QUITE COMFORTABLE! WE were a short time since taken with a fit of the troubles, in consequence of the belligerent attitude of the English Government. The admiralty having given orders for shipping fleet to sea, we were obliged to leave our country, and to prepare for the American coast, for the purpose of treating their lying, sluffing Ministers with more respect. But the second sober thought showed the sense of affairs, and they concluded, like a celebrated king of Thiers, "King Alfred, with ten thousand men, Marched up the hill and down again." And thus they have quietly crawled out of the matter. They are willing now to pay a little more for our Cotton and Supply Broker than for their goods at a very small profit. So that we are able to furnish our customers, as usual, with a large variety of Fancy and Staple Dry Goods, Jewellery, Hardware, Groceries, Medicines, &c., which we feel quite comfortable.
