Montague's Maliza,

An Inf an Renedy For the Touth Ache. The established reputation and constantly inpainfind preservative of the teeth, has induced the Propercie: to offer it to the American public. Arrangements have been made to supply agents in all the principal cities and towns in the United States, so as to place it within the reach of those suffering and likely to suffer with this most harassing of all Aches, TOOTH ACHE.

Aches, TOOTHACHE.

THE CAUSE OF DECAY IN THETH is the depositing of small particles of masticated food (either animal or vegetable) in the indentations of the teeth, or between them, which there remain until decay of this lood takes place, the acidity of which decomposes the tooth. The great difficulty of all that have written treathers. ten treatises on the teeth, has been, to recommend a liquid, that would mixited up with this fetid matter, so as to weaken it to such a degree, as to prevent its affecting the feeth.

This discovery (purely accidental) has not only been brought to light, by the use of which the deay may be afrested -but its application to an aching tooth (when the perve can be reached) affords almos instantaneous relief. And if its use is continued until the bottle is consumed, none need apprehend pain from the same tooth. It may be remarked, that the teeth are a subject to ache, as any other bone of the system, and in the same way. But for toothache, proper, a remedy is now offered to the public, that has become the wonder, as well as the admiration of every one that has become acquainted with its reputation. Since a remedy has been discovered for a discase so general and so exeruciating as the tooth-ache, the preprietor has been more than ever struck with the grand and benevolent provisions made for man in all his afflictions, and is fully satisfied, that the earth is supplied with a remedy at hand for every disease, where the cause may be

A few extracts of letters are published, in place of the numerous certificates, that might be; as they occupy less space, are less expensive, and inspire the ADBEVICLE, S. C., March 21.

Dear Sir-I wish you to ship two gross, or more if von can spare it, of your balm. You may expect me to make a strong pull on you in a short time, for as its reputation increases. I shall spare no pains in its management. If you should feel disposed to sell the right of this state, and all south of this place, inform me your terms. I wish you, at any rate to give me the refusal, whenever you feel disposed to make that kind of a trade. I remain yours, E.R, CALHOUN.

I plage I a tooth for a lady in Petersburg, which, from its very sensitive condition, I was unable to shape the cavity so as to retain the plug; and after two or three trials, I recommended the use of Montague's Balm, which so deadened the surface of the cavity as to enable me to shape it perfectly, and plug the tooth permanently.

S. M. SHEAPHERD, Surgeon Dentist.
Petersburg, 3d, Jan., 1836.

We invite the attention of all persons afflicted with that most exeruciating complaint, the tooth-ache, to the advertisment of Mr. Montague, published (in to day's paper.) We have a guarantee in the high standing and respectability of Mr. Montague, (with whom we are acquainted.) that his medicine is not one of those thousand empiricisms which are constantly palmed upon the credulity of the public. In addition to the many testimonials which he has furnished of its efficacy, we will state a fact which comes under our own knowledge. A lady of this village had been suffering for several weeks with tooth-ache, and was immediately and permanently relieved by the application of the balm - Boydton Va Papositor.

MATTHEWS COURT HOUSE, May 29th, 1836. To H. B. MONTAGUE:

Diar Su-while we were in Norfolk on our return from Petersburg we saw a man at the Union Hotel (the place that we put up at) who had the tooth ache. adly, and could get no relief; we recommend ed your Balm, and showed, or rather went with him to the place where it could be obtaine! He bought a bottle and tried it, and in less than five minutes he was relieved. He said he had tried every thing he future, all letters on business of the Institute. could think of at different times, but this was the first thing he ever met with that ever re leved him. He wid he would recommend it to every body, and was willing to give his certificate as to the efficacy

With respect, yours &c. THOMAS S. LEW.S. CHARLES H. EDWARDS. Huntington, near Cabin Point. 21th March.

II. B. MONTAGUE, DEAR SIR .- I bought a bottle of your Balm from Messrs in Petersburg in February, chiefly because I had a servant who had suffered most exeruciatingly for some months. We had tried all the remedies which were in our reach; an attempt was made to extract the tooth, but it broke off. I caused the Balm to be used after warming it in a cup thi was repeated with a second spoonful, when she was entirely relieved. The next night she came again for more, saying that a tooth on the other side ached and also requested some for her husband, whom, she said, had been suffering with the same sease for some weeks. I cheerfully gave it, and the next day on inquiry found that both had been relieved. One of my neighbors of high respectabili-ty sent to me for some for his wife. I have this day seen him, and he assures me that it afforded immediate relief, and there has been no return; before, she suffered almost constantly, and could not bear to let cold water touch the tooth, and for two nights previous to the application she had not been able to sleep scarcely at all. Now she has no inconvenience from cold water or any thing else that comes in contact with the tooth. The night before last he used some with one of his men with the same success, and says if he could have had this remedy fifteen years ago, and known its efficacy, he would willingly have given a hundred dollars for it. Thave written in haste, giving a plain statement of facts.

Yours respectfully, WM. E. R. RUFFIN. ALBEMARLE, April, 1836. Dear Sir .- Several persons with diseased guins, or scurvy, have used the Balm, and are so much delighted with it, that we are charged to keep a sup ply. The ladies are using it with the tooth brush, and say that it is the best thing for the teeth and gums they have ever used. Allow us to congratulate you and the public, at the discovery and use of the only real remedy (except drawing) for toothache, that has yet been discovered.

Respectfully yours, R. R. & T. T. G.

Persons taking medicine, with a view to salivation should, by all means, use at least a bottle of the Balm with the tooth-brush, (applying it three or four times a day) as an astringent, in order to have the gums in a healthy state, for the protection of the teeth. After mercurial action, it should be used free-ly, to cause the gams to adhere at once to the teeth. to guard against looseness, and falling out. Indeed it is the best wash for the mouth, during salivation, that can be used. If too strong at first, add a small portion of water.

It is with peculiar pleasure that the proprietor hears of the good already done, while he contem-plates the relief yet to be afforded by this widely spreading remedy. He regrets, however, that he has not been able to supply the demand. The preparations, though large, were not based on its sudden and unexampled popularity. The demand has surpassed all calculation; but arrangements are now making, which will enable all applicants to get a supply as it is ordered.

When applied according to directions given on the bottle, it has never failed to afford immediate and permanent relief. It also arrests the decay in defective teeth, and relieves that soreness which so frequently renders a strong tooth useless. The application and remedy are simple, innocent and no. unpleasant, and the large number of persons in different sections of the country, that have already experienced such delightful and salutary effects from the use of the Baim, are ready to bear, (for the public good,) their testimony, to its unrivaled qualities. It is an Indian remedy obtained singularly and unexpectedly, and may be regarded by the civilized world, as the most valuable discovery of the Red Man of the Woods.—PRICE ONE DOLLAR
