JOHNSTON LETTER.

Tubercular Clinic to be Held. Prayer Meeting by Young People. New Century Club Met.

On July 8th a Tubercular Clinic will open up here and a special nurse and physician will examine, free of charge, all desiring. This is operated by the state and the nurse comes here from Orangeburg county, where a good work was carried on. It is hoped that much interest will be aroused over this and that friends who know know of those that would like an examination will give publicity to the matter.

Mrs. Frank Weir and little daughter have returned to Charleston, being accompanied by Miss Isoline Westmoreland.

The Johnston union, W. C. T. U. joined in with the Edgefield union on Jennie Cassaday's birthday, and spread a picnic for the inmates of the county home. This is a beautiful work on the part of the W. C. T. U., and their coming is always eagerly anticipated by the inmates. A contest was arranged of song and recitation for their pleasure and in this little Miss Ruth Sawyer won the prize for the best recitation and Nora Berry, in song. Those competing were members of the Johnston L. T. L.

Mr. Wiley Derick has been quite sick for the past week.

Miss Tishie Walton and Mr. Mat Walton of the Good Hope section, are visiting in the home of Mr. W. T. Walton.

Misses Betsy McFall and Carolyn Eggs are expected this week to visit Miss Mary Walker.

Mr. and Mrs. Herlong are at home from a short visit to Newberry.

Mr. F. L. Parker, Jr., is now at home having graduated with honors at S. C. University.

Misses Ola and Ella Smith are at home from the eastern section of the state where they have been teaching.

Mrs. David Phillips of Springfield, is visiting in the home of her mother, Mrs. Mary Waters.

Officers of the Girls' Auxiliary, Baptist church, were elected on last Sunday afternoon and were as follows: president, Miss Grace Turner; vice-president, Miss Inez Rhoden; secretary, Miss Louise Jones; treasurer, Miss Willie Waters.

The Children of the Confederacy ended their year's activities with a picnic at Salter's pond on Friday, and a very happy day was spent. The pond was the chief attraction of the day, and next came the good dinner spread out under the shade trees by the mothers who went with the young people.

The prayer meeting this week at the Baptist church will be in charge of the young people, and one from each college will tell of the religious side of this college life.

The little child of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Crouch has been critically ill at the Baptist hospital.

A sad death was that of Mrs. W. S. Meyers, the wife of Rev. W. S. Meyers, which occurred at the home of her mother, Mrs. Addie LaGrone, who resides near town. Mrs. Meyers went with her adopted son, who had started to a field to get some straw. She was sitting in the wagon and the horse was suddenly frightened and ran away, throwing Mrs. Meyers from the wagon, her head striking a tree. This occurred very near the home so medical aid was given quickly, but she died in a few hours. Mrs. Meyers was Miss Talulah LaGrone before her marriage and besides her husband and mother, she leaves two sisters, Misses Ada and Vida LaGrone and one brother, Mr. Cal LaGrone. She was a beautiful Christian character and her death is deeply deplored. The funeral services were conducted at the grove in Mt. of Olives cemetery. The beautiful service, a last tribute to her memory, was a testimonial for all that her life stood for.

Mrs. Leora Wright Simmons has arrived from Hartsville to spend the summer here. For the past three years she has been matron at Coker College, which position she has filled most acceptably, and is beloved by the whole student body.

Miss Emmie Wright, who has been teaching at Wake Forest, N. C., is here for the summer vacation and will spend the time with her sister, Mrs. Eula Gleaton, and father, Mr. Wallace Wright who resides near town.

Mrs. Bowen, of Macon, Ga., is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Claude Hart.

Miss Huggins is visiting her sister, Dr. Mary Huggins.

Mrs. Olin Eidson went to Aiken on Friday to attend the meeting of the Methodist conference of Missionary workers.

Mr. Henry Clark, of Aiken has been for a visit to his father, Mr. M. W. Clark.

Miss Eleanor Mims of Edgefield is the guest of her cousin, Miss Mary Walker.

The New Century Club met with Mrs. Edwin Dasher on Tuesday afternoon, and it was regretted that the threatening weather prevented a full attendance, but there were 13, and the meeting was very pleasant. Mrs. P. B. Waters conducted the meeting and the members heard with pleasure that all indebtedness was paid and there was $8 on hand. The club voted to study Famous Women, and will secure the outlined year books from Extension Department, Winthrop college, which also furnishes much information for the postage. The program was on State Needs and was very interesting. The social hour was very pleasant, the hostess serving delicious cherry pie with frozen cream and iced tea. The tables were decorated with cherries.

Miss Virginia Cassels of Ellenton is visiting in the home of Mr. W. P. Cassels.

