The Philadelphia Convention.
The Radical National Convention, which assembled in Philadelphia last Wednesday, has performed its work and adjourned. General U. S. Grant was unanimously nominated by acclamation for the Presidency, and Hon. Henry Wilson, of Massachusetts, for the Vice-Presidency. We publish full particulars of the proceedings. The ticket is a very strong one, but if the Presidential contest is between Grant and Greeley, and there be no regular Democratic nomination made, we think the latter will be our next President. But, on the other hand, should another candidate be pushed upon the people, that will determine the election, and Grant will walk into a second Presidential term as easily as though he had the race to himself. But we hope for better things. The united voice of the South urges no Baltimore nomination; its counsels are entitled to weight.

Governor Orr, of this State, delivered a very strong speech, before the Convention, endorsing Gen. Grant and his administration. We will publish it next week.

The Court House Matter.
For good reasons, we withhold the communication of the young gentlemen, in reply to an article of an official of Greenville County recently appearing in this paper. Long and strongly personal controversies, unless on absorbing topics, are not productive of a great deal of good. In this communication the cause of the ladies is amply vindicated, in vigorous terms, and those ladies interested, should bestow their most bewitching smiles upon those of their male friends who ran so promptly to their rescue.

"Honor to Whom Honor is Due."
In our last issue, we spoke of the prosperity of the Masonic Lodge in this City, and among other things, stated that the Lodge had, for several years, supported one of its oldest members. In this we were mistaken. It has contributed towards his support for the last twelve months, and done so some three years ago for a few months; but the fact is, he has been cared for and supported since the war by a friend, who knew him in more prosperous times. We make this correction in justice to all concerned.

Furman University Commencement.
The Commencement Exercises of Furman University, and of the Greenville Female College, will take place on Wednesday, the 19th instant.

Major JAMES B. STADMAN will deliver an Address before the Literary Societies of the University on Tuesday night, and Rev. E. J. METSKARD, D. D., will deliver an Address before the Literary Society of the Female College, on Wednesday night. The public are respectfully invited to attend.

Literary Club.
At the last meeting of this body the time of meeting was changed from the 4th to the 3d Tuesday evening of each month. In accordance with this change, the next meeting will regularly be held on next Tuesday, June 16th, at the residences of JAS. BIRNEY, Esq. A portion, however, of the commencement exercises of Furman University occur on that evening, and it has been thought best to postpone the meeting of the Club to the following Friday evening, June 21st, at which time Rev. E. J. METSKARD will please bear in mind, then, that the next meeting of the Club will be held at the residence of Mr. JAS. BIRNEY, on Friday evening, June 21st, at 8 P. M.

A Word from the Scientific American.
The above paper thus alludes to the invention of Mrs. MILLWEE, and for the interest of our native genius, the journals of South Carolina should record her invention in their columns:

"Pattern for Cutting Garments—Mrs. Sarah A. Millwee, of Greenwood, S. C.—The invention consists in a pattern chart for front and back of human form, with scales of figures and perforations, arranged for fitting plain and full waists, loose waists, and waists of all sizes. It would seem to be an invention greatly calculated to economize the costs of ladies, of their various garments, since, with one of these charts, they may both cut and readily fit, as well as make them."

Post Office Re-opened.
The post office formerly at Clear Spring, in Greenville County, has been re-opened, and Mr. ROBERT LEAGUE appointed postmaster.

Error.
Last week, in reporting the names of those arrested for violation of the internal revenue laws, we incoincidentally stated that Mr. JAMES TINALEY had been committed to jail. This was a mistake, as Mr. TINALEY gave bond of $2,000 for his appearance at the next term of the United States Court.

New Flour and Grist Mill.
Rev. S. J. GREEN is about completing a new flour and grist mill, at the old Thompson mill place, just beyond the city limits, on the Spartanburg road. He also intends to attach a cotton gin and thrasher to his old mill, and will therefore be able to accommodate the public in several ways. These improvements will require an expenditure of near $6,000.

