Beckwith's Anti-Dyspeptic PILLS.

THE Subscriber having been furnished by the inventor with the recipe for these Pills, with exclusive authority to prepare and vend them, they are now offered to the Public, by THOMAS L. JUMP, Chemist. Raleigh, N. C. May 14, 1834.

THE ANTI-DYSPEPTIC PILLS have been most successfully employed in almost every variety of functional disorder of the stomach, bowels, Liver and Spleen; such as heart burn, acid eructations, nausea, head-ach, pain and distension of the Stomach and bowels, indigestion, Colic, Jaundice, Flatulence, indolence, costiveness, loss of appetite, sick head-ach, &c. They are a safe and comfortable Remedy for Females during pregnancy, and in all cases of indigestion, nervous sickness at the stomach, head-ach, neuralgia and many of the medicinal nervous affections. Literary men, students, and most other persons of sedentary habits, find them very convenient. Those who are indiged too freely in the pleasures of the Table find speedy relief from the sense of oppression and the distension which follow, by taking the Pills. Those who are drinking mineral waters and particularly those from southern climates and acute fever-diseases, will find them a valuable adjunct. Those who are exposed to the vicissitudes of weather, or voyages or journeys, can take them at all times with perfect safety. In full doses they are highly efficacious and safe Anti-bilious Medicine. They seldom or never produce sickness at the stomach or griping.

When an aperient effect is required, from one to three Pills may be taken at bed time; from a cathartic, from three to six. The patient soon learns to adapt the dose to his own wants. In the morning, take two, morning, noon and night, following them after the first day, with a laxative in the morning—Repeat these several days. In Colic, from two to six, according to the urgency and violence of the case, and repeat them every four or five hours, till relief is obtained.

Take one or two, four or five times a day, or as may be required. In distention from indigestion or imprudent meal, or from eating fruit one or two, half an hour after eating. In Piles one, two or three, at bed time, as may be necessary to have a laxative effect; and as an alternative in derangement of the Liver and Spleen, one, three times a day. In the various diseases of the digestive organs, the use of the Pills should be persevered in for some length of time; and it should be remarked, that they are not to be discontinued independent of any other medicine. Adhering, no change in diet is necessary, and as a general rule to choose such articles of food as are found best to agree with the stomach. Children may take one, two or three, according to age. They are particularly useful to them, when disordered by eating acid fruit. They may be safely adopted as a common domestic medicine for every member of a family who is old enough to understand the use of an Antibilious medicine, from 3 to 6 Pills may be taken at bed time, and followed in the morning (if necessary) by any of the Salts or Mineral Waters.

The following history of the PILLS, and evidence of their efficacy, has been furnished me by Dr. Beckwith.

"Dear Sir: More than twenty years ago, I had resided several years in one of the principal towns in the low country in this State, employed in the practice of Physic, when I contracted an attack of Yellow Fever, succeeded by a protracted quartan ague. I was compelled to resign my residence, and settled in this City. My Liver and Spleen had become enlarged, and their functions greatly deranged. I had frequent and obstinate attacks of Flatulence with attendant, or perhaps consequent, Dyspepsia in many of its distressing degrees, and the effects of morbid action in the stomach, different preparations of Opium were used in conjunction with other remedies, but with the uniform effect of producing an extensive inflammation upon the surface, resulting in the formation of abscesses. I was at length obliged to abandon its use altogether, and to try my resources for some substitute for Mercury, under such peculiar circumstances. After much investigation and many trials, the composition of these Pills was hit upon, and answered my most wishes and expectations. My health was perfectly restored, and although more than a period, I have had four severe attacks of bilious fever, arising from exposure to the vicissitudes of a southern climate, while engaged in extensive professional pursuits. I have never taken one particle of Mercury in any form, and still enjoy sound health. Having subsequently had frequent occasions to prescribe for various ailments, I had under a great variety of modifications, the Pills came into very common use in my practice; and as the afflicted are usually communicative of their complaints and their progress, I have been enabled to extend the reputation and use of the Pills, far beyond the demand for them greatly exceeds my leisure to supply. With regard to your request for certificates of their efficacy, I could furnish more persons than you would be willing to publish, from persons of both sexes, and among the most intelligent in my State, but I think it very idle, as they are seldom of any value beyond the immediate circle of the writer's acquaintance. I will, however, give you two which were sent me by Physicians, whose integrity and professional respectability are sufficiently established. Beyond this, the Pills must rest upon their own intrinsic value, and have no other answerable for their composition, and for the medicinal qualities to the cases in which they are recommended.—They contain no Mercury, nor any other Mineral—They are purely vegetable. To pretend that they are an infallible remedy in every state of disease, for which they are recommended, would be nonsense; but I have been proud to be so generally and extensively used, and to see useful than any other article of the sort with which I am acquainted, I confidently assert from ample experience. They have for many years been the established medicine in many families in several sections of this State, as you may see.

Yours, &c. JOHN BECKWITH M. D. Dublin county, N. C. March 7, 1836. To Dr. John Beckwith.

Dear Sir—I have, with your permission, used your Anti-Dyspeptic Pills in my Practice for ten years, and have thoroughly tested them in every person; for you know I was much of a Dyspeptic, and you will add, something of a hypochondriac, and have found them an invaluable remedy. My sick head-ach is immediately relieved by them. I feel desirous that the public should be made acquainted with their value, and receive the benefit of a medicine calculated to do so much good, and to save them from the too common and unwise use of mercurial preparations. Truly yours, ELIJAH CROSBY M. D."

The following Testimonials of the claims of the PILLS to public notice, have been selected from many of similar import, recently furnished.

