

Edgefield Advertiser.

Oldest Newspaper In South Carolina

VOL. 86

EDGEFIELD, S. C., WEDNESDAY, JULY 13, 1921

No. 23

JOHNSTON LETTER.

Miss Sawyer Entertains Bridge Club. Baptist Need Large S. S. Room. D. A. R. House Party.

Mr. Thomas Rowland and Miss Mary Walker have gone to Newberry to visit in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Rowland.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Connerly have arrived from North Carolina, and are spending a while in the home of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. B. Waters. Dr. Connerly is still having to use the crutches which are occasioned by the railway accident he suffered some time ago, having nearly half of his right foot crushed under the wheels of the train.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Stevens and children of Meeting Street have been for a visit in the home of Mrs. Willie Tompkins.

Mrs. John Wright has been suffering with inflamed eyes and during the past week went over to the hospital in Augusta for treatment.

Mesdames Mary Waters and L. L. Allen are in Springfield visiting Mrs. David Phillips.

Mrs. James White has been visiting in Greenville and with relatives in Spartanburg.

Mr. Horace Black of Atlanta spent last week here with his grandmother, Mrs. Harry Hamilton.

Miss Mallie Waters has gone to Augusta for a visit to her sister, Miss Annie Waters.

Miss Maude Sawyer entertained the bridge club on Saturday afternoon in a very pleasant manner. There were several visitors present, and with the members present, a congenial party was formed. After an animated game, a salad course with iced tea was served.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hardy had the pleasure of having with them on July 4th, all of their children, all having positions in other states. They had a very enjoyable occasion.

On Wednesday evening at prayer meeting Miss Conya Hardy told of the great Sunday school class of young women, 1600 in number, of which she is a member. This class is of a Baptist church in Washington, D. C., and it is accomplishing wonders.

The Baptist Sunday school here has so outgrown the present room, that steps are now being taken to make arrangements for more class rooms. The matter has been left in the hands of a special committee.

On Sunday the Methodist Sunday school has special Children's Day exercises, and these were very enjoyable. This Sunday school has always made a rule to have special days for the children and they are being beautifully trained in the service of the Lord.

One afternoon during the week, while Jack Jordan was driving a buggy, the horse ran over a small stump, throwing the little fellow from the buggy and causing a bad wound on the head, several stitches having to be taken.

The Royal Ambassadors had an outing on Tuesday and Wednesday, and a fine time was reported by the boys. Mr. James Barnes, their leader, and others were with the boys and the merry party hiked to Salter's pond, spending the night in camp which was quite an experience for them. Several of the boys had army kits and with other aids, they prepared a highly enjoyable breakfast. The next day, the mothers and sisters, and others invited came out for the picnic, which is an annual affair and is always enjoyed.

Misses Frances Turner and Marie Lewis are at home from Thomson, Ga., having been members of a house party given by Miss Carrie Mobley.

Mr. Eugene McAlpine has joined his family here for a short visit in the home of Dr. S. G. Mobley, and the latter part of the week, they will return to their home in Hartsville. Miss Elise Mobley will accompany them home for a visit.

Mr. George Hardy, who is now located in Atlanta, Ga., is here for a visit to the home folks. It has been nearly a year since he has been for a visit.

Miss Louelle Norris of Columbia is spending her vacation here with her mother, Mrs. M. E. Norris.

Mrs. Charlie Brunson of Augusta is a guest in the home of her brother, Dr. J. A. Dobe.

Mrs. William Toney and her son, William, of Columbia, and her cousin, Miss Davis of St. Matthews, are visiting Mrs. Will Sawyer.

Mrs. Huiet Waters entertained with a very pleasant morning party on Wednesday, in honor of her niece, Mrs. G. D. Lucas, of Manning. Several tables of rook were enjoyed and later, a dainty luncheon was served. It was a pleasure to all to meet again the honoree, who is remembered as Miss Marie Cullen.

