

Manufactures in Greenville. Manufactories of many kinds can flourish in Greenville; no where in the United States are there better conditions of success. The climate is superior. The water power abundant even in the centre of the city and around about in all directions. McDev's Mills and Gower, Cox & Markley's Wagon and Carriage Factory, and Clark's planing establishment, are no inconsiderable specimens within the city, and these are well known at home and abroad, but we want others. There ought to be additional cotton and woolen manufactories set going in this and adjoining Counties. The success of the Augusta factory and others, shows what can be done on a large scale in the South; that establishment alone has added a population directly to the city of 1500 souls, and indirectly many more, whilst we hear of towns in the North doubling and quadrupling their population in a few years by their increasing manufactories. It seems to us that a shoe factory in Greenville would pay admirably. Good leather could be produced from tanneries in Greenville, and sold cheaper than it could be procured in the North, and we have, equally with the shoe factories, their facilities for procuring imported leather; labor could be procured here as cheap or cheaper than at the North, living is cheaper, because land and house rent and fuel is cheaper, and provisions, with all our shortly to be realized railroad facilities will be cheap.

We are pleased to find that the manufacture of brooms has been begun by JOHN CRITTENDEN, and also by Mr. WILLIAM BATES, both near the city, and our merchants are supplying their stores with stocks of brooms from these sources. We saw yesterday in the store of SULLIVAN & SON, a lot of superior brooms for sale, which were purchased from Mr. JOHN CRITTENDEN's factory. It is by multiplying these small industries that our money will be kept at home. We have abundance of timber for barrels, tubs, buckets, and hickory for axe handles, suitable timber, in fact, for all kinds of tool handles—why not utilize it. Mr. Wm. H. WATSON, of this place, has for several years been carrying on in the rear end of his store house building, the manufacture of bench screws, and various other things, from our native timber, and finds it profitable. He is an earnest and intelligent advocate of manufacturing enterprises in Greenville. We wish our community abounded with men like him—advocate of manufacturing at home.

We have referred to the Augusta factory as an illustration of the benefits to a place arising from manufacturing establishments. The facts will be better understood by the following extract from the Augusta Constitutionalist: How manufacturing Pays—What One Cotton Factory Will Do—As an example of what can be done at home, we have only to point to the great cotton goods manufactory of our city. No institution of the kind in the country, perhaps, has prospered more than this since the war. With the exception of about two hundred shares, the capital stock of the company is owned entirely in Augusta, and its dividends, therefore, go into the pockets of our own citizens. The factory employs five hundred hands, who earn, on an average, twenty-five dollars per month, besides getting their houses rent free. In the last six years, beginning July 1st, 1865, and ending July 1st, 1871, one million seven hundred and thirty thousand dollars have been paid out by this corporation for labor alone. The result is that nearly, if not quite all, of this large sum has been spent in the city, thus putting more money in circulation and adding to the material prosperity of Augusta. It is computed that there are two non-workers dependent upon each laborer, so that the factory really supports about fifteen hundred persons, a not small portion of the population of the city. Fifteen thousand and forty-eight spindles are now in the factory, but we understand it is probable that if the canal be enlarged, giving a greater amount of water power, that fifteen thousand spindles will be added, making a total of over thirty thousand. These additional fifteen thousand spindles will, in that event, be put a part in one of the present buildings and a part in a new building which will be erected for the purpose.

When two third cotton and one-third labor is required in the manufacture of goods, the South has the advantage, and this is the case with all the commoner cotton fabrics. The cotton is immediately at hand, without having the expenses of heavy freight charges added to the original cost. The ratio of the finer goods, however, is the other way, requiring two thirds labor and one-third cotton in their manufacture, and the South, for the present, at any rate, cannot afford to compete with the North in that line. The cotton goods manufactured by the Augusta factory are in demand in New York, and we believe sell better than those of the same grade manufactured by the Northern factories. They are strong and durable, and in their line cannot be surpassed.

The following is a statement of the amounts paid out by the company during the first six years, beginning July 1st, 1865, and ending July 1st, 1871, for labor, taxes, incidental expenses, repairs and dividends: Labor, $1,070,372 72; taxes, $257,418 04; expenses, $153,931 92; repairs, $55,828 21; dividends, $720,000. Of the taxes, about $30,000 was on cotton, when the nefarious law imposing the tax was in operation. The remainder comprised the ordinary Federal, State, County and city taxes.

