

GUBERNOR READER ON KANSAS AFFAIRS.

The committee which visited Kansas under the appointment of Congress has proceeded inadequate to the full purpose it was intended to be attained.

Among the testimony adduced, however, by the Kansas committee, are letters written by Gov. Reader to his political friends...

"Nor do I see how you can raise, in the Supreme Court, any point as to the validity of the laws, except the one of their removal to the mission.

"As to putting a set of laws in operation in opposition to the territorial government, my opinion is confirmed instead of being shaken so far, and will be in the future.

"But I want you to understand, most distinctly, that I do not talk thus to the public nor to my enemies.

In the first of the preceding extracts there is an indirect suggestion to pack a jury somewhere.

"I have not the least objection to the whole movement of the free State party, in opposition to the territorial government, has been lawless, and consequently insurrectionary.

"Several lots were sold by the sheriff, but they afford no proper idea of the value of town property adapted to business purposes."

Range of Thermometer at Fisher & Heinrich's Drug Store. Table with columns for date and temperature.

CIRCULARS. We have been and are still engaged in sending bills to our subscribers and advertisers, to which we invite the proper response.

Our Thanks. Are returned to Mr. A. Tulliver for a copy of the Carolina Times of Tuesday—two days later than brought by mail.

GOVERNOR ADAMS. We understand that Gov. Adams and family are now residing in the beautiful retreats of Glen Springs.

RAILROAD MEETING. In another place may be found a paragraph alluding to the engineer's report of a survey of the French Broad Railroad.

PRIZE STORY. The Columbia Register has commenced the publication of its Prize Stories. The first is entitled "Old Oak; a Story of Water, Fire, and Blinstone," by O. B. MAYNARD, M. D., of Newberry.

Weather and Crops. Portions of our district west and north of town were visited with fine rains on Saturday and Sunday last.

More Interrogatories. Twelve students of Hebrew Academy have sent us a series of interrogatories to the Candidates for the Legislature.

FRENCH BROAD RAILROAD. We find the report of the Engineer of the French Broad Railroad in the Asheville Spectator of last week.

STAY AT HOME—The Mobile Register, in an article full of pious and cogent reasons for the conclusion, urges Southerners to stay at home during the health seeking seasons, and close the appeal as follows:

BROOKS AND DURLINGAME.

Our readers already know that Mr. Brooks declined to follow Mr. Burlingame to the Clifton House, Canada, to "negotiate," &c.

Mr. Brooks' note reached Burlingame on the afternoon of the 21st July, by the hands of Gen. Lane.

Mr. Brooks' note reached Burlingame on the afternoon of the 21st July, by the hands of Gen. Lane. At 8 o'clock the latter placed his answer, to negotiate at the Clifton House, Canada.

Mr. Campbell had understood that the Senate would strike out the amendments, and therefore he would vote for them.

Mr. Campbell's reply is that he would not have been general to that bill, which provided pay for members.

Mr. Campbell's reply is that he would not have been general to that bill, which provided pay for members. He wished to cut off from the army, which the President was using to overthrow the Constitution.

Mr. Campbell's reply is that he would not have been general to that bill, which provided pay for members. He wished to cut off from the army, which the President was using to overthrow the Constitution.

Mr. Campbell's reply is that he would not have been general to that bill, which provided pay for members. He wished to cut off from the army, which the President was using to overthrow the Constitution.

Mr. Campbell's reply is that he would not have been general to that bill, which provided pay for members. He wished to cut off from the army, which the President was using to overthrow the Constitution.

THE ARMY IN KANSAS.

In the House of Representatives at Washington, on the 24th ult., the army appropriation bill being under consideration in Committee of the Whole.

"That Congress hereby disapprove of the code of alleged laws promulgated, claiming to have been passed by the territorial legislature of Kansas, and disapprove of the manner in which the said alleged laws have been enforced by the authorities of the territory, expressly declaring that until such alleged laws shall be confirmed by the Senate and the House of Representatives as having been enacted in accordance with the organic law, by the people of Kansas, no part of the military forces of the United States shall be employed in their enforcement, nor shall any citizen of Kansas be required to act as the posse comitatus of any officers acting as marshal or sheriff of said territory."

An excited debate ensued, when Mr. Sherman moved further to amend by declaring the laws of Kansas null and void. The amendment to the amendment was adopted—yeas 61, nays 56.

On the 29th the bill was reported from Committee to the House, when the amendments were voted on, and adopted—yeas 55, nays 89. Mr. Sherman's—yeas 91, nays 86.