Miss Margery George of Aiken is the guest of Mrs. W. D. Woodward.

The W. C. T. U. met Friday afternoon with Mrs. W. L. Templeton.

Several new members had been secured by campaign and the members were urged to continue the good work. The union will give $5 toward the county contest medals. The nurse for the tubercular clinic, Miss Murphy, was present and spoke of the urgent need of this work. The officers for the coming year were all re-elected: President, Mrs. T. R. Denney; vice-president, Miss Clara Sawyer; recording secretary, Mrs. Olin Eidson; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Bessie Bean; treasurer, Mrs. J. W. Marsh. The subject for the afternoon was the "Flower Mission," and Jennie Cassaday's birthday, and a beautiful program was carried out, readings being given by Mrs. Susie Latimer, Mrs. P. B. Waters and Mrs. J. H. White. A chorus by several little girls was enjoyed and Ruth Sawyer recited "The Mission of the Flower."

A large crowd attended services at Stevens Creek Sunday morning. We all regret very much to give up our pastor, Mr. Brooke.

We all sympathize with Mrs. Sallie Bryan in the serious illness of her son, Mr. Trapp Bryan of Thomson, Georgia.

Messrs Felix Walker and son and Willie and Raymond Timmerman worshipped at Stevens Creek Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Turner and little son, Stewart spent Saturday night and Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Frontis Timmerman.

Messrs. John Ransom and John Blocker, Jr., spent Saturday night with Mr. Leslie Rearden.

Mrs. J. R. Blocker and daughter, Addie spent Tuesday with Mrs. Margaret Stevens.

Messrs Rufus Johnson and Jesse Strom spent last Saturday night with Mr. Jake Bryan.

Mrs. Katie Johnson and son made a business trip to Edgefield Saturday.

Mr. J. D. Moore and Miss Hazel Ouzts were the guests of Mr. J. P. Ouzts Saturday.

Mr. Charlie Griffin spent Friday night with Mr. W. M. Ransom.

We extend our deepest sympathy to Mr. F. L. Timmerman, Jr., in the death of his wife.

Harvard Must Not Degrade Itself.

Harvard is one of the greatest educational institutions in the world. It has had a splendid and an inspiring history.

This great university cannot afford to tolerate narrowness and bigotry in any form.

Our Twentieth Century of progress and of development is not a century in which bigots should be licensed to rule useful institutions.

Harvard is important in the lift of the nation, and therefore the University cannot afford to tolerate a policy of discrimination against the Jews.

To limit the number of Jewish students admitted to the University's halls, would certainly be discriminating against a race which has produced some of the world's most intelligent men and women, and which has given this Republic some of its most useful citizens.

Such a policy could not fail to impair the usefulness of the University, for it would not only be unworthy and petty, but it would be degrading.

Harvard—the college of great Americans—cannot afford to degrade itself! It must not give up a lofty standard in order to please prejudiced and unintelligent men.

When ignorant men seek to adopt rules which discriminate against Jews nobody should be surprised for nothing better should be expected of the ignorant. But nobody expects to find ignorance in universities.

Harvard must maintain a worthy standard, if it hopes to be respected by the intelligence of the Republic.

All thinking people know the value of our American citizens in whose veins course the blood of Israel.

All educated Americans know that Benjamin Disraeli uttered a truth on the floor of the British House of Commons, when, in replying to a scornful remark of a member, he reminded him that when his ancestors were savages, drinking blood from the skulls of savage victims, his ancestors were princes and princesses in Israel, worshipping God in the Temple!—Charleston-American.

Mims-Rinehart.

A marriage of much interest was that of Miss Eugenia Mims to Mr. Joseph D. Rinehart, June 11.

The marriage took place at the home of the bride. At 3:30 several of the groom's friends, the sisters, brothers, nieces and nephews of the bride gathered in the parlor to see this happy couple united by the Rev. M. D. Padgett. The bride wore a beautiful crepe meteor traveling dress trimmed with touches of salmon crepe de chine, with accessories to match.

After the ceremony the bride and groom motored to Saluda where they will make their home. Mr. Rinehart is a prominent young farmer in Saluda where Miss Mims has been teaching for the past three years. Although there is a large community in which the loss of this popular young lady will be keenly felt, her many valuable traits are well known and appreciated in the community in which she will now make her home.

The many friends of this popular couple wish them much happiness.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to express our heartfelt thanks through the columns of your paper to all the people of Edgefield who so sympathetically tendered their service to us in this sad bereavement in the death of our dear, beloved daughter, and sister. And also in the Meeting Street, Pleasant Lane and Berea communities we thank all who expressed sympathy, for kindly deeds and for such beautiful flowers we assure you that she who now is at rest under the mound of flowers, was one who dearly loved them while living.