It will be seen that a larger amount than the capital stock of the company, which is $500,000, has been paid out in six years as dividends to the stock holders. What similar corporation can show a better record of net profits?

National Bank at Yorkville. The Yorkville Enquirer announces the establishment of a National Bank in that town, and says: "It gives us pleasure to announce that the initiatory steps have been taken, by a number of our substantial citizens, to establish a National Bank in Yorkville. Messrs. H. F. Adickes, S. Rufus Moore, Joseph Herndon, W. I. Clawson, W. H. McCorkle, James I. Clark and J. S. R. Thomson, have been designated as Commissioners to receive subscriptions to the capital stock. Our best business men express themselves as fully satisfied that the investment will be a paying one to the stockholders, and the Bank, when established, a convenience to the people of the county. Success to the Bank and all enterprises calculated to develop the resources of our county."

National Banks are now established at Anderson, Spartanburg and Newber by. When are we to have one in Greenville?

Rev. B. Manly, Jr., D. D. The following notice of Dr. MANLY, is copied from the South, an able and high-toned paper whose publication has recently been commenced in New York:

"The Rev. B. Manly, Jr., D. D., we see by the Christian Herald, has been elected President of Georgetown College, Ky. If Dr. Manly accepts the call, the College will be indeed fortunate.—Dr. Manly is the noble son of a noble sire—our late venerable friend, the patriarch of the Baptist Church in Alabama, and our preceptor while a student in the University of Alabama, of which he was for so many years its honored head."

Fire. On Monday night, about 15 minutes to 9 o'clock, the stables on the lot of Capt. W. E. EARLE, near the Presbyterian Church, were discovered to be on fire. It was already bursting out of the roof before being discovered. The Palmetto and Neptune engines were promptly brought out, and the companies as usual nobly acquitted themselves. The stable and large shed adjoining could not be saved, but the fire was prevented from spreading to other buildings. Part of the stable was used as a wood-work shop, but there was no fire kept in it, and it is supposed the mischief was the work of an incendiary. We trust no pains will be spared in ferreting out the criminal.

Soliciting Orders. We are now being visited by an unusual number of salesmen from Charleston and other places, who have been sent to solicit orders of goods, by wholesale dealers. As country merchants are prevented from going to our metropolis in person, in consequence of the existence of yellow fever there, the jobbers in the different lines are determined, if possible, there shall be no interruption in their filling the fall bills of their friends in the interior.—Nearly all of the larger dealers in dry goods and groceries of Meeting, Hayne and East Bay Streets, are represented by energetic gentlemen, and we wish for them large orders.

The Busy Season will Soon Open. And there will of course be more incidents transpiring that will interest and concern the people, both general and local; therefore this is a good time to commence taking the Enterprise, which is only $2 per annum in advance.—Those who subscribe for one year, will be furnished with the back numbers of Ex-Gov. PERRY'S "Reminiscences" gratis. Advertisers are informed that we make Three, Six and Twelve Months Contracts at a large reduction upon regular rates. The Enterprise has a superior circulation in both City and Country.

Sacramental Meeting. The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be administered in the Presbyterian Church next Sabbath, October 1st.—The preparatory services will commence with a sermon on Saturday afternoon, at 4 o'clock.

Visit of an Old Resident to Greenville. We have had, during the week past, a call from Dr. L. C. SERVICE, who was a former resident of this place—many of our older citizens remember him well. After practicing medicine in Greenville for several years, he, in the year 1834, removed to South-western Georgia, where he likewise followed his profession till 1839; in that year returned, and made this his home but for a short time only. Since then, he has been engaged extensively in merchandising. When the war broke out, was thus engaged in Charleston, and since then has been one of a firm doing a wholesale trade in medicines, and is now connected with the large and very respectable house of GOODRICH, WINKMAN & Co., which has its store on Hayne Street. He spent a few days here with his friends, besides looking to his business interests. It always affords us much pleasure to meet such gentlemen as Dr. SERVICE, and having had dealings with his establishment, we take occasion to commend it to our druggists and dealers.