A debate followed on amendment, when the purpose was avowed by the Black stop government supplies unless things worked to their satisfaction.

Mr. Campbell had understood that the Senate would strike out the amendments, and therefore he would vote for them. If they wished to affect Kansas, let measures of a direct character be proposed.

Mr. Campbell's reply is that he would not have been general to that bill, which provided pay for members. He wished to cut off from the army, which the President was using to overthrow the Constitution.

Mr. Campbell's reply is that he would not have been general to that bill, which provided pay for members. He wished to cut off from the army, which the President was using to overthrow the Constitution.

Mr. Campbell's reply is that he would not have been general to that bill, which provided pay for members. He wished to cut off from the army, which the President was using to overthrow the Constitution.

FROM KANSAS.

The following letter has been handed to us for publication, and will be read with interest.

"I have just returned from a visit to the State Legislature, and I take the present opportunity to drop you a line. We arrived here last Monday week, without accident, and I have been looking around ever since to see something to write about that might interest or amuse you, but can find nothing.

We passed through a great many towns, and saw multitudes of people, but to give a description of all the towns, people, &c., would take a quire of paper; so I shall not attempt such a thing.

We are now in Leavenworth, a new city about three miles below "Fort Leavenworth," which you can find by reference to the map. This is quite a pretty place to us here. It is about a mile square, and nearly half its inhabitants are abolitionists, and are the most dastardly towards you ever saw.

We struck a breeze of fun the other day. About fifteen to eighteen yankees came up to this city. We suffered them to land, but took them and searched their baggage, and found twenty-two "Sharp's Rifles" Ward Beecher's Bibles with powder, lead, caps, &c.—which we took from them, and told the "boys" they might take a view of "the Promised Land" but could never enjoy it.

We then had a drawing for the guns that we had taken. I drew one of Sharp's Rifles; our company drew in all 8 Rifles and Carbines.

We were in a drawing for the guns that we had taken. I drew one of Sharp's Rifles; our company drew in all 8 Rifles and Carbines.

We were in a drawing for the guns that we had taken. I drew one of Sharp's Rifles; our company drew in all 8 Rifles and Carbines.

We were in a drawing for the guns that we had taken. I drew one of Sharp's Rifles; our company drew in all 8 Rifles and Carbines.

TO 'NAVY TOWERS.'

FELLOW CITIZENS: As one of the Candidates before the people for election to represent them in the State Legislature, I frankly and fully recognize your right to know and ascertain the views and sentiments of those who ask your suffrages on all leading measures, matters, or questions of general State policy.

"Are you in favor of increasing the jurisdiction of Magistrates?"

"Are you in favor of continuing the present large annual appropriations to the South Carolina College?"

"Are you in favor of increasing the jurisdiction of Magistrates?"

"Are you in favor of continuing the present large annual appropriations to the South Carolina College?"

"Are you in favor of increasing the jurisdiction of Magistrates?"

"Are you in favor of continuing the present large annual appropriations to the South Carolina College?"

"Are you in favor of increasing the jurisdiction of Magistrates?"

"Are you in favor of continuing the present large annual appropriations to the South Carolina College?"

GENERAL FACTS.

Mr. Brown and Mr. McFarlan, brothers-in-law, had a fight in Darlington District, on the 25th ult., which ended in the shooting of the latter.

Dr. Robert Hartrie, of Marion, declines a reelection to the State Senate.

Col. John Cunningham, of the News, and Mr. J. L. Hatcher, of the Standard, Charleston, exchanged hostile shafts, without injury to either, on the 19th ultimo. Explanations adjusted the difficulty.

Thomas J. Evie, of Yorkville, announces the appearance of a new paper at that village, about the 15th instant, called the York District Chronicle. Success attends the enterprise.

Some of the Massachusetts papers were severe on Burlingame because he did not wish to fight. Now they denounce his cowardice in accepting a challenge, as violating New England conceivance.

The Letter Day Raisers of Salt Lake are suffering from famine. Provisions are sought at the distance of sixty miles, and animals dead from disease were greedily eaten.

The Temperance Standard (says the Carolina Times) is still in a state of suspension. Arrangements are in progress to resume it again in a few days.

A correspondent of the Charleston Mercury makes a strong appeal to W. Gilmore Simms, D. D., to write, and to the State to patronize, a magazine and true history of South Carolina.

The Standard says the healthfulness of Charleston is very gratifying, notwithstanding the mercury gets up to 94 and 95, with the heat most oppressive.