We closed our last number by simply stating lose whose names were embraced in the commiswion of Gov. Moultrie as County Judges, and who were subsequently elected. According to the nise then made, we introduce the certificate of their formal installation into office: -

"I do hereby certify, that Baylis Earle, John Thomas, sr, Henry White, John Ford, William Wood, Henry Machan Wood, appointed justices to sit in the County Court of Spartanburg, this day took the oath prescribed before me, and therethen qualified to enter upon the execution of their respective offices. Hener Penbleton, Judge."

Judge Pendleton, whose name is ap, ended to the above certificate, died in the year 1788. He was a warm advocate of County Courts, but died before a report could be made to the Legislature, of which he was a member. Then the offices of Judge and Legislator were not regarded as incompatible, and sometimes united in the same person.

The following certificate was given by Judge Acdanus Burke, that James Jordan took the necessary pre-requisite oaths. "I do hereby certify that James Jordan, Esquire one of the justices for the Courts of Spartanburg. able to law, before me. AEDANUS BURKE, Judge."

Judge Burke was a man of great attainments, full of that pure humor and pungent wit for which the Irish have ever been distinguished. The following veritable history of an extra-judicial procedure, on the part of Col. Wm. Butler, and his confederates, illustrates the character of the times and of the judge: At the close of the Revolution, and whilst the direct court of law was sitting at ambridge, for the district of "Ninety Six," there was a fellow by the name of Loveless, brought before the court on a charge of horse-stealing. He had been a moted tory and plunderer during the Revolution, and was one of a murderous band which had killed General Butler's father and uncles. On this trial it was discovered that the testimony was insufficient it was discovered that the testimony was insufficient to establish his guilt, and the jury were compelled as a matter of course to bring a verdiet of guilty." But no sooner was the verdict pro-nounced than the crowd determined that Loveless dad other and higher offences to atone for than that of taking his neighbor's horse, and that although he had escaped punishment in the one case he should not be so fortunate in the other The blood of the Butlers, and other whigs who had Geen murdered by this lawless ruffian, cried out for revenge; and their descendants determined it should be had in a very summary way. With a file of be had in a very summary way. With a file of men General Butler went into the court house, and in the presence of judge and jury seized the prisoner before he could be released from the bar, carried him out into the court-yard, and there hung him on a tree which grew in front of the con touse. The spectators, composing an immense erowd, did not attempt to interfere. The presiding Judge was the Hon. Ælanus Burke, a man high telenis and great legal acquirements, and afterwards Senator in Congress from South Carelina. Judge Burke was an Irishnam by both and educated in Europe. He came to South Carolina during the Revolution, as an amateur of war and the friend of liberty. He was very little acquaintthe friend of liberty. He was very little acquainted with the manners and customs of the p-ople in the "apper country." Though a bold and courageons, man, he was not a little startfed and shocked at seeing a prisoner who had been pronounced in nocent by the verdet of a jury carried out of court in defiance of the Judge and Law, and interest in defiance of the Judge and Law, and interest in the startfel in the s mediately executed in contempt of the trial through which he had just passed. [Judge Burke was a man of unbounded humor, and loved a good joke most dearly. He once ordered a jury to acquit a prisoner of a charge of horse-stealing, because i appeared from the testimony that he was intoxi-cuted with carn whiskey when he stole the horse "I know," said his Henor to the Jury, "that this vile stuff you call corn whiskey gives a mina procile staff you call corn whiskey gives a man a pro-pensity to steal. I once got drunk on it myself, and came very near taking without late a fine horse. "! But although his honor loved a jest, the nation of hanging a man on a verdiet of "not guilty" was pressing the figure a little too far for his leach humor. He was unable, however, to in-terpose his judicial authority. The wife of L ve-less, with stricts, tears, and dishevelled hair, rush-ed into the cort longer and implored the Judges.

separate, distinct, political community, was held at Nicholis' Mills, now known as the place whereon Mr. David Anderson resides. That locality is well authenticated as the place by Mr. Reid in his interesting articles, and of its correctness I cannot entertain a doubt, as the records demonstrate that a road was opened running by Nicholls' Mills, on North Tyger, and the narrow passage, which last name has been the distinguishing name for that road that passes through the plantation of our former Sanator, Mr. John Crawford, by Mr. Vandike, and the Nazareth Church. The County Court met here but the single time, and that was on the 3d Monday of June, 1785. Those emelect a Sheriff; the first clerk, who had been previously appointed, was John Thomas, sr. To the sheriffalty Mr. William Young was chosen by the votes of the County Judges. The next officer

