ests of his party.

SATURDAY, JUNE 22.

The Fourth of July will be celebrated, we understand, by the Rifle Company and the two beat Companies of this town, in conjunction, by a parade, barbecue, &c. "The Columbia Lyceum" are also to celebrate the day by a public dinner.

The Planter's Hotel, in Augusta, with the outbuildings, stables, &c. occupying an entire square, was consumed by fire on Tuesday night last.

We have received this week two or three Congressional nominations, which we decline to publish, for reasons which must be obvious to those who sent them.

A meeting of the Bar of Charleston was held on Saturday last, the day of the adjournment of the Court of Common Pleas for that district, and resolutions adopted very highly complimenting JUDGE EARLE, on account of his voluntary offering to the public justice of the State, in holding a long term there, at an oppressive season of the year, after his own entire tour of duty had been finished. and the industry and ability with which he disencumbered the docket of an accumulated mass of litigation which threatened to obstruct the course of the law for some time to come. The resolutions were presented to the Court by a committee and suitably responded to by the Judge.

Mr. J. L. Stevens, the author of a popu lar book of travels in Egypt, Arabia, &c. has been appointed special agent to the government of Central America, in place of Mr. Leggett, deceased.

Mr. J. L. O'Sullivan, editor of the Democratic Review, has been nominated to be Secretary of Legation at Paris.

Two ships engaged in the slave trade. captured on the coast of Africa by the British ship of war Buzzard, have been brought into the port of New York. The vessels are both American built. The captain of one is a native of Philadelphia, and the other of be "bribed" to assist in the traitorous pro-New York.

A Mr. Harris, at Yazoo, Mississippi, has recovered a verdict for $20,000 against some persons who Lynched him.

Water and Fire .- Professor Epsy. who proposed to the last Congress to sell them rain-(a thousand dollars for a smart sprinkling, five thousand for a good serviceable shower, and ten thousand for a real thunder storm)-is lecturing in Philadelphia and New York, and persuading some people (what humbug is there that cannot find some followers !) to believe in his doctrines. His theory appears to be that rain can at any time he produced by rarifying the atmosphere; as is proved by the fact that every conflagration of a city or large town is always followed by a copious descent of the aqueous fluid. Such was invariably the case after the great fires in New York, in Charleston, Savannah, Fayetteville, &c. Therefore, when the people of Columbia, for instance, are suffering from drought, they have only to burn up the town, and their cabbage plants and roasting-ears will be made to, flourish.

There is a Frenchman, however, who beats our American philosopher all hollow. Mr. Gaudin, of Paris, having come to the conclusion that the sun is a worn-out, unfashionable contrivance, which any scientific man should scorn to see by, has set himself to work and invented a sort of light 30,000 times stronger than gas! He proposes to erect in the centre of Paris a lighthouse five hundred feet high, and from its summit nightly illuminate the city with a brilliancy which will make his solar majesty ashamed to look our French Phoebus in the face.

Virginia. Mistakes as to the returns from several counties having been corrected, the Richmond Whig now gives the following as a complete statement of the strength of parties in the Legislature.

The Carolinian speaks of the Sub-Treasury as originally a Whig measure-that when proposed by Gen. Gordon in 1835, it was 'unanimously adopted and advocated" by the Whigs. And taking these premises, he enlarges upon their inconsistency in opposing it when afterwards recommended by the

In answer to this, we need merely refer to the Journal of Congress, for the vote on Mr. Gordon's proposition, which shews that from the first the measure was opposed by the Whig party. The whole number of votes not kept up with himself in abandoning the n its favour was but 33. Therefore, even interests of his country, to sustain the interif these were all Whigs, for every Whig who voted for it, two must have voted against it! This is what the Carolinian calls "unanimously (!) adopted and advocated by the Whigs"!!

We said not a word either for or against the Senator from this district. We merely mentioned the fact, which we presume will scarcely be denied, that he is prominent among those who are looked to to fill the dially approve of the principle assumed by next vacant Judgeships.

It is for the editor of the Carolinian to explain how it is that, against a person whom fect as the population of the State and the he supported at the late election, he now makes insinuations of "bribery" and "desperate attempts to revolutionise the political principles of the State."

The Carolinian says not a word in defence or extenuation or retraction of its late extraordinary charge of "bribery" and "desperate attempts at revolution," against the Bench and Bar of this State. We do not see how this silence can be justified. If there be plots against the State, it is the duty of any citizen acquainted with them to make known the facts, so that the people may be able to defend themselves, and the conspirators be brought to shame and punishment. If there be no plot, justice requires that the innocent should be relieved from so foul an imputation.

