and availed themselves of his wonderful efficaci-ous medicines, they would not have follow. Dr. Schenck, hus in his own case proved that where versufficient vitality remains, that vitality, where ver soll dent vitatity remains, but vitatity, by his medicines and his direction for their use, is quickened into healthful vigor. In this statement there is nothing examptu-ous. To the faith of the invalid is made no repesumptu. resentation that is not a thousand times sub-stantiated by living and visible works. The Theory of the cure by Dr. Schenck's medicines is as simple as it is antating. Its philosophy re-quires no argument. It is self assuring, self convincing.

The Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pitls are the first two wetpois with which the citade of the malady is assailed. Two-thirds of the coes of to a subscription originate in dyspepsia and a trans-consumption originate in dyspepsia and a trans-tionally disordered liver. With this condition the bronchial takes "sympathize" with the stomach. They respond to the meriphic action of the liver. Here them comes the culminating result, and the sectory in, with all its distressing symptoms, of CONSUMPTION.

The Mandrake Pills are compased of one of Nature's noblest gifts the Podophilum Peltstum. They possess all the blood-scarching, alterative properties of calomel, but unlike colomel, they

The second thing is, the patients must stay in a warm room until they get well, it is almost im-possible in present taking could when the bings are diseased, but it unsit be prevented or a cure cannot be effected.
