosperity, than any which have ever prossed themselves upon the attention of a former Council. We would, therefore, urge every citizen to attend the public meeting which is called for Saturday next, and to see to it, that a ticket, composed of our best men, is nominsted. Let it be understood that we will run but one ticket. In this way, alone, can we hope for success. Let it be borne in mind, that no ticket, outside of this nomination, will be voted. mination, will be voted.

Mesere. Editors-Some weeks since, there appeared in the Greenville Enterprise a communication signed, "City of Greenville," in which I was called upon to allow my name offered as a candidate for the State Legislature at the approaching election. This communication, from the unmerited compliments it contained, I felt sure could only have been penned by the hand of partial friendship, and not regarding a seat in the Legislature of South Carolina at this time as a desirable object of itself, my first impulse was to decline the nomination, Since that time, many friends, in different parts of the County, have urged my acceptance of it. Now, however, a neeting of the citizens of the County has been called, to be held at the Court House, on Sales-day in August, for the purpose of making nominations, and I have concluded to abide the result of that meeting, if it is at all the expression of the will of those in our County favoring retrenchment and reform in our State Government. The success of the principles I advocate are more to me than a seat in the Legislature; and I hold it is the highest duty of every citizen of South Carolina, at the present time, to use his utmost efforts to secure for our beloved old commonwealth, an honest, an economical, and a Constitutional State Govern-Very truly, yours,

A Suggestion.

Messrs. Editors-We would most respectfully suggest to the Convention who meet on next Monday to nominate candidates for members to the Legislature and County officers, that it would be well to appoint three delegates to attend the Congressional Convention to nominate a candidate for Congress. We frust that this will be done. and that the meeting will instruct them to support the nomination of our fellow-citizen, Robert McKay, Eeq , whose name we rear by many suggested for Congress. Register to Vote. Citizens of Greenville-If you want to ake any interest in the coming Mayor and Councilmen's election, you must register .-All should feel interested, as this will be the most important of any election we may ever have for these offices. The books for you will have been here sixty days before the 12th of September next, you will be ennow, and if you only stay till the election you will be entitled to vote. The books will be opened until the 12th of August, giving ample time for any one to go and put down his name: It is no difficult task. You will pass the place several times before the 12th of August-step in and regis ter. If you neglect it, and the contest for Mayor and Councilmen becomes exciting, and your vote would decide the election. you would always regret it, and say, "If I had only thought to register," Well, now, don't forget this time-don't go to the polls vote in hand, and the managers can't find your name on the books; it will do no good, for I tell you unless you put down your name on the registration books, you will not be allowed to vote. It will make you mad to be refused. You will curse, Virginia, and was admitted to the practice but it will do no good. Then go register; do your duty and all right. O. K.

For the Greenville Enterprise Messrs. Editors-I am gratified to learn that it is proposed to hold a meeting of the citizens of this City on Saturday next, 80th inst, at 5 o'clock P. M., for the purpose of nominating a ticket to be voted for at the ensuing election for Mayor and Aldermen.

It is certainly of more consequence to all the citizens of the City now, than at any previous election of town officers, or perhaps than any one that may occur for a long time to come; that great care and prudence should be exercised in the selection dence should be exercised in the selection of praper persons for those offices. They should be gentlemen of matured judgment, business experience, and of high character. Many important matters are expected to arise, which they will be required to act a post dering their term, which may and certainly will affect the interest of each citizen, and the general prosperity of the City; and it is of the utmost importance that all the wisdom and judgment that can be brought to bear, should be exercised in disposing of them. Among others, it may be mentioned, that the present Council have, by resolution, obligated the City to sab scribe, a considerable sum to the capital stock of the Air Line Railroad. The unanistock of the Air Line Railroad. The unani mous vote of the citizens of the City, rati fying a similar subscription made by the County, indicates their hearty approval of the City subscription. The money for this subscription will have to be raised as it is called for, from the sale of the City bonds. The next Council will be charged preparation and placing of these bonds in market, and giving them character, so that marker, and giving them character, so that they will command the highest possible price, and must be done with great caution and prudence. A mistake in the beginning might be fatal to success; then there are many matters connected with the location and construction of the road through the City, about which they will be consulted and from their position as the representa tives of the people will necessarily exercise a commanding influence.

It is hoped that the builing of the Air-Line Railroad through the City, giving us direct communication cast and west, and other railroad connections and extensions—which it is expected will be made from the City. expected will be made from the City—together with the natural inclination recently manifested by persons at a distance to move and settle here on account of the climate and other attractions, that the growth of the City will be much more rapid in future than at any previous time. Then, on this account, the greatest care and judgment should be exercised in all the public improvements, location of new streets, &c.; so that they may be commenced right, looking to their future bearing and influence upon the City as it may grow and extend its limits; so that trade may be accommodated and encouraged and the grow and extend its limits; so that trade may be accommodated and encouraged and the City beautified; and in the exercise of this duty, a due regard should also be had to their influences upon the property of all the citizens, each fecation being protected as far as possible. The policy of the City government should also be to preserve the best order at the least inconvenience to the people; and the least inconvenience to the people; and perhaps the most desirable of all, is, that the city should be governed with the recatest economy that can possibly be exercised with prudence, and that the taxes be reduced to the lowest possible rate. This is the more neces-sary in consequence of the amount that will have to be raised to pay the interest on the subscription to the Air-Line Railroad. In order to accomplish these results, the election of the class of persons indicated, is indispensable. They must be intelligent; they must have experience, and they must be gentlemen of high character.

A ticket should be agreed upon at an early the 30th inst., at 5 o'clock P. M., in public day, composed of gentlemen possessing these qualifications, and which, as near as meets the views of the voters. Already I have noticed two tickets proposed, and before the election there may, and probably would be, many more, if the above course is not adopted. The writer has no objection to any gentleman whose name appears upon the tickets he has seen; but as there will likely be many more before the election, in order to many more before the election, in order to secure the result/indicated, and the election of a Council composed of such gentlemen only, as the circumstances require, I think the meeting proposed is the best, and perhaps, only plan of attaining that result, by cencen-trating upon one ticket.

Let all the citizens attend the meeting—
each one is deeply interested—and let a ticket be nominated, which, as near as can be, meets the views of all, and let it alone be voted. A CITIZEN.

"The weak cateth herbs," says St. Paul, so that eighteen hundred years ago the value of medicinal plants was appreciated. In the Old Testament botanical remedies are repeatedly recommended, but in no passage of sacred history is man recommended to swallow caloniel, or blue pills, or any other mineral preparation. The sick were directed to eat herbs to strengthen them, to purify them, to heal them, to restore them. In that day the art of making vegetable extracts was unknown. The herbal medicines were mere infusions.
