President McCay says:

President McCay says:

"My first feeling after reading the abusive and inflammatory personal attack on me in your paper this morning was to reply to its charges, and to attack the enemies "to have been directing their fierce fire against me. On consultation with some wise friends of the College, I have decided differently. And it is the object of this card simply to announce my firm determination not to be drawn, by any amount of misrepresentation or calumny, into any defence in the public prints of my conduct or qualifications for my present office. The appeal to public opinion through the columns of a newspaper is often the only remedy that is left to the slandered, but in my case there is another tribunal to which I can apply. The high character of our Board of Trustees will secure to their de ission, whatever it may be, the full measure of public confidence. To that tribunal I make my appeal. Nature demands a different course, but the interests of the College are paramount to my own. However much I may suffer by the injustice done me, I can afford to await the decision of our Trustees, before whom it shall be my care to bring all matters connected with my brief but inauspicious administration. My accusers will be there to speak and to vote and my case will be felly heard. administration. My accusers will be there to speak and to vote, and my ease will be fully heard.

"Conscious of my own innocence of every un-worthy accusation, confident in the ability that God has given me to serve the cause of science and education, trusting to the sense of justice and fair play which is instinct in every American heart, knowing my own loyalty to the South and to the South Carolina College, demaining the fullest and most "searching investigation of my whole conduct and qualifications" by our Trustees, I defy the storm which prejudice and calumny have raised against me, and await the verdict of our Board with cale, and perfect reliance that right and justice will triumph."

THE NEW DOME. - The following notice in the Baltimore Sun is another evidence of the great advantage of iron, for beauty and durability, and elaborate finish, in Luildinga:

"Considerable attention has been attracted to the iren columns recently received at Washington for the new dome of the Capitol, from the foundry of Pool and Hunt. They are nearly 27 feet in length, and three in dameter—fluted, well finish-ed; and the weight of each is near ten thousand sounds. All the bearings of these columns are to ribe turned, and are now in progress in the works reof the Capitol, under the direction of Mr. Chamerpion. Those most competent to judge in such materials give assurances that the arrangements are of in character to secure the most perfect accuracy in , every part. The orniments on the capitals of tathese columns are relieved in iron better than they sean be in some, and when gilded present a splen-alid finish."

STATE OF FEELING IN RUSSIA .- We take the following trem the Journal of Commerce:

"We are in the receipt of private intelligence of tom S'. Petersiang, of a reliable character, dated searly last month, schich speaks in decided terms of The surprise which was occasioned in that city when it became known that the Austrian propositions had been accepted by the Car as a basis for present agreement at first one with no favor in any class of society except the more actile, who amounted at the prospect of a revival of trade; but gradually the nobility have became recommend as the election of the Emigieror, and poses is new expected and acquiesced

"The being of herred which was roused against the English at the opening of the war is still vio-lent. Friendship had too long existed between the Russian and the disglish courts to be severed with impurity. The hosefulpoof France will soon be dorgotten, but many Ruminess who are high in rank side not besitate to say Mingland me never can forgive. Henceforward they will free in hours of ta-

THE CONVENTION .- We have been pleased to meet with accounts of the proceedings at the meetings held in many districts, with a view to a representation on the part of South Carolina in the Cincinnati Convention. When a movement must be brought in contact with a carefully cherished prejudice, and stirring appeals for the preservation of what is termed "time-honored policy," it is not to be expected that its success could be secured without opposition. Indeed, we have been surprised to note a perfect calm in quarters where one might look for a storm; and in all sections an appearance of indifference which at least betokened the absence of hostility. Thus far, nearly all the up-country districts have appointed delegations; several postponed the meeting until the first Monday in April. - Yorkville Enquirer.

A THIRD CONTESTANT .- It now seems that the the Kansas seat is triangular-General contest for the Kansas seat is triangular—General Whitfield claiming it by virtue of his certificate as the duly elected delegate; Governor Reeder seeking to oust him by virtue of the illegal election of the Topska free State party; and Mr. Delehay insisting that Kansas is a sovereign State, and that he it its chosen representative. Upon the same ground that Mr. Delehay claims to be the Kansas repres nistive in the House we take it for granted that some two of the Topeka champions will soon claim to be recognised as entitled to scats in the Senate.

It will not do to reject Mr. Delekay's proton-sions as too absurd for consideration whilst those of Governor Reeder are entertained. They are fully as well founded as are those of Governor Reeder—They are both in contravention of the laws of Kansas and of Congress.—Washington

A Vicena letter to the Lendon Times says: "The evident desire of the Washington Govern-ment to pick a guarrel with England excites attention here, and people in office are strongly inclined to suspect the President of endeavoring "10 kill two birds with one stone. Kunsas Affairs.

ST Louis, March 12.—The Republican's correspondent telegraphs that the Kansas Legislature met and organized at Topeka on the 4th listant. Governor Robinson in his message, which, is mostly devoted to a review of the history of Kansas, says it is understood that the U. S. deptry marshal was privately instructed to arrest members of the legislature and the State officers for treason. If so, no resistance would be officed—hot a frager would be raised against the federal government's authority until there was no hope but in revolution. He calls for military organization against the scalping knife on the west and revolution on the east.

The Independence correspondent telegraphs that the Free Legislature adjourned to Lawrence and was still in session there on Saturday. Gov. Shannon had gone there to ascertain what was being done, and violence was apprehended. There is some little excitement on the border, and 100 Sharpe' rifles and two pieces of cannon had been intercepted at Lexington, and were being held by the citizens.

Later From Mexico.

New ORLEANS, March 12, 1856 .- The steam ship Texas has arrived, with dates from Vera Cruz to the 8th inst. Little change has occurred in Mexican affairs. Tamirez still held possession of Paebla, and $,000 government troops were expect-el to besiege it. In other quarters, the evolution has been quieted. A Constituent Congress has been formed, with Gen. Computert as Presiden: or une year.

POTATOES-BUTT ENDS DE. SEED ENDS --- din Brown, of Long Island, communicates the following to the Granite Farmer: "Several years ago I made some experiments to satisfy myself concerning the disputed point as to which is the best portion of a potato to plant in order to obtain the lar gest and best yield. The exact result has been lost, and as I have often since heard and read assertions directly contrary to the conclusions which I then deduced, I resolved to repeat the experiments. Lat spring I planted four rows of equal length, side by side, with two varieties of potatoes. In one row I planted none but the seed ends, so called, including about one third of the polatoes, and in the next row I planted the butt ends of the same potatoes. I had one row of seed ends and one row of butt ends of a variety called Peach Blows. The yield of these four rows was as fol-much larger than those from the seed ends, and appeared to be from a week to ten days earlier. This result corresponds with that of my former ex-periment. Had the whole field been planted in butt ends, the yield would have been more than 500 bushels to the nere. I also planted two rows next to the above, in one of which I put only large potatoes, half a tuber in each hill, cut lengthwise so as to divide the eyes equally, and in the other row I dropped only small potators, one in each hill. From the former I dag 181 pounds, and from the latter 134 pounds. I should add that the average yield of the field was about 180 pounds to the row; and that large (not the very largest) potato s were used for seed cut lengthwise with a half of a taber in each hill."

The Andrid .- A new anx ety has taken posses sion of the public mind in reference to the propeller Arctio, Com. Bartstein, which was sent in search of the Pacific. Her instructions were to run pretty far to the North after leaving Halifax, and the ten is that in executing orders she has en-countered similar perils to those which are supposed to have environed the Pacific. The Arctic has not been heard from since she sailed from Halifax. It is suggested that the Arctic may have discovered the Pacific, but so far has been unable to approach her.
