Democratic Meeting. It will be observed by the notice published elsewhere, that there will be a Democratic Mass Meeting held in the Court House on Monday next, Saturday, June 3d.

Endorsement of Horace Greeley by Distinguished Carolinians. During the past week or ten days, a number of letters have been published from several of the distinguished gentlemen of this State, formerly identified with the Democratic party, giving their views as regards the Cincinnati nomination, and the course to be pursued by the opposition to the present administration.

Passage of the Amnesty Bill.—Also Civil Rights Bill through the Senate. Congress has at last passed the Amnesty Bill, which removes all political disabilities from every one, excepting about two hundred persons; the excepted class are those who were members of the thirty-sixth and thirty-seventh Congress, and officers in the judicial, military and naval service of the United States.

Mr. Greeley thus closes his letter of acceptance: "In this faith, and with the distinct understanding that if elected I shall be the President, not of a party, but of the whole people, I accept your nomination, in the confident trust that the masses of our countrymen, North and South, whose eagerness to grasp hands across the bloody chasm which has too long divided them, forgetting that they have been enemies in the joyful consciousness that they are, and must henceforth remain brethren."

Mr. Kerr is not very clear as to participation or non-participation in the meeting of the Democracy. "It is not to be expected," says he, "that those to whom we have heretofore looked to for council will move promptly to the support of Mr. Greeley, with whom they have for a lifetime been in mortal combat."

Our readers will remember that we, a few weeks since, alluded to an improved method of cutting ladies and children's garments by measure, a late and very useful and valuable invention by Mrs. Dr. MILLWEE, of Greenwood, S. C. We would state to those wishing to purchase use or more of these Charts, that Mrs. MILLWEE, the inventor, is now in this City, stopping at Dr. BARNY'S residence, the Dr. Crook house, remaining during the summer, and will be pleased to furnish all of our ladies who desire to adopt their use. She will also take great pleasure in giving particular and minute instructions as to a thorough and complete understanding of their utility. Being in the City for several months, she can be readily referred to, thus securing a full knowledge of their use. The price of the Charts is small, and those of our ladies who have not yet investigated them, should call and see Mrs. MILLWEE and learn of their merits.

Those who have been so long and faithfully served by Mr. PETER CAUBLE, and his friends generally, will regret to learn that sickness has compelled this veteran blacksmith to retire from his useful avocation.—The familiar sound of Mr. C's hammer and anvil, at his shop on the corner of Main and Buncombe streets, has been heard by one and another of us, day by day, (Sunday's excepted,) early and late, during the past fifty years. An old resident of Greenville, who has lived in the State of Mississippi for twenty years or more, while on a visit to this place, not long since, remarked that the most familiar objects he saw in all the town were Mr. CAUBLE and his shop on the corner. The business is continued at the old stand, under the management of his son, Mr. HENRY A. CAUBLE.

A Strange Place for Bees. On Sunday before last, at the Baptist Church in this place, as the choir were taking their places in the gallery, preparatory to commencing the morning service, a friend standing at the front window and looking out into the porch, noticed a swarm of bees, which had collected around the top of one of the huge columns supporting the roof of the porch. It is probable that they have found an opening which leads to the space between the ceiling and roof of the porch, and intend making that place a permanent abode. It is not likely, should this be the case, that the worshippers would be disturbed by them, as they seldom fight except in self defense, and they are almost beyond the reach of molestation from any source whatsoever. So, for a few, it seems these busy little insects will have their own way about the matter, and go on with their work; and perhaps a year or two hence the proceeds of their labor will prove no mean contribution to our cause of religion.

We have been informed by the Sexton since writing the above, that a swarm of two bees have lived in the steeple for several years.

More Candidates. Our list is gaining strength, two accessions being made with this issue. The friends of Col. S. S. CHANNING announce him for the Senate; and Mr. S. R. WARMORLAND for the House. There are still others who are yet to be announced, we learn.

Tax on Ministers. Hon. B. H. CHAMBERLAIN, Attorney-General of the State, has published his official opinion declaring that ministers of religion or clergymen are not liable to a tax under the recent license act.

Greener Accepts the Cincinnati Nomination. HONORABLE GREENER publishes his letter of acceptance of the nomination for President of the United States, by the Liberal Republicans, dated the 26th inst., stating that he had deferred applying to the committee who had informed him of his nomination on the 26th inst., until he could learn how the work of the Convention had been received in all parts of the country. He says that the response received from all parts of the country assure him that the action of the Convention meets with the approval of all interested in revision and reform. His principles affirm: The guaranteeing of all political rights acquired through the war; complete amnesty and impartial suffrage; the equal rights of all citizens; local self-government and not centralization; the supremacy of the civil authority, and the upholding of the writ of habeas corpus; civil service reform; an independent raising of revenue by the people through their representatives untrammelled by Presidential influence; devoting the public lands to purchase and occupation by cultivators and not reclusively squandered on railroad projects; maintaining of the public faith and national credit; the grateful commemoration of the soldiers and sailors who upheld the national flag during the war.

Letter from Hon. B. F. Perry. GREENVILLE, S. C., May 25, 1872. Hon. J. K. JILLSON.—My Dear Sir: Your letter received this morning, asking an expression of my views as to the expediency to be pursued in South Carolina, as to the nomination of Horace Greeley for President, and the sending of delegates to the Baltimore Convention.

In my opinion, the election of Greeley is the only hope we have of reforming the State and National Governments, and restoring the constitutional peace and prosperity. It would be desirable for the Democratic party to think of making a separate nomination for President. I will go further, and say it would be criminal to the South, and stamp the party with a stain, to participate in a narrow, contracted selfishness utterly disgraceful.

Original Poetry, by Mrs. G. W. On the first page will be found Part I of an original poem written by Mrs. LAURA GWIN, whose productions we always publish with delight. We ask pardon for not producing it earlier, as it has been in file for one or two months.
