JOHNSTON LETTER.

Revival Services at Lutheran Church. Early Gardens Fine. Death of Little Babe.

During this week services are being held each night in the Lutheran church, being conducted by the pastor, Rev. J. D. Kinard. As is the custom of the church, these services are always held previous to Easter.

Misses Geraldine and Natalie Kam mer, of Blackville have been guests of Mrs. Calhoun Kammer and Mrs. J. N. Lott.

Mr. J. W. Brown and Dunlap have been to Prosperity for a visit to rel-

Mr. H. W. Crouch has been to Atlanta on a business trip.

Miss Mollie Quattlebaum and little niece have been guests of Mrs. John

Miss Mary Thrailkill has gone to Columbia to enter training at the Baptist hospital.

It is good to see the fine condition of the early gardens of some of the farmers who have planted on an extensive scale, with the view of selling. One farmer has a large field in English peas and on some of the vines already are small pods. A farmer is planning for a few acres in beans and another one will devote a large space to tomatoes.

The subject for the Baptist prayer meeting on Wednesday evening is the Connie Maxwell Orphanage, and a very interesting program is arranged, one feature being a demonstration by some of the children.

Dr. Kneece of Batesburg and Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Kneece of Ridge Spring have been visitors in the home of Mr. W. M. Clark.

Mrs. Bailey and Miss Frances Bailey of Greenwood spent the weekend here with Miss Edna Bailey.

Miss Fannie Pruitt, one of the High School teachers, who has been sick for several weeks is now much improved and can resume her class room duties.

Mrs. Ara Denny Reese of Columbia is the guest of Mrs. T. R. Denny.

Miss Dessie Dean' spent the weekend at Leesville with friends.

Miss Ella Mobley returned on Monday to Columbia after a visit here with the home folks. Miss Frances Turner

Washington, D. C. on Friday to attend the national D. A. R. Congress, going as a page from South Carolina In Columbia she will join the State Regent and others who will attend.

Mrs. Annie P. Lewis and Miss Marie Lewis have returned from a few weeks' visit to the former's sister, Mrs. Will Mobley in Thomson, Georgia.

the hospital in Columbia where she ped at Bold Springs in the afternoon. Mrs. O. S. Wertz is at home from went for treatment, and is much improved.

Mr. B. T. Boatwright returned last Wednesday from the Columbia hospital where he had been for the past month, having had typhoid fever.

The friends of Dr. and Mrs. James Halford sympathize with them deeply in the death of their infant son which occurred Friday. The precious guests of Mrs. J. J. Mayson recently. little baby was laid to rest in the Mount of Olives cemetery beneath a mound of flowers.

Miss Kathlen Tisdale has returned

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Clark are now residing in town.

Mr. and Mrs. Archie Lewis have been for a visit to friends in Thomson, Ga.

Mrs. Teague Price is visiting in the home of her father, Mr. J. R.

Mr. Alexander is improving his home by adding some rooms in the front, which is quite an addition.

Miss Blanche Sawyer who has been sick for the past three weeks, is now much improved.

Mrs. John Mobley was quite sick during the past week.

On Friday afternoon the alarm of fire was sounded, and the fire engine was on the scene in an almost increditable time. A crowd rushed to the scene, which appeared to be the rear end of a store burning, but it was only a large trash pile which had been carelessly placed rather close to the stores.

The mission study class of circle

No. 4 had an all day meeting Saturday with Mrs. J. H. White and a reveiw of the study was had. The day was most profitably spent with a review of the chapters and there were general discussions of the various points. Mrs. J. Howard Payne is the leader of this class and has made a good leader.

The Angeline Bacon chapter, C. of C., held a most enjoyable meeting Saturday with Miss Thelma Culbreath, who lives a few miles from town, and the ride out was a very pleasant one. Mrs. John Wright is the leader and Miss Marion Turner the president.

The Mary Ann Buie chapter, U.D. C., met with Mrs. Bessie Bean and Mrs. Will Hoyt on Thursday. Plans were made for Memorial Day April 26th, at which time, Mr. Rion McKissick of Greenville will speak. The chapter made a contribution to the memorial being erected by the Robt. E. Lee chapter in Seattle, Wash. The chapter endorsed the movement of the placing of true and unbiased histories in the schools, and will write to the State Board of Education. A historical program was carried out after business.

Mrs. S. M. Price has returned from visit to her son, Mr. James Price. of Batesburg.

Invitations have been received here by friends to the marriage of Miss Grace Haltiwanger, to Dr. Frampton, of Charleston. Miss Haltiwanger is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Haltiwanger of this place, and holds a responsible position in the Charleston Hospital, where she graduated as a nurse several years ago.

Messrs V. E. Edwards, J. W. Mc-Creight, Mr. P. N. Lott met with the County Board Assessors last Saturday to equalize taxes.

