Boyce's Letter.

The letter of this Representative from the State has produced a popular clamor of no ordinary significance. We will not atlemptioanalyzed it. Variousefforts have been made to expose its fallacies and to destroy its effect by showing the untenability of his grounds, the inexpediency of his suggestions, and the unfitness and inion, long ago formed, of the ability, sagaci ty, and statesmanship of this distinguished representative and hence are very reluctant to attain the conclusion, that as a production, it is far short of that lofty +tand ard, by which his former contributions to the political history of the country is to be judged. 'That it possess weight, both phi losophical and logical, is unquestionably true, and therefore entitled te a fair an unimpassioned criticism. We are astonished, however, that those who have assumed the leadership in this matter have so far ignored the argument while they have conbated the effect. We cannot say that Mr. Boyce advocates reconstruction, that we regard as a physical and moral impossibility. To him we can ascribe no such impropriety. It is true, however, that his views like leaven, are diffusing themselves imperceptibility through the popular mind and producing such results as the article was not intended to evoke. By many it is regarded as an absolute un conditional overture of peace inplying a surrender of principle and ignoring all ct- joined his mother and sister in Spartan- total cessation of emigration from Ireland unfortunate. No such deduction can be made from any thing that we remember. He is for peace upon the principles of States Rights-for peace in a mode unconstitutional and therefore not to be tolerated. Let us not forget the past services of this able reprensentative, however, and for a single error consign him to political oblivion. Towards him we are disposed to exorcise charity, and therefore await the drvelopments of those sitting in judgment upon his extraordinary letter