The Carolinian, it is to be observed, is constantly vaunting his devotion to this State. Nothing brought him from Georgia here, but his excessive admiration of the people and principles of South Carolina. One of his first deeds (repeated yesterday,) was to denounce our ingratitude in publishing the essays of "A Friend to State Rights," in which the nullifiers were harshly spoken of. Yet now, just after clutching a treasury draft for the patronage of both Houses of the Legislature, he gravely and solemnly publishes, that the Judges of South Carolina are engaged in "desperate attempts to revolutionize the political principles of the State," and that the prominent members of the Bar should be well watched, lest they

Here are his own words.

"And these are not yet all the "changes" talked of, in connexion with the Bench; nor all the "rumors" mingled with them-many of which hint at desperate attempts to revolutionize the political principles of the State and people, and to bribe the Bar nuo an indirect nid of them, through their hopes of the vacant offices. Our faith in the people of this State, places us beyond the fear of such a result, but it may not be amiss to place them on their guard, and warn them to mark well the conduct of those members of the Bar who take an interest in such changes, or at least the most significant of them .- South Caroli-

"The power of patronage unless checked by the vigorous interposition of Congress, must go on increasing, until Federal influence in many parts of this Confederation will predominate in elections as completely as Columbia Telescope, and in any other pa-British influence predominates in the elections of Scotland and Ireland, in rotion borough towns, and in the great naval stations of Portsmouth and Plymouth."

"The King of England is the fountain of honor;' the President of the United States ing. is the source of patronage. He presides over the entire system of Federal appointments, jobs and contracts; he has 'power' over the 'surport' of the individuals who administer the system. He makes and unmakes them. He chooses from the circle of his friends and supporters, and may dismiss them, and upon all the principles of human action, will dismiss them, as often as they disappoint his expectations. His spirit will animate their action in all the elections to State and Federal offices. There may be exceptions, but the truth of a general tended check and control of the Senate, with out new constitutional or statutory provisions, will cease to operate. Patronage will penetrate this body, subdue its capacity of resistance, chain it to the car of power, and enable the President to rule as easily and much him more strength in an election before the more securely with than without the nominal check of the Senate!" 'We must look forward to the time when the nomination of people. It is on dit-ed, also, that if the the President can carry any man through Bench and Bar do unite their strength, they the Senate, and his recommendation can carry any measure through the two llouses of Congress; when the principle of public action will be open and avowed-the President wants my vote, and I want his patronage I will vote as he ushes, and he will give me the first great vacancies to be filled, combithe office I wish fer. What will this be but the government of one man? and what is the government of one man but a monarchy?"

CAMP JASPER, April 25th, 1839. The Officers and Sergeants of the 8th Brigade of South Carolina Militia, convened this day, for the purpose of taking into consideration the expediency of petitioning the Legislature to increase the salary of the Adjutant and Inspector General. Gen. Edward B. Wheeler was called to the Chair, and Major R. H. Reaves was appointed Secretary. Gen. Wheeler then addressed the meeting, explanatory of the objects of assembling-after which, on motion, it was 26th April, half past two o'clock, P. M.

The meeting being organized, the Committee appointed on yesterday to draft the memorial, submitted the following, which was read, and after being advocated by Con Harllee, Col. Carr, and Capt. A. L. Gregg, was unanimously adopted.

THE STATE OF SOUTH CAROLINA. To the Honorable the Senate and House of Representatives of the State of South Carolina.

The memorial of the Officers and Sergeants of the 8th Brigade of the South Carolina Militia, present at an encampment at Camp Jasper, near Godfrey's Ferry, on the Peedee River, respectfully sheweth: That they corthe Legislature, that the military organization of the State should be rendered as perpursuits of the citizens will admit, and that for this purpose a competent instructor is necessary. No one, perhaps, could render the State more valuable service than a competent, scientific, and energetic Adjutant and Inspector General. We deem the present Adjutant General well suited for the office, and willingly bear testiminy to his zeal and ability. We have heard no complaint from him as regards the salary, nor are the suggestions we shall make intended for him personally, but for the office which he fills. We are satisfied that the salary now given is wholly disproportionate to the service and consequent expenses required of him. Competted as he is, to travel round the state, and be absent from home the whole year, (with the exception. perhaps, of one or two months,) at encampments, drills of officers and reviews, his salary is barely sufficient to pay a rigidly economical bill of expense. He is required to perform a hard, laborious and valuable service, and consequently to sacrifice the comforts of a home and family, and receive nothing, comparatively, for it, after deducting his expenses. They, therefore, respectfully suggest to your Honorable body the propriety and justice of increasing the salary of the Adjutant General, and pray that it be raised to the sum of thirty-five hundred dol-