The Depot. A great deal of freight is now arriving at the depot of the Greenville and Columbia Railroad, at this place, the delivery of which keeps Mr. ALEXANDER McDEV, Jr., the Agent, and Mr. RICHARD THURSTON, Assistant, quite busy. Judging from the piles of boxes, barrels, crates, parcels, &c., our merchants are laying in large stocks, in which they have commenced quite early; however, not too soon, as evidenced by the cool weather. The farmers and country people will no doubt purchase largely this fall, as they as a general thing are not in debt for fertilizers, therefore will have more money to spend.

End of the Courts. The United States Court adjourned on last Wednesday, having been in session since the first Monday in August. The Court of Sessions and Common Pleas adjourned on Friday last, after a three weeks' session, lacking one day. Judge Orr so far exhausted the dockets, that he may easily get through during the next term in January, after which it is supposed he will have an easier time in Greenville.

Go at Once. And examine the full stock of new goods just received at the Buncombe Street Store, now occupied by the new firm of DAVIS & MORGAN.

Groceries, Hardware, Cutlery, Dry Goods, Boots, Shoes, Hats, Bagging, Ties, Roping, &c., and every other article usually kept in a first class Dry Goods and Grocery Store—all of which are offered at very low rates. Call and see them and you will be certain to purchase.

New Paper in Charleston. The Daily Advertiser is the title of a new paper issued in Charleston, printed, as we learn from the Courier of the same city, upon the material of the Republican, now suspended, and by former employees in the office of the latter. The Advertiser says that it will not be the standard-bearer of any political party, but will devote its column to furnishing the news. The name of neither the proprietor or editor appears.

Mr. S. Swandale. After an absence of six weeks, spent in New York, Mr. SWANDALE has returned to Greenville. He has laid in a large stock of very fine Goods for the firm of SWANDALE & ISAACS, which are now being opened. The store of these gentlemen is one of the prettiest and finest in the City; in the arrangement of it, the nicest taste has been displayed, and the store is truly inviting, not to be excelled by any we have ever entered. See advertisement.

Business Changes. The interest of W. H. HOVEY, deceased, in the establishment of W. H. HOVEY & Co., has been purchased by Mr. M. M. HOVEY, brother of the deceased, and the business will be continued at the same stand, under the firm name of TOWNES & HOVEY. Mr. S. C. CLYDE has purchased the entire interest of CLYDE & HOVEY, continuing as heretofore. Messrs. S. A. TOWNES and S. C. CLYDE are now in New York purchasing their fall stocks of goods.

Cotton Ties. We would call attention to the advertisement of Messrs. GEO. W. WILLIAMS & Co., of Charleston, in another column. They offer a number of kinds of Ties for sale, among which are the Eureka and Arrow so well and favorably known to our planters. Parties desiring satisfaction in their purchase of Ties, should send orders to Messrs. WILLIAMS & Co.

State of Real Estate. Capt. J. W. CAGLE, we learn, has purchased from ALEXANDER McDEV, Esq., the valuable lot, containing about one acre of land, situated at the corner of Augusta and Pendleton Streets, opposite the store of WILLIAMS & WHITMIRE and MILLS & McBRAY. Price paid $2,500. Capt. C. expects to build upon it.

The Weather. With the exception of Thursday last, the weather has been clear for the week past. The mornings were quite cool, although there has been no frost, making fire, and additional covering at night, very comfortable. We hope this delightful state of things will continue for some time.

Teachers Wanted. We are requested to state that the Trustees of this School District desire to secure the services of a competent teacher each for the eastern and western side of Greenville, to open, as public schools, at once. The salaries of teachers conducting public schools are payable upon the collection of the taxes for the past fiscal year.

The Southern Home, published at Charlotte, N. C., in its issue of the 19th inst., says: "Air Line R. R.—We learn that the First National Bank of Charlotte pays out $55,000 monthly for this company—all of which is distributed along the line between this place and Spartanburg, S. C."

South Carolina Land and Immigration Association. By reference to the advertisement of Messrs. BUTLER, CHADWICK, GARY & Co., it will be seen that their drawing has been postponed until the 8th January, 1872, in consequence of the prevailing fever in Charleston.