Mrs. Bartow Walsh had as her visitors during the past week, Miss Emma Stansell, of Greenville and Mrs. Tate and Miss Jennie Walsh, of Sumter, and on Thursday afternoon she entertained in a very happy manner in honor of them. The cordial hostess made the afternoon an unusually pleasant one. A dainty repast was served while music was being enjoyed.

Mrs. M. T. Turner and Miss Zena Payne are in receipt of an invitation from Mrs. Frank Cain, to be members of her house party at her summer home, "Preference," at Tryon, N. C. Mrs. Cain as state regent, D. A. D. is having the house party made up of the state officers D. A. R.

Mr. Clarence Herlong has gone to Asheville for a short stay, and Mrs. Herlong and little son will spend this time at Saluda with the former's mother.

Mrs. W. J. Hatcher is at home from Greenville, having attended the Baptist Assembly.

Mr. Paul L. Cogburn Endorsed by Executive Committee.

In response to the call of the county chairman, a meeting of the County Democratic Executive committee was held Monday and eleven of the sixteen clubs in the county were represented. The following resolution was introduced by Capt. J. R. Blocker:

Resolved by the County Democratic Executive Committee in meeting assembled that while we recognize that it is within the jurisdiction of this committee to order an election to fill the vacancy in the clerk of court's office caused by the death of the lamented Mr. W. B. Cogburn, but owing to the fact that he had served only six months of his term of four years for which he had been elected without opposition in the primary last August, we deem the special election inexpedient and inadvisable at this time, and inasmuch as the regular primary will be held next summer when there can be afforded a better opportunity for the voters to pass upon the qualifications of the various candidates for this and other offices, we recommend to Governor Cooper and our legislative delegation that appointment of the present deputy clerk, Paul L. Cogburn, as clerk of the court, his commission to hold until the next general election, when his regularly elected successor chosen in the primary next year shall qualify and assume charge of this office.

Immediately after the resolution of Capt. Blocker was introduced, Mr. B. R. Tillman moved that the name of Mrs. W. B. Cogburn be substituted in lieu of that of Mr. Paul L. Cogburn, as Mr. Cogburn had expressed the wish that, should he die in office, Mrs. Cogburn be permitted to fill the unexpired portion of his term. After some discussion pro and con, the vote upon the amendment of Mr. Tillman was five for and six against, being lost by one vote. The amendment having failed of passage, the resolution as originally presented was adopted unanimously.

Dorsey-Britt.

The friends of Mr. Charles W. Dorsey and Miss Adelia Britt will be interested to learn of their marriage which occurred Thursday, July 7th, the Rev. Zech Ford Bond officiating.

The bride looked lovely in a gown of white lace and organdy and a picture hat of white georgette. Mrs. Dorsey is the daughter of Mrs. W. J. Britt and is a lovely and attractive girl. Mr. Dorsey is from Dayton, Ohio, but has made many friends since coming to Augusta that will be glad to know he is to live here.—Augusta Chronicle.

Our Foreign Colony in Edgefield.

It will be interesting to the people of Edgefield to know the names and number of our foreign population at this time. Some of these have been in Edgefield too long to be called foreigners, but citizens and neighbors. The Woman's Christian Temperance Union has been greatly interested in the subject of Americanization and has been interested in a national way in giving the English language to foreigners who come to our shores.

This organization has kept in touch with Ellis Island and has distributed to all foreigners who land a greeting in the various tongues and a warning against the evils which may greet them when landing.

The following list may not be entirely accurate as it was taken more than a month ago. We are indebted to Mrs. Ed Morgan for this census:

Mr. and Mrs. J. Rubenstein and children, Herman, Maurice and Esther. Mr. and Mrs. Rubenstein are naturalized citizens of the United States. They were born in Russia, speak four languages and English. Their religion is Hebrew.

Mr. and Mrs. Israel Mukashy are citizens of the United States, speak five languages and English, and are of the Hebrew religion. Mr. Mukashy was from Russian Poland and Mrs. Mukashy from Galicia in Austria.

Isadore Rubenstein is a citizen from Russia, a Hebrew, speaks four languages and English.