Jas. K. Dickson, Esq., for School Commissioner.
By reference to our list of announcements, it will be seen that the name of JAMES K. DICKSON, Esq., is a candidate for School Commissioner. Mr. D. is well and favorably known throughout the County as a good and experienced surveyor, having also a large experience in school teaching. In 1868 he was one of the Democratic nominees for the Legislature.

Another Presidential Ticket.
The Woman's Suffrage advocates have placed in the field as their standard bearers, Mrs. VICTORIA G. WOODRUFF for the Presidency and FRANKER DOUGLASS, for Vice President, the latter colored.

On Saturday last omnibus was visited by a terrific gust of wind, which caused such a whirl of dust as to compel coaches, offices, &c., to be closed up for a while. The "old, red inhabitant" does not remember anything so much dust before.

An Hallowed Man.
One day last week, a gentleman of this City having business two or three miles from town, rode out on horseback. After reaching his destination and transacting his business, was going home, when having occasion to examine his pockets, found that he had lost a small amount of money he had had with him. Remembering where he had last had it, he felt confident of knowing near where it had been lost. Next day, he called on a gentleman in business, in going over all the streets and inquiring he could, but was not able to hear of it, and came to the conclusion that his chance of recovery lay in his money having been picked up by some one, as he very well knew, as a general rule, "a very slim one indeed." But there are some honest people; he was soon informed that Mr. THOMAS MCANTRA, who lives in that neighborhood, and is well known to all of our people, had, in driving along the road in his ox-cart, picked up a roll of greenbacks, and was endeavoring to hear of the loser. Upon our friend's riding up and describing one or two of the bills, Mr. MCANTRA was satisfied as to their ownership, and turned them over to him. It is refreshing to hear of instances of honesty like these; but all who are acquainted with Mr. MCANTRA know that he could not do otherwise, as he is Burns' ideal of the noblest work of God.

Congress.
The Enforcement Act passed by Congress last year and which was to expire with the Congress which adjourned on the 10th inst., has been re-enacted, although some of its most objectionable features, it was also amended in several particulars. The clause in the former act suspending the writ of Habeas Corpus ceased of operation. The civil rights bill has been defeated for the present.

The Weather and Crops.
One or two showers have fallen during the past week. On Monday morning last the rain was a very good one, and of great advantage to the growing crops. The warm weather is what is needed, provided it is not too dry. The crops generally, we think, are doing well. Col. McCULLOUGH, of the lower portion of Greenville, speaks well of corn, cotton and wheat. Wheat is being rapidly cut, and the quality is said to be very good, although much will be difficult to save on account of the shortness of the stand.

JOHN WYNN, a colored man in the employment of Mr. J. P. WELLS of this city, died last night; aged perhaps between 55 and 60 years. He was a member of the Baptist Church, a quiet, good man, and a faithful servant.

The Ladies' Tea Cream Saloon of this city was, we learn, kept open on Friday evening last for the benefit of the Palmetto Orphan Home, of Columbia. The receipts for this laudable purpose were, we trust, even larger than usual.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.
MR. BERRY LEAGUE and JAMES K. DICKSON, Esq., appear among the list for School Commissioner, and Mr. WILSON COOK for the Legislature. Read them over.

GOVERNOR SCOTT has appointed DORRILL J. STEWART Notary Public for Greenville County.

For the Greenville Enterprise.

Mr. Editor—Permit me, through your columns, to thank the friends of "Education" for the unsolicited nomination they have given me for the office of School Commissioner at the ensuing election. Allow me, too, to add that, while I am not unwilling to serve the public, justice to my views of public policy, requires me to say, that in our present condition, I regard concert of action as the part of all good citizens of the utmost importance, and hence cannot consent to have my name associated with any measure that might tend to a different result. The Convention to assemble in August next, will, I presume, nominate a ticket for County officers; and should that body see proper to connect my name with the office mentioned, I should feel it my duty to accept the nomination—otherwise, I must decline to be a candidate.