Seed Oats. Attention is called to the advertisement of Messrs. WILLIAMS & WHITMIRE, who in another column announce that they have Red Rust Proof Oats for sale, at $1 35 per bushel. Purchase at once, as the lot may soon be exhausted.

Telegraph Office. The Telegraph office here is now in charge of Mr. LAMB, a polite and courteous young gentleman, who was formerly connected with Western Union Telegraph Company, in Charleston.

A Chance for Real Estate Investment in Real Estate. Now is the time to procure real estate in Greenville on terms that cannot fail to make good investments, or first-rate speculations. notice the advertisement of Capt. JOHN WESTFIELD, of an improved lot.

Street Cars. Athens, Georgia, a young city of about the population of Greenville, has street cars now running. We hope the time is not far distant when a company will be formed here with the view of constructing a similar institution for the "City of the Mountains."

Fire in Edgely Village. From the Edgely Advertiser of the 21st inst., we learn that a fire occurred in that place on the 15th, which came near burning up the village. The loss was about $1,300.

City Policemen. The three City Policemen elected by the Council are, ANNER BAYSON, Chief; DAVID HENDERSON and SANDY JOHNSON, the last named colored.

Full particulars in BEATTIE'S advertisement, next week.

State and Other Items. A steamer is now running up the Wateree River as far as Camden—the first in twenty years. Dr. John E. Holbrook, a distinguished physician of Charleston, died of apoplexy, near Boston, Mass., on the 8th inst., in the 77th year of his age. John Williams, Alfred Decarroux, Noel Ailes and Madison, in the St. James Parish, La., for the murder of Frank Monteith, on May 10, and executed on the spot where the murder was committed. The sheriff, executioner, jailor and guards were all colored. A wagon load of torpedoes exploded in a street in New York, recently, killing three persons. The explosion is described by the New York papers as terrific. Persons passing were dashed to the ground or blown into open stores.

The Mont Cenis Tunnel, recently completed, connects France and Italy. Mr. James Croft, chairman of the Board of Health of Beaufort, says the yellow fever has entirely disappeared from that place. Mr. Wm. Hayward, of Charleston, died on the 21st inst.

Gen. John W. Goyton and Mr. Preston L. Dean, respected citizens of Anderson County, died recently. On the 19th inst., John Gardner, a special deputy of the sheriff of York County, shot and killed John Hemphill while attempting to effect his arrest, on a bench warrant. Gardner surrendered himself to the sheriff and is now in jail.

Henry Denbow, a notorious desperado, was shot dead in Ehrensburg, Arizona, while pursuing a merchant to murder him.

SELLING OUT THE GREENVILLE ROAD. That portion of the Greenville and Columbia Railroad, with the telegraph line connected therewith, so far as lies between Columbia and the Fairfield line has been levied on, and is advertised for sale by the sheriff of Richland County, on the first Monday in October next; also, the locomotives R. K. Scott and James L. Orr, and passenger car No. 1. The suits under which these levies have been made are in the names of Edward S. Bailey and C. H. Manson.—Charleston News.

A preliminary survey of a railroad to connect Kingsville and Augusta is now being made. It is proposed to pass near Edgely Court House, and to cross the South Carolina Railroad below Aiken.

NOTICE. Office of the South Carolina Land and Immigration Association. ACADEMY OF MUSIC BUILDING, CHARLESTON, S. C. September, 1871.

THE South Carolina Land and Immigration Association beg to inform their Subscribers that from apprehension that the prevailing fever in Charleston may produce interruption to their business, which has progressed very satisfactorily up to this time, and the impossibility of having the drawing during the existence of the Yellow Fever in this City, would respectfully announce to their patrons, that the drawing will be postponed until the 8th January, 1872.

This postponement so far from being any detriment to our large list of Ticket-holders, is an absolute guarantee that it will positively take place at the time named, and affords an opportunity to thousands of our friends throughout the South who were anxious to secure tickets, but were unable to do so, until they had realized from the sale of their Crops. Respectfully &c., BUTLER, CHADWICK, GARY & CO., GEN. M. C. BUTLER, ... GARY. Sept 27 21 17