Quite a quantity of asparagus seed has been planted and a large acreage will be set next season and the farmers hope to have sufficient to ship a car a day.

In east Johnston can be seen the finest clover, crimson and brown, alfalfa and vetch, in the county.

Mr. A. B. Lott is some trucker, as his sales of lettuce in Augusta last week were quite satisfactory.

Callison News.

It seems natural to see the farmers tilling the soil again after so much bad weather.

Mr. and Mrs. I. C. Harrison of Grenwood spent last Thursday night very pleasantly in the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Mayson.

Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Kirby were business visitors in Augusta one day dence of supposed facts. To some last week.

Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Mayson and family and Miss Martha Bell were the dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Burnett Sunday, and worship-Mrs. J. P. Sullivan and little son J.

Test in Tonkawa.

Dear Advertiser: On Tuesday evening two artists, Mr. Glen Ellison, the Scotch baritone and Miss Alta Hill, pianist, appeared in a concert in Tonkawa, giving a tone test with the Edison ma-

Through one of the furniture stores here, invitations were issued to a very large number . The Methodist church was filled.

I had heard of tone tests before and always believed that the reproduction of the human voice on talking machines was very accurate, but never before had seen it so demon-

Mr. Ellison's program consisted mostly of Scotch songs, some of which Harry Lauder has made famous. One of Mr. Ellison's records was placed an the machine. He then sang with his own voice along with the mechanical reproduction of it, so that he seemed to be singing a duet with himself. From time to time he would stop, and if you did not watch the movement of his lips, you could not quite detect weether you were being entertained by the machine or the present voice of the ar-

During one of the numbers when Mr. Ellison was singing with the ma chine, the lights unexpectedly went out. I thought it made no difference to Mr. Ellison that he could sing as well in the dark as in the light. suddenly the lights came on, and Ellison had left the platform. We had been listening to the machine and Jid not know the difference.

That was a very good trick to play and thereby prove to the satisfaction of all, the excellence of the mechanical reproduction.

Miss Hill placed one of her solo records on the machine and then played the composition so much in unison with the record, that someone turned to me and asked if the artist only was playing. The audience was delighted as it well may have been.

The fact that it can be caught, from the clouds and want you. and made, like electricity to go through a material medium before it reaches them, gives it the contact with reality which makes it more intelligible.

It is through the records of Gallicurci and Alma Gluck that the great majority of the people have lea.ned to appreciate these artists, and through them, good music.

Mr. Ellison was exceedingly gracious as most great artists are on the stage, and most great people in life. An artist's personal charm and pleasant manner make half of his effect. Immediately on approaching an audience, he is taken into their good graces, or he is unconsciously rejected. He is weighed in the balance, and his good points are magnified or his defects over-estimated through the performance by his very attitude.

He must assume a joy that he does not feel, pretend a pleasure that he may not experience, and finally, through the evening the smile that is at first on his lips, may finally reach his heart.

The real intent and purpose of the association, while fully set forth in Article II, may need a little explanation. It is not the desire nor intent of the association to have the relationship which is brought about through its meetings between teachers and parents to be used ... a means of injecting home discipline into the school nor home discipline into the home. Each class of discipline should be, and is, a thing to be administered agination did not even have to be in its proper place, and it is highly brought into play, for if one cply improbable that either the teachers closed his eyes, he could believe that or the parents would attempt to take the mechanical reproduction was the advantage of any confidences which might be secured by virtue of their coming into contact with each other through the association meetings.

It can not be denied, however, that the personal equation so established between the parents and the teachers will most materially help, and in many cases will absolutely effect that full understanding of each other which should exist between the pupils and the teachers.

The parents do not join and take active part in the activities of the association for the purpose of keeping tab on their children, but become members with the idea of assisting their children through that close and true comradeship which should always exist between parent and child.

Likewise, the teachers do not participate in the activities of the asso-To the average audience there is establishing such personal equation Since reading the above, don't you

RED OAK GROVE.

Mr. Friar, who is in the hospital, is Interesting Closing Exercises of School. Sermon by Dr. Lightfoot on the First Sunday.

The closing exercise of Red Oak Grove school afforded quite a pleasant evening for the patrons and a goodly number of visitors and friends on last Friday. The entire play reflected much credit to both the teacher and pupils. Here is hoping Red Oak Grove school will continue to try and keep in line, grow and prosper. And that its teacher, Mrs. Maggie Roberson, to whom much praise was applauded, may return next fall, which will mean quite a promotion for old Red Oak Grove. Following is the program:

We trust much good may result from the services held on that date, and we regretted being sick that we could not be present, because we would like to have given pledges will be duly paid. The crisis ing under the shadow of His protecting wings, will win, because of the promises left to those who trust Him. So let's think more of our duty to Him and less of the world, then the cloud that now is dark, will dawn into the brightest day.