Very respectfully,
JOHN B. PATRICK,
Greenville, June 10th, 1875.

FOR THE GREENVILLE ENTERPRISE.

Mr. Editor—"Countryman," in your issue of the 23d ult., is on the right track, and we very heartily recommend the adoption of his idea in regard to the office of School Commissioner; besides, too, let private interests give place to the public welfare, and the County delegates canvass thoroughly the character of the man who would worthily fill the office. We think we know one in all respects fitted for the position. Educated; of large experience in the management of schools, thoroughly conversant with the wants of this branch of the public service. Further, one whose heart is in the matter, and whose time will be wholly devoted thereto; in a word, a Christian gentleman, who knows his duties and will perform them. I mean Mr. BERRY LEAGUE, of Austin Township. A FRIEND.

FOR THE GREENVILLE ENTERPRISE.

An Appeal.
The young ladies of the Florida Calhoun Literary Society, of the Greenville Female College, Spartanburg District, S. C., finding it impossible, in consequence of the impoverished condition of the State; to increase their Library, without the aid of help from abroad, have determined to raise a public subscription, and earnestly appeal to the friends of education in the South for contributions of any books they may be disposed to send them. Any contributions will be gratefully acknowledged.

FOR THE GREENVILLE ENTERPRISE.

Bible Society.
At a meeting of the Officers and Executive Committee of the Greenville County Bible Society, held on the 27th of May, at the Depository, it was moved and agreed to, that the Rev. Mr. MEYER be appointed a member of the Executive Committee in place of the Rev. Mr. DARBY.

The following Resolutions were proposed and unanimously adopted, upon nominations made to the meeting by Mr. S. C. Clyde, a member of the Executive Committee:
I. That the Rev. Mr. Hutton be authorized to act as the Collector of the Society in the County, and that the Agent of the Society, be authorized to furnish Mr. Hudson with such Bibles and Testaments as he may need for sale or gratuitous distribution.
II. That in making this arrangement for the distribution of the Holy Scriptures, the Executive Committee command the Christian seal of Mr. Hudson to their brethren and friends in the County, and trust that his efforts may be encouraged by the aid and sympathy of all Christians.

III. That the offer of Mr. Wm. A. Hudson to procure the circulation of the Scriptures in the County be accepted, and that he be commended by the Society in so good a work as this.

The Greeley Ratification in New York on the 4th, was immense. A letter from Montgomery Blair, speaking of Radicals, says: "Not until attacked by Sumner, Schurz, and Trumbull, was it brought to bay." A letter from Senator Trumbull congratulates the "Liberals" for deliverance from party trammels, and for giving the people an opportunity to elect Horace Greeley President of a pacific government, and obliterate all animosities. General Imboden says he hastens to assure the meeting that Southern men heartily unite in support of the policy and nominees of the Cincinnati Convention. The unanimity in the South is without a parallel. The opposition in Virginia is too feeble to provoke a campaign.

JUST OUR HARM.—The following, which we take from the Edgefield Advertiser, coincides with our own opinion as to the course that should be pursued by the Democrats throughout the State:

"As regards local politics, the Republicans have it all to themselves. They are somewhat divided, however, and it is pretty clear they will have two tickets in the field. The Democratic sentiment of the County, so far as we can learn, is not to participate in the coming canvass at all, but merely to go forward and vote for the ticket on whose nomination the best men—who are free from the influence of the Radical ring in Columbia, and who will go in favor of repudiating the twenty millions of State bonded debt fraudulently contracted by the Scott-Neville-Parker carpet baggers. A good ticket, thus pledged, be the nominees Republican or Democrat, white or black, will, we dare say, receive the support of the white people of Edgefield."