Jake Wynne from Russia, first papers applied for, is a Hebrew, speaks four languages and English.

Barney Wynne, Russian, papers of naturalization applied for, is a Hebrew, speaks eight languages and is learning English.

Mr. and Mrs. Abram Daitch, Russian Poland, first papers received, Hebrew, speak four languages and English. Their children are Esther, Isadore and Louis.

Victor Daitch, Russian Poland, naturalized citizen, Hebrew, speaks six languages and English.

Joe Daitch, Russian Poland, speaks five languages, Hebrew, is not naturalized and has not yet learned English, having been in this country only a very short time.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Sarling and baby, Russian Poland, Hebrew, speak five languages. Have very recently arrived and therefore are not naturalized and do not speak English.

J. Contopidis, Greek, Athens, naturalized citizen, orthodox Greek church in religion, speaks two languages and English.

Evangelus Servetas, Greek orthodox church from Tagara, Greece, naturalized, speaks three languages and English.

Steven Servetas, orthodox Greek church, from Tagara, not naturalized, speaks two languages and English.

John Camichos Greek from Tagara, speaks three languages and English.

Evangelus Servetas and John Camichos, I. Rubenstein and Victor Daitch served in the American army in the World War.

Besides these Mr. and Mrs. Drucker of Poland, mother and father of Mrs. Abram Daitch, have arrived and are spending part of their time in Edgefield.

If any have been omitted we shall be glad to add them.

Miss Elizabeth Smith Entertains for Mrs. J. K. Aull.

A most cordial welcome awaited Mrs. John K. Aull of Columbia on her visits in her childhood home. Among the parties for the popular visitor was a lovely card party given by Miss Elizabeth Smith on Wednesday afternoon.

The guests were welcomed by the attractive young hostess and her mother, Mrs. Herbert Smith.

Tables for bridge were placed the spacious parlor, hall, living room and verandas, all being brightened by pretty arrangements of gorgeous sunflowers.

At the conclusion of the games, the head prize, stationery, was presented to Miss Jeannie Simkins; the booby, box of bonbons, went to Mrs. R. Hill. The honoree was given a pair of white silk hose.

A dainty salad course was served by Misses Julia Aull and Bessie Rainsford assisted.

Buffaloes and Bears in Yellowstone Park.

Dear Advertiser:

The animals of the Park are to me among the most interest features. To see elk, bear or buffalo caged is quite a different matter from seeing them roaming wild and unafraid in their own native haunts, unafraid of a gun because they have never heard one, and unaccustomed to attacking man because they have no need, and because they are scarcely conscious of their native strength and power.

Once in this same west any uses or signs of modern civilization were curiously, when the Indians in tribes and buffalo in herds roamed plains in thousands. Now the reverse is the case, and an Indian tomahawk is a curiosity, arousing admiration where once it aroused fear in the hearts of the Forty-Niners. Now the National Park prides itself on the herd of six hundred buffalo which it keeps on a large ranch. Fifteen of them are kept near the Mammoth Hotel in what is known as a corral, a fenced off pasture, for the enjoyment of the thousands of tourists who travel through the Park each season. Last year there were thirty-five thousand.

The buffalo is an ill formed creature, beautiful in the way that some people consider a storm beautiful, with sort of grandness that borders on the terrible. To say that the buffalo is mostly head, would convey the idea that he has sense, but my impression is that his characteristics are a combination of unused strength, tending toward laziness, and slow stupidity. I sat in the hot sun this morning unmindful of sunburn, for almost an hour, fascinated, watching these animals which were too lazy to even stand. Like a person suffering from ennui, the paid no attention to the tourists who peered over the fence and were rather bored at the idea of being admired. From a distance they looked like large, brown boulders lying in the grass, so bulky and immovable were they.

The ranchman who takes care of them seemed to have a rough, though sincere affection for them, telling of their various merits in a sort of fatherly way, and remarking every now and then, what very fine looking buffaloes he thought they were. To him they were like another division of the human race, fully as interesting as the people to whom he showed them.