From T. P. DeTerenx, Esq. U. S. Attorney for the District of N. Carolina. Raleigh, Nov. 7, 1834. For several years Dr. Beckwith's Anti-Dyspeptic Pills have been used in my family, where they have, in a great measure superseded the ordinary domestic remedies. I have always found them to be efficacious, mild and safe, in cases of indigestion which have come under my notice; particularly so, in allaying head-ach caused by derangements of the stomach. T. P. DETERENX. From W. S. Moon, Esq. Public Treasurer. Raleigh, N. C. Nov. 27, 1834. There are few persons in this country, who have not felt the want of some medicine, which may be employed as a common domestic medicine, possessed of the property of uniformly attending to Beckwith's Anti-Dyspeptic Pills—safely, and with effect. That they may safely claim these in an eminent degree, I know from experience in my own family, and from what I am persuaded that these Pills give them a fair trial, will, with me, soon reduce their family medicine chest within a very small compass. W. S. MOON. For Sale at the Edgfield Medicine Store.

THE INDIAN'S PANACEA. FOR the cure of Rheumatism, Scrofula or King's Evil, Gout, Scurvy or Hip Gout, Inflammatory Diseases, particularly Ulcers and painful affections of the bones, Ulcerated Throat and Nose, Ulcers of every description, Fever Sore, and Inflammatory Swellings of the Face, Scald Head, Scurvy, Biles, Chronic Sore Throat, Scrophulous Blisters, and every variety of Cutaneous Affection, Chronic Catarrh, Headache, proceeding from an acrid humor, Pain in the Stomach and Dyspepsia, proceeding from vitiation. Affections of the Liver, Chronic Inflammation of the Kidneys, and general debility, caused by a torpid action of the vessels of the skin. It is singularly efficacious in removing those constitutions which have been broken down by injudicious treatment, or juvenile irregularities. In general terms, it is recommended in all those diseases which arise from impurities of the blood, or vitiation of the humors, of whatever name or kind.

Some of the above complaints may require some trifling assistant applications, which the circumstances of the case will dictate; but for a general remedy of the Diseases, to remove the cause, THE INDIAN'S PANACEA will generally be found sufficient. TO THE PUBLIC. The proprietor offers this preparation to the public, with the consciousness that he is placing within their reach a remedy capable of relieving many of his afflicted fellow-beings, who are suffering under various chronic and obstinate complaints, to which it is applicable. To such it will prove of incalculable value, as the means, and in many cases, the only means of relieving their sufferings and restoring them to a more healthy and happy state. This is not an offer of any common medicine, which may chance to equally good with many other, or one, but one which is capable of saving life in many extreme cases, when all the usual remedies fail. This has been done repeatedly; and this is the preparation it has obtained wherever it has been introduced.

It is only about three years since this preparation was presented to the public; but in that short space of time, some hundreds of persons might be found, who would sincerely declare that they believe that their lives were preserved by it, and in most cases after they had tried every other remedy, and had been reduced to a state of almost insupportable suffering. Whenever it is rapidly coming into use, and this affords the most substantial and convincing proof of its merits.

The value of the Panacea is most conspicuous in those long standing and syphilitic and scrofulous affections, which have defied all other remedies, and particularly in those cases where mercury has been so judiciously used as to cause distressing pains in the bones, nodes, mercurial ulcers, derangement of the digestive organs, &c. These it completely removes, and in all cases it entirely eradicates the disease, and the effects of mercury, restores the constitution, and leaves the patient sound and vigorous. In Rheumatism and Ulcerated Sore Throat, its happy effects are not less apparent, giving almost immediate relief.

Taken in proper doses, THE INDIAN'S PANACEA operates upon the alimentary and detergent; it adjuvates the digestive and laxative, and acts as a tonic and anodyne; in proper cases, as a stimulant and emmenagogue. It is especially efficacious in removing all the secretions and excretions, gives tone to the system, and excites action in the glands in a particular manner. From these principles its operations may be understood. This medicine has been found highly useful in many analogous diseases, not here specified, and it has been used with wonderful success as a Spring and Fall Purge, by those who are subject to eruptions of the chest, and whose constitutions require new vigor. Such persons will do well to use two or three bottles in small doses. Whenever diet drink is considered necessary, the Panacea, taken in a small dose, will answer all its purposes, in such cases, and its use, and in a far more agreeable manner than the common diet drink. The following certificates, out of hundreds similar which might be procured, are given to show the effect of THE INDIAN'S PANACEA, in the various complaints therein mentioned; and also to exhibit in the most satisfactory manner its superiority over the various emmenagogues.

CASES OF RHEUMATISM. CHARLES STOS, Nov. 15, 1831. During the late winter and spring, I was afflicted with a very severe and distressing Rheumatism, occasioned by exposure to bad weather. I now take great pleasure in stating that since the use of Indian's Panacea, restored me to perfect health, and I confidently recommend it to all similarly afflicted. JOHN FERGUSON, King st.

CHARLES STOS, March 27, 1832. I was seized, about three years since, with a distressing Rheumatism, occasioned by exposure to cold while under the influence of mercury, and which has disabled me from business nearly ever since. During this period I have been a patient in the Marine Hospital, in this City, upwards of four months, and nearly the same length of time in the Baltimore Hospital, and tried almost every remedy, with little benefit. On the 10th of Feb. last, at that time scarcely able to move about upon crutches, I commenced the use of THE INDIAN'S PANACEA. In one month I found myself entirely free from pain, and am now happy to state that I consider myself perfectly well. WM. TUCKER, 13 Market st.

CASES OF SCROFULOUS ULCERS. This medicine has been used in my family, where they have, in a great measure superseded the ordinary domestic remedies. I have always found them to be efficacious, mild and safe, in cases of indigestion which have come under my