PHILADELPHIA, June 5.
Ex-Governor Claflin, of Massachusetts, called the Republican Convention to order shortly after noon to-day, and after a brief speech in eulogy of the Republican party, called upon Rev. Alexander Reed, of Philadelphia, who delivered prayer. Ex-Mayor Morton McMichael, of Philadelphia, was then elected temporary chairman, and made an address of thanks for the privilege of presiding over for a short time over the Convention, and welcoming to a Philadelphia, all the delegates to that city, and paying the highest tribute to Grant, saying he was more honest, better and truer than any of his detractors.

John Nowlin, of New Jersey; John E. Hubbard, of West Virginia; and H. Potter, of Florida, were elected Secretaries.—Committees on credentials and permanent organization were appointed, and afterwards Thomas Settle, of North Carolina, was unanimously elected President of the Convention. Judge James L. Orr, of South Carolina, and Henderson, of Missouri, were his only contestants. Settle took the chair and offered brief remarks, and then the Convention adjourned till ten to-morrow.

During the day speeches were made by Morton, Logan, Gerritt Smith, Governor Ogleby, John A. Gray, a colored delegate from Arkansas, and others; all of them in warm eulogy of Grant, who it is stated will be re-nominated by acclamation. There is intense excitement over the Vice-Presidency by the friends of Wilson and Colfax, both working with the greatest vim. On question of platform it is said the only diversity of opinion that exists is on the tariff.

The National Republican Convention organized to-day, Hon. Morton McMichael acting as temporary President. The delegations were full, and the Academy of Music was literally packed. Lieutenant-Governor Kanter, of South Carolina, was elected as one of the Vice Presidents, and also chosen one of the National Committee on Permanent Organization. Hon. E. B. Elliott was appointed on the Committee on Platform; Hon. T. J. Mackay on the Committee on Rules, and Hon. S. A. Swails on the Committee on Credentials.

During the absence of the committee on permanent organization lead and continuous calls were made for Logan, who appeared amid deafening applause, and made a short speech, apologizing for his inability to answer the demand of the audience, having spoken until he was hoarse the night before.

PHILADELPHIA, June 5.
The National Republican Convention organized to-day, Hon. Morton McMichael acting as temporary President. The delegations were full, and the Academy of Music was literally packed. Lieutenant-Governor Kanter, of South Carolina, was elected as one of the Vice Presidents, and also chosen one of the National Committee on Permanent Organization. Hon. E. B. Elliott was appointed on the Committee on Platform; Hon. T. J. Mackay on the Committee on Rules, and Hon. S. A. Swails on the Committee on Credentials.

During the absence of the committee on permanent organization lead and continuous calls were made for Logan, who appeared amid deafening applause, and made a short speech, apologizing for his inability to answer the demand of the audience, having spoken until he was hoarse the night before.

Gerritt Smith was then called for, the convention rising and cheering wildly for several minutes. He spoke eloquently, and was frequently applauded—the convention again rising and waving handkerchiefs and hats as he retired from the stage.

Senator Morton was next called for, and made a powerful speech of some length. Judge James L. Orr was conducted to the stage, upon demands made by the audience, and made an excellent speech of several minutes, fully and unequivocally endorsing Grant, as the other speakers had done.

He defended Ku Klux legislation, and carried the convention with him, with round after round of applause. George Ogleby, of Illinois, came out after very furious and repeated calls, and made a most stirring speech, which was closely listened to, and the Convention was perfectly lost in a sea of enthusiasm. Elliott also spoke forcibly and was frequently cheered. The speaking occupied three hours.

The Committee on Permanent Organization recommended Judge Settle, of North Carolina, as permanent President, who was unanimously elected. Judge Orr could have been elected had efforts been made earlier.

Wilson stood for Vice-Presidency is advancing. It looks like he will be nominated on the second ballot. Colfax's friends are sanguine of his election, however.

The city is wild for Grant.

There was a tremendous demonstration last night, with thousands upon thousands present. The convention will probably adjourn to-morrow.