When a sufficient number of people had gathered at the edge of the corral, the keeper would open the gate and ride in on his tall mountain horse, to stir the buffaloes up and make them stand, so that they could be more easily seen. They arose with more alacrity than a small boy shows when the school bell rings in the early morning and enticing visions of fishing ponds and swimming holes rise before his eyes. The effort to stand up immediately was too much, he expensed energy all at once entirely too great, so they each took a tumble, raising clouds of dust, and finally when the urgency of the command had at last penetrated their heads, they arose and stood in massed formation, shaggy heads all in a row, as though they had taken military tactics from some brave officers at Fort Yellowstone. They seemed to be actually posing for pictures, so still did they stand, and many kodaks were busy getting pictures of the monstrous, sleepy creatures. Almost as soon as the keeper had ridden out and closed the gate, they were settling down again with the solid comfort of the hot sand and grass.

The keeper remarked on how happy he would be to have nothing to do like the buffaloes, and my companion remarked that a human being with nothing to do would become stupid and useless unless he had something to keep him mentally fit. A buffalo can be only a buffalo, but I think a person can be a little higher than the angels, if he chooses to live instead of exist.

Yellowstone Park and its vicinity have helped to furnish three emblems for the United States' money: the buffalo, the Indian and the eagle.

Yellowstone Park is a living museum where the animals are shut in, not by glass, but by transparent streams, not by barriers of wood, but by walls of mountains with snow at their summits and wild flowers along their sides.

FLORENCE MIMS.
Mammoth Hotel,
Yellowstone Park, Wyoming.
June 2, 1921.

Card From Mr. Wright.

I wish to say to the readers of the dear old Advertiser that I have returned from the land of the roses. I had several articles nearly ready for the press of my trip to Florida. Two of them were a continuation of the Silver Springs, and the Silver river, also one about the ancient, historic city of St. Augustine. But after being crushed in an automobile wreck in Jacksonville I lost them some way, in fact I came very near losing my life. I was on my way home but had to remain there ten days. But now I'm back in God's country and am fast improving from the shock. When I get able, I will reproduce the articles named and will send them in for publication. I had a grand time for five months, until I was partly killed at Jacksonville.

J. RUSSELL WRIGHT.

Resolutions on the Death of Mrs. W. S. Adams.

Whereas, it has pleased our Heavenly Father to take unto Himself our beloved friend and co-laborer, Mrs. W. S. Adams and has transplanted her beautiful life to another realm of service, we resolve

1. That we bow in submission to God's will, knowing that He doeth all things well; but we realize that earth is poorer and heaven is richer for her going. Her place in church and Christian activities cannot be filled.
2. That we cherish the memory of her Christ-like life, striving as she did to make this world a purer, happier dwelling place.
3. That we extend our deepest sympathy to the bereaved husband and relatives, and we recommend them to her Saviour's tender care and comfort.
4. That a copy of these resolutions be sent her family, and that they be recorded in the minutes of our Woman's Missionary Society.

Mrs. H. N. GRENEKER,
Mrs. R. L. DUNOVANT,
Miss SOPHIE MIMS.

Lovely Afternoon Reception in Honor of Mrs. Nicholson.

On Thursday afternoon from five till seven the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Dunovant was gay with the guests who arrived to meet and welcome Mrs. A. R. Nicholson. The hostesses were Mrs. R. T. Hill and Miss Mamie Dunovant, and in the receiving line were the lovely bride, in a tasteful and becoming dress of orchid taffeta, Miss Mamie Dunovant, Mrs. S. B. Nicholson, Miss Katherine Mims, Mrs. Roger Hill and Mrs. Hugh Nicholson.

Receiving at the door were Misses Elizabeth Rainsford and Virginia Addison.

As the guests arrived four dear little girls, Eleanor and Helen Dunovant, Martha Stewart and Mary Asbill of Ridge Spring met each one at the steps and pinned on a ring tied with white ribbon, a souvenir of the happy occasion. Passing from the reception room the guests entered the dining room where they were cordially greeted by Misses Sallie Mae Nicholson and Lillie Adams. Here orange block cream and bride's cake was served, Misses Katherine Stewart and Carrie Dunovant doing the honors.