John Thomas, sr., and reading the commission of their first Sheriff, William Young, they proceeded to grant applications for license to retail spiritous liquors, to keep houses of entertainment, and to the appointment of constables, among other business of a civil character. The first persons chosen constables were Richard Nolly, Hancock Smith, Thomas until fell information should be received, and even-Gordon, Henry Wolf, and Robert Harner. In these sittings of Court, and among the first business of importance transacted, was the passing of the following unique and sensible order:

We closed our last number by simply stating

We are induced to insert the foregoing rates of hotel-keeping from considerations of its intrinsic value as a judicial paper, as well as from its singularity and the extreme precautionary spirit that pervades it. Ready to grant applications for the specific purposes involved in the order recorded. watchful of the public interest in houses of the kind contemplated by the application, these custodians of public justice and rights were unwilling to submit their charges, or intrust the whole question to the discretion of the inn-keeper, and hence assumed jurisdiction over his side-board and table. Were they not right? Fixing the price was tantamount to regulating the quantity of the potation. It was a good law from sensible practical men. In these days of hotel liberty such an interference would be regarded as a restriction upon personal liberty-a breach of implied confidence in the integrity and probity of the master of tavera ceremo nials. Would not, I wonder, our landlords of the present day feel under a more rigid restraint uuder such a judicial decree than from the restrictive action of our municipal authorities? To refuse licenses is not more objectionable than to prescribe the charges I am sure. From the acts of our primary courts, we learn that the subject of charges, whether for solids, I quids, or bedding, are matters worthy of the careful attention of courts. From such precedents, our Legislature, in its late act of definitions as to what shall constitute a hotel, gathered some of its important provisions. Why should we regard it then as an infringement upon our personal rights, jura personarum, when our fathers' examplars, worthy of our imitation, assumed to say that we might drink, but should not pay unreasonably for it. I guess that no one would receive detriment if such a law were now in force, as the tapster would not let a fellow take a wlass whose single drink from long habit would not fall much short of a piat at a swallow. I have heard a witty professional of the tumbler and decanter saying, to one who had capacity for chambering a large quantity at a single golph, that they charged, when asked the price, half the ordinary rates where they wholesaled their liquors. Such an exhibition be fore the landlord once would serve as a memorial to guard him against similar impositions for the future when his charges were fixed.

The next court was held at the plantation of John Wood, on the third Monday in March, 1786. and continued to meet there at quarterly periods to March, 1787, when it was removed to the plantation of Thomas Williamson again.

But as all vegetables are invariably planted too thick, there may yet be a stand got by judicious transplanting. All the cabbage tribe are easily transplanted; so is corn, okra, peppers, ternatoes, egg plants, lettuce; and even beans, melons, and caemmbers, may be removed, if done with care. The next court thereafter was held at Thomas Wallamson's plantation. It will be remembered that I stated in my first article that the lands on which our village is now located were owned by him. Here then on this spot, included within our corporate limits, resided the said Williamson, and here the first administration of the first draws should be planted on an agree of the same loss. DEAR SIR: I send you this to certify to you that your exeract of Yellow-Dock and Sarseperilla has performed one of the most wonderful edges on me that has ever been effected on man. me that has ever been effected on man.

I have been afflicted for torty years with eruptions on my legs and feet; in 1848 they got so had that I had ongo on crutches, and in 1849 I had one leg computated above the knee. In about nine months after my other leg broke out in large eatng and running sores from my knee to my foot, and discharged a great deal of off-usive matter.
My groun also broke out in large biles, which discharged much off-usive matter, and at the same ince my left hand broke out in large running sores tearly to my elbow.
The misery that I have suffered for the last two years I cannot describe to yor. I was in such ageny that I never rested day or night.