PHILADELPHIA, June 5th.
Grant was re-nominated on the first ballot, receiving every vote in the convention, numbering 752.

The convention was perfectly wild with enthusiasm, and rising to their feet, the members cheered vociferously for several minutes, while hands played "Hail to the Chief," and the audience, numbering five thousand persons, sang the "Battle Cry of Freedom."

"John Brown," and other patriotic airs, amid the waving of handkerchiefs and other demonstrations.

Henry Wilson was nominated on the first ballot. The vote stood—Wilson, 884; Colfax, 821; The balance being scattered.

PHILADELPHIA, June 6.
The vote for Grant was unanimous. In casting the votes of delegations, each chairman made a little speech, which was received with great good humor. The following is not among the most extravagant: Popham, of Virginia, said his Republican people were marching forward under his banner, Sic Semper Tyrannis! Intends next autumn to put his armed heel upon the head of the Democratic party. The gods are just, and Virginia must be redeemed. After the burly-burly subsided, a motion was made to suspend the rules and nominate a Vice-President, which was carried. Pennsylvania nominated Wilson; Massachusetts seconded the nomination; Indiana nominated Colfax; Michigan seconded the nomination; Mississippi also seconded the nomination; Lynch, colored, saying it seemed to him as if the spirit of Lincoln was there, and he remembered what that patriot said on one occasion, when he said it was not a safe time to swap horses when crossing a stream.

Proceedings were here interrupted by the entrance of the platform committee, which reported in effect as follows: The resolutions speak of the great courage and the duties performed by the Republican party in suppressing the rebellion, emancipating slaves, enforcing the laws, developing the internal resources of the country, encouraging and promoting emancipation, collecting the revenues, and reducing the national debt and expenses, with the belief that the country will not entrust the Government to any party or combination composed chiefly of those who have resisted every step of this beneficial progress. They hold that the recent amendments to the Constitution must be sustained and carried out; that honorable peace with foreign nations should be maintained; that the civil service should be reformed; that no further grants of public land should be made to corporations; that the revenues should be so applied as to furnish a moderate balance to be applied to a reduction of the public debt, and that the revenue, except such as is raised from tobacco and spirits, should be raised by duties on imports, such duties should be adjusted so as to aid in securing remunerative wages to the laborer, and promoting the industries, property and growth of the whole country; that the future bounty of the Government should be extended to the soldiers and sailors of the late war; that the American doctrine of fratricidal warfare should be maintained; that the franking privilege should be abolished and postage reduced; that the relations of labor and capital should be recognized and protected; that the public credit must be preserved, and that specie payments should be resumed. The claim for woman suffrage should be treated with respectful consideration. The amnesty action of Congress is approved, also its anti-Ku Klux legislation. The rights reserved to States must be respected. Final sentence is expressed in the modest, patriotic, earnest purposes, sound judgment and practical wisdom of U. S. Grant.

After adopting the platform, Virginia nominated John F. Lewis, colored, and a delegate from Texas nominated B. J. Dunn. The vote stood: Wilson, 884; Colfax, 821. Virginia changed to Wilson, which gave him the nomination.

The convention then adjourned sine die.

FINAL DISPOSITION OF THE KU KLUX.—The Ku Klux purporters, convicted at the recent term of the United States Circuit Court, and who have been confined in jail here until they could be transferred to the Alabamian penitentiary, will leave in the Steamship Champion, this afternoon, at 8 o'clock, in custody of United States Marshal Wallace, and a sufficient force of deputies. We give below the names of those going: Leonard Spencer, Wm. Smith, Pliny Caldwell, Milton Hove, La Fayette Howell, Felix Dyer, Walker Moore, Joseph Larkin, John C. Robinson, Wm. Lawry, W. M. Fulton, Charles Barrett, Benjamin Etickland, Elijah D. Barnes, Gilchrist Hamblin, James H. Hester, Nicholas McCullough, Walker Dawson, Alison Hayes, James Sanders, Wm. Ramsey, David Ramsey, Walter P. Anthony and George S. Wright. Two others, destined for the same place of imprisonment, will not be able to go at present, being sick. Their sentences vary from one to ten years.—Charleston Courier, 5th.