In the living room punch was served by Miss Mary Nicholson, Kate Mims and Bessie Dunovant.

Lovely music was furnished by Misses Miriam Norris and Sadie Mims.

As the guest entered the parlor, Mrs. W. W. Adams and Mrs. Hugh Mitchell stood at the door and received them.

The occasion was a lovely one, and gave great pleasure to all who were present.

Death of Adopted Son.

The little one-year-old adopted son of Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Holmes died Saturday and was buried at Red Hill church Sunday morning, Rev. W. R. Barnes conducting the funeral. Mr. and Mrs. Holmes loved the little boy and ministered to him as devotedly as if he had been their own child.

Delightful Luncheon at "The Pines."

Mrs. B. E. Nicholson, Miss Katherine Mims and Mrs. Lovick Mims were gracious hostesses at a lovely luncheon on last Friday morning at Mrs. Mims' attractive home, "The Pines."

The living rooms and hall were given a vivid touch of color in the masses of brown eyed Susans used so effectively.

The guests were given cup towels to embroider with a cup and saucer design done in colors in cross stitch. Great individuality was exhibited in the color scheme chosen, making a lovely collection of dainty towels for the two honorees, Mrs. A. R. Nicholson and Mrs. J. O. Sheppard. Mrs. W. M. Mooney and Miss Emmie Latham acted as judges, and to Mrs. A. R. Nicholson went the prize for the daintiest hand work—a box of bonbons.

Miss Lucy Sheppard played a number of violin selections during the morning accompanied by Miss Helen Nicholson on the piano.

At the conclusion of the sewing a delicious luncheon was served completing one of the loveliest affairs given for the two young honorees, who are so popular here in their new homes.

Important Marketing Meeting at Trenton.

County Agent A. B. Carwile has sent out cards this week that give notice to a meeting to be held under the auspices of the Extension Service of Clemson College at Trenton on Saturday, July 16, at 11 o'clock sharp, for the purpose of discussing the problem of marketing truck crops. Every man in the county that expects to do a little trucking in the future should attend this meeting. For the truckers to make anything of their products it is necessary that they properly grade, pack and sell, and these things can not be done as individuals. The communities that practice trucking must act as a unit. So if you are interested do not fail to attend this meeting.

Death of Mr. W. L. McDaniel.

After a long illness Mr. W. L. McDaniel passed away at his home early Sunday morning and the funeral was held Sunday afternoon at Red Hill church being conducted by his pastor, Rev. W. R. Barnes. Mr. McDaniel was a great sufferer for a cancer but bore it bravely. Some time ago he was carried to the hospital in Augusta but after an examination specialists announced that they could do nothing to relieve him. He was an upright, honorable citizen who will be greatly missed by his church and community. He was for a number of years a deacon in the Red Hill church. Everything possible was done by loved ones and his physicians to prolong his life but God had decreed otherwise.

Besides his devoted wife, Mr. McDaniel is survived by two daughters, Misses Martha and Irene McDaniel, and four sons, C. F., J. W., Arthur and Gordon McDaniel.

Come and inspect our beautiful line of voiles and organdies, which we are selling at very reasonable prices.

I. MUKASHY.

Card of Thanks

We take this means of thanking our neighbors and friends for the many kindnesses shown us during the illness and death of our husband and father. We appreciate more than words can express the many kind attentions shown us and we shall be glad to reciprocate this kindness any time that an opportunity is afforded.

Mrs. W. L. McDaniel and family.

Just received a beautiful line of ladies' georgette and crepe-de-chine waists.

I. MUKASHY.

We have a nice line of ladies' gents' and children's low quarters which we are selling at reduced prices.

I. MUKASHY.

Ford parts are off. Let us do your Ford work. We use only genuine Ford parts.

YONCE & MOONEY.