LOCAL MATTERS.

CRITIC

Your note recived; it don't matter whether you have a Collegiate education, or not; the main point is to convey idea, and information; if these two essectials are in your articles, they will be worth much more than a labored article, lustred over, that allways reminds one of a dry storm, and no rain.

ALAS! FOR THE BIG FIDDLE .-- Mr. John Hanon, who says he is a native of New York State, entered town on last Wednesday, in company with a big banjo, swung to his back.

Mr. Hanon, doubtless thinking, that "music hath charms to sooth the savage breast," brought his big fiddle into play, to the great annoyance of the people in general; yet, there are but few evils but have their good; the juvenile darkies were delighted with the base sound of the instrument ;-Strange to say, (a thing never known before,) the fidler got tired of his own fiddling; so, for quiet and rest, to Har-* riet Cook's he went. But this prude, who if she had lived in the ancient days, never could have been Ceaser's wife, fled the house. Hanon, taking advantage of the opportunicy, purloined her trunks, from which he extracted sundry dresses and $5 in cash.

The case was tried before Trial Justice Johnson, yesterday, who found the accused guilty of stealing the five dollars, and sentenced him to five days imprisonment in jail.

The all absorbing question is, who's got the big fiddle?

Raking them In.

Jordan may be a hard road to travel, but some people find it hard to travel the public roads, unless they work them. Within the last ten days the Sheriff and his Deputies have furnished lodgings for a dozen or more defaulters of road duty, but so far they have promptly paid up, and paid out. Next to the last case on hand was Abraham Rabon, Jr., who left yesterday morning in company with the Sheriff and his Deputy for Mariou Court House, where we have no doubt some one of the three will get in jail; we are sorry to say that whichever one it may be, the punishment will not be undeserved.

LINES SUGGESTED BY THE DEATH MISS CALEDONIA L. SKIPPER, Died Nov. 17th, 1870, BY D. K. BENNETT.

Another social circle mourns,

A lov'd and precious name ;

Resistless death has passed this way,

And pressed his dreaded claim.

Dear Callie-peerless, lovely child

Is called from life and health away

The aching heart, and tear dim'd eye,

A happy home now mourns the loss

The eye that spake a mother, s love,

Amidst her youthful bloom

For her dear name is offered up,

Of one they held most dear;

Now drops the crystal tear.

Thus prematurely called away,

Her mem'ry is enshrined.

To leave her friends behind,

Yet in our hearts, while we survive,

The vacant place around the board,

And short lived things of earth.

Her footprints on the sands of time

"Rest from thy labors" lovely child, to pardon in this case. whether this view of the matter is correct or not, it is evident that Mr. Bowen is liable in so many ways to fall again into the meshes of the law, with his three wives on hand, that he had better "get up and git" for Salt Lake City. Perhaps Brigham would feel a little jealous of the superior marrying qualities of the bigamous B.; but no doubt the latter would soon get on a good footing with the prophet, and very likely succeed him as the head of the Mormon Church. On the 15th instant a most diabolical attempt was made by a young negro woman to kill the wife of a gentleman residing in the vicinity of Branchville, whose name, for delicate reasons, we forbear to mention.

We want to raise a club of twentyfive or more subscribers, in this county, to the Wilmington Daily Star. We know of one man alone, who has made over $50 this year by borrowing the Daily Star, to see the prices current.

Don't beg, but come up like men and subscribe; we have the authority and will make the price of the paper, that with its attractions, worth, and merits, so you can't help subscribing. Call on us at our office, and if you guarantee a good price for your turpentine, cotton, or any other produce you may have to sell.

THE SOUTHERN GARDNER.

We have received from Messrs. Walker, Evals & Cogswell, publishers, Charleston, S. C., a small book of 64 pages, giving concise directions for Fiuits. The book is by Dr. H. W. the thing needed by every family in to cultivate our gardens, prune and dress our fruit trees, by a calandar suited to the Northern climate, has been one of the absurd follies of the South. In this small book we have complete directions, how, where and when, to plant seed indigenous to our climate; and last, but not least, how to cuitivate them that they may prove remunerative.

The book is for sale by Messis, Walker, Evans & Cogswell, Charleston, S. C. Price 50 cents.

FORTUNES WAITING FOR SOMEBODY. On or about the first of October, the series of gift Concerts will commence in charleston, to five hundred thousand dollars. The highest prize is an Academy of Music worth $250,000 ; the next is a pile of greenbacks, value $1 00. 000; the third, $25,000, and so on. Those born to good luck will win these gifts, for the enterprise is in the hands of some of the most distinguished men in the country, whose word is their bond, and whose purpose is the nobler one of raising large means with which to set-E the Immigrants on Southern lands. The tickets are five dollars each, and may be purchased from the local agents of the South Carolina Land and Immigration Association, Charleston, S.C.

ment, close attention to correct principles and practical energy. In the first paragraph of the article, Dr. Parker says : " Acting from the suggestion derived from books, agriculture, &c." The man who produced one of the largest known yields of corn, then learns something from books. This is quite a commentary upon (unfortunately) the many who believe that book tarming is theoretical. Let them read the article and they will say that it is eminently practical.

cat't pay now, we will arrange it, and HOW A MAN LOST TWO WIVES FOR THE SAKE OF SEEING A TURTLE. Curiosity, laudable in its objects. has done a grievous injury to a Missouri countryman, who went down to St. Louis, the other day, to get a divorce from bis wife. While walking to the court room he espied a huge sea turtle reposing upon its back in front of of a restaurant, and, allured by the cultivating the Garden, and Southern sight, stopped to examine it thoroughly. Meanwhile his wife was at work Ravenel, of Aiken, S. C., and is just- for herself, and when finally he hurried on to the court room, he learned, the Southern States. The undertaking to his dismay, that the case had been decided against him, and his wife had obtained a divorce. He did not care so much about the loss of his wife, as he had engaged another in an. ticipation of getting a divorce himself; but as the wife had obtained a decree against him, he was by the law precluded from taking unto himself another rib until the lapse of five years. He was almost frantic, as he had his wedding clothes ready, and was to have been married the next day. His lawyer made a motion for a rehearing, and it was set for argument in two days. But the woman was again two smart for him, for she, too, had a huswhich will result in twenty-four hundred and band in waiting, and as soon as the and four people drawing cash prizes amounting decree was announced she went out and married her man, without stopping to examine the anatomy of a tur tle, or any other fish.

> MORE TROUBLE FOR BOWEN .- A writer in the New York tribune argues that the President has not the power of pardoning the bigamous Bowen, for the reason that the District of Columbia | free of charge. If you want has a Territorial Constitution, under which the Governor is vested with the power of pardoning common criminals sentenced by the courts of the distict. Bigamy is a common crime, and in ne way an offence against the United States; writer maintains that the