Do Not Despair.

Hundreds of cases of Scrofula, in its worst stages, old cases of Syphilis that have defied the skill of eminent Physicians. Rheumatism who have been suffering for years, and the victims of the injudicious use of Mercury, have been radically cured by DR. TUTT'S SASSAPARILLA and QUEEN'S DELIGHT. It is the most powerful alterative and blood purifier ever known. Only one who have been cured by its use, are now giving to many physicians in their practice.

If you have thills, whether every other day, every tenth day, or every two or three weeks, take Dr. TUTT'S Liver Pills, and you will check them, otherwise they will stick to you all winter.

Dr. Tut's Hair Dye contains no Sulphur.

Keep the Hair Unbleached.—"I use the old Henck—with the top"—and a venerable Indian Chief, pointing to his thin and bleached locks. Thousands of men and women in civilized society, much younger than the old Sagamore, are like him, "withered at the top," simply because they have neglected to use the means of preserving and beautifying the hair which science has placed at their disposal. If Lyon's Kautalon be faithfully applied once or twice a day, to the fibers and roots of the hair, it will keep the hair soft and glossy, with fall out or become harsh and fuzzy, as that a meadow, daly refreshed with nightly dews and sunlit rains, should become arid and barren of green blades. This valuable preparation not only keeps the hair alive and the skin of the head in a healthy and clean condition, but actually multiplies the filaments and imparts to them a lustre, flexibility and wavy beauty unattainable by any other mode of treatment. It does not, like the metallic and sulphurous hair dyes, dry up the natural moisture of the scalp, but supplies nutriment to the roots of the hair and vigor to the fibers.

critical Condition.
It is a sad thing to pass through life only half alive. Yet there are thousands whose habitual condition is one of languor and debility. They complain of no specific disease; they suffer no positive pain; but they have no relish for anything which excites mental or sensuous pleasure. In nine cases out of ten this state of lassitude and torpor arises from a morbid stomach. Indigestion destroys the energy of the mind and body. When the waste of nature is not supplied by a due regular assimilation of the food, every organ is starved, every function interrupted.

Now, what does common sense suggest under these circumstances of debility? The system needs rousing and strengthening, not merely for an hour or two, to sink afterward into a more pitiable condition than ever (as it assuredly would do if an ordinary alcoholic stimulant were resorted to), but radically and permanently.

How is this desirable object to be accomplished? The answer to this question, founded on the unvarying experience of a quarter of a century, and the opinions of the veteran and regular assessor of physical strength and energy, the great organ upon which all the other organs depend for their nurture and support.

By the time that a dozen doses of the great vegetable tonic and invigorant have been taken, the feeble frame of the debilitated begins to feel its benign influence. Appetite will be created, and with appetite the capacity to digest what it craves. Forcibly until the cure is completed, the head will be clear, the nerves and brain, flows through the channels of circulation, instead of the watery pabulum with which they have heretofore been imperfectly nourished.

THE VILLAGE CURSERY.—It should not look like a barn or a storehouse. It should be a building, the very sight of which would cause devout feelings in the breast. A well-carved corner should point to heaven; massive panelled doors should impress the visitor with solemnity of the place into which he is entering; stained glass should throw a mystic light across the aisles; pulpit, altar, ceiling and galleries should be ornamented with figurative moldings, and the ornaments that support the vaulted roof should be carved in the shape of angels and the balustrade that rail them in, should be of classic patterns. Any congregation wishing such a church should send their orders for finishing material to Mr. F. P. TOLSON, importer of French stained glass, and manufacturer of and dealer in Doors, Sashes, Blinds, &c., No. 25 Hays street, Charleston, S. C.