In Oct ber last my sor brought me one of your bottle wrappers; I read it, and found record of some wonderful cures performed by your "Extract of Yellow Dock and Sarsaparilla," I sent and got two bottles of it, and commenced taking it. In two weeks, to my great association sent and got two fearne casy, and I could sleep all night, a Leng thad not done for two years. When I had taken six bottles, my sores had nearly all health. six bottles, my sores had marly all bealed. My so es got well as if by enchantment. I have new used in all eight bottles of your "Extract of Yellow Dock and Sarsaparilla," and I now consider

CATHARTIC PILLS

OPERATE by their powerful influence on the internal viscera to purify the blood and stimulate it into healthy action. They remove the obstructions of the stomach, bowels, liver, and other iste it into healthy action. They remove the obstructions of the stomach, bowels, liver, and other organs of the body, and, by restoring their irregular action to health, correct, wherever they exist, such derangements as are the first causes of disease. An extensive trial of their virtues, by Professors, Physicians, and Patients, has shown cures of dangerous diseases almost beyond belief, were they not substantiated by persons of such exaited position and character as to forbid the suspicion of untruth. Their certificates are published in my American Almanac, which the Agents below named are pleased to furnish free to all inquiring.

Annexed we give Directions for their use in the complaints which they have been found to cure. For Costiveness.—Take one or two Pills, or such quantity as to gently move the bowels. Costiveness is frequently the aggravating cause of PILES, and the cure of one complaint is the cure of both. No person can feel well while under a costive habit of body. Hence it should be, as it can be, promptly relieved.

For Dyspersia, which is sometimes the cause of Costiveness, and always uncomfortable, take mild doses—from one to four—to stimulate the stomach and liver into healthy action. They will do it, and the hearthurn, bodyburn, and somburn of dyspepsia will rapidly disappear. When it has gone, don't forget what pured you.

For a Forl Sygmach, or Morbid Inaction of the Bowels, which produces general depression of the spirits and bad health, take from four to eight Pills.

For a Fort. Stomach, or Morbid Inaction of the Bonels, which produces general depression of the spirits and bad health, take from four to eight Pills at first, and smaller doses afterwards, until activity and strength is restored to the system.

For Nervousness, Sick Headacher, Nausra, Pain in the Stomach, Buck, or Side, take from four to eight pills on going to bed. If they do not operate sufficiently, take more the next day until they do. These complaints will be swept out from the system. Don't wear these and their kindred disorders because your stomach is foul.

For Scropula, Erystphas, and all Diseases of the Skin, take the Pills freely and frequently, to keep the bowels open. The eruntions will generally soon begin to diminish and disappear. Many dreadful ulcers and sores have been healed up by the purging and purfying effect of these Pills, and some disgusting diseases which seemed to saturate. some disgusting diseases which seemed to saturates the whole system have completely yielded to their the whole system have completely yielded to their influence, leaving the sufferer in perfect health. Patients! your duty to society ferbids that your should parade yourself around the world towered with pimples, blotches, ulcors, sores, and all brany of the unclean diseases of the skin, because your-system wants cleansing.

To Punity the Ercon, they are the best medi-they do as much good in preventing sickness as by the remarkable curs; which they are in lang every where.

LIVER COMPLAINE, JAUNDON, and all Billions, Affections, arise the some demangement—either torpidity, congestion, or obstructions of the laver. Torpidity and congestion vibrate the bile and render, it unfit for digestion. This is disastrous to the health, and the constitution is frequently undermined by no other came. Indigestion is the symptom. Obstruction of the duet which cupties the bile into the storcach causes the bile to overflow into the blood. This produces Jaundies, with a long and dangerons train of evils. Continenses, coalternately costiveness and diarrhaea, prevals. Feverish symptoms, languer, low spirits, weariness, restlessness, and mehancholy, with sometimes inability to sleep, and sometimes great drowsiness is sometimes there is severe pain in the side; the skim and the white of the eyes become a greenish yellow; the stomach acid; the bowels sore to the touch; the whole system irritable, with a tendency to fever, which may turn to bilious fever, bilious coile, bilious diarrhama, dysentery, &c. A medium dose of three or four Fills taken at night, followed by two or three in the morning, and repeated a few days, will remove the cause of all these troubles. It is wicked to suffer such pains when you can care them for 25 cents.

Rheumattem, Goor, and all Inflammatory forces, are rapidly cured by the purifying effects of these Pills upon the blood and the stimulus which, they afford to the vital principal of Life. For these and all kindred complaints they should be taken in mild doses, to more be bowels gently, but freely.

As a Dysean Pill, this is both agreeable and nescal. No Pill can be made more pleasant to take, and certainly none has been made more effectual to the purpose for which a dinner pill is employed.