Sincerely,
Father, Mother, Brothers, Sisters.

I am now prepared to sell ice in any quantity. Will deliver anywhere in town.

Addison Mills to Change Hands.

Mr. Henry P. Kendall, president and treasurer of the Lewis Manufacturing Company of Walpole, Mass., will take over the management of the Wateree Mills in Camden, also the Addison Mills in Edgefield, S. C., on July 1, of this year. When Lewis Manufacturing Co., purchased from Lockwood, Greene & Co., in June, 1916, these two plants, Mr. Kendall requested Lockwood, Greene & Co., to continue to manage these mills until the Lewis Manufacturing Co., was properly organized to enter the field of manufacturing cotton cloth in addition to their regular business as bleachers and finishers. This temporary period has continued longer than at first anticipated, namely—for six years.

Mr. Kendall is now prepared to operate these two plants in South Carolina in conjunction with the Lewis Manufacturing Co., and the Slatersville Finishing Co. The Lewis company is the sole owner of the capital stock of Wateree and Addison Mills, and with the parent organization now developed to take cotton manufacturing the transfer at this time is advisable and fitting.

Cold Spring News.

Our crowd at Sunday school was smaller Sunday on account of the all-day service at Barr's Chapel. But the lesson was very much enjoyed by those present. We could get so many beautiful lessons from this character to take home with us, for the human soul as it exists can be made whole through struggle and suffering as did Jeremiah.

There has been so much rain that General Green is about to get the best of the farmers.

Mr. Charlie McDaniel lost two fine mules by lightning the first Sunday afternoon.

The June U. D. C. Meeting.

The June meeting of the U. D. C. was an enjoyable one held at "East Hill" with Mrs. Helen Sheppard Nicholson.

Mrs. Jeff Wright, president, asked the members to stand to say the Lord's Prayer in unison for the opening.

Miss Sophie Dobson, secretary, read the minutes of the last meeting which stood approved.

Mrs. R. A. Marsh, treasurer, made a special report of Memorial Day expenses. An effort will be made to collect all yearly dues, as the chapter needs each member's quota to meet its pledges to the scholarship funds.

The Daughters have turned their great, patriotic zeal to erecting living monuments in the educational opportunities they offer in their splendid scholarships, truly monuments as great as those of enduring granite, which tell of our cause and its matchless leaders, and only by the loyalty of each and every Daughter can this great goal be reached.

Mrs. B. B. Jones spoke intertainingly of "The Johnny Rebs," the organization of young girls of the Confederacy, of which she is leader.

Mrs. R. A. Marsh was appointed to represent the chapter at the Red Cross meeting, which is to be held at the Dixie Highway Hotel, June 23.

Mrs. A. E. Padgett and Mrs. Thos. H. Rainsford were appointed as a committee from the chapter to meet with Miss Anne Murphy, of the State Tuberculosis Association, at the hotel Thursday of this week.

After the close of the business session, Mrs. Nicholson, historian, had an interesting session.

Miss Mary Evans had given the chapter a copy of her father, Gen. Nathan Croge Evans' report of the battle of Secessionville, which was read by Mrs. Feltham.

Mrs. B. B. Jones read a personal letter received by General Evans at the time of the secession, which was very interesting.

Mrs. Lovick Mims read a charming account of a visit of President Davis and some of his cabinet members and military leaders to the home of her grandfather, Judge Wallace, in Union, written by Mrs. John C. Sheppard, whose vivid childish recollections were very entertaining.

Miss Sophie Mims volunteered to assist Mrs. P. P. Blalock, Sr., in typing the chapter's valuable historical papers, a work which is absolutely necessary and invaluable.

A tempting course of nut spice cake and block orange ice was served, concluding the chapter's last meeting before the two months' vacation.

McKendree News.

We are sorry to report slow progress being made in farm work, owing to excessive rainfall for the last two or three weeks.

The farmers of this section have harvested their grain and the yield is good.

On last Sunday Mr. and Mrs. A. Harling attended children's day at Gasaway church and reported a splendid day.

Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Turner of Way Cross spent Saturday night and Sunday at the home of Mrs. Frontis Timmerman.

Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Walker of Pleasant Lane motored to Greenwood Saturday afternoon and spent the night with their brother, Mr. Tom Dorn.

On Friday morning a Sunday school institute was held at McKendree church. Rev. Leo D. Gillespie and Miss Allbright were present and gave splendid talks on Sunday School work and how to conduct same. A goodly number was present and enjoyed the services.

We are very sorry to learn of the death of Mrs. Jim Hamilton, who for several years lived in this community, but for the last ten or twelve years had been living with her daughter near Cambridge Store. She leaves her husband and five children.
