

Dispensary Voted Down.

Despite Senator Tillman's Influence and the Loss of Liquor Profits the Vote Against the Institution was Heavy.

McCue Sentenced to Hang.

Charlottesville, Va., Nov. 9.—After overruling five motions for a new trial, Judge George Watts Morris, of the Charlottesville Corporation Court, today sentenced J. Samuel McCue...

Judge Morris then ordered McCue to arise and hear the sentence. The prisoner walked to the railing in front of the judge and stood with arms folded.

"Is there any reason why sentence should not be passed upon you?" asked Judge Morris.

"Yes," was the answer as the convicted man dropped his arms to his side. "I am as innocent of this crime as any one in this court house, and I hope some day to have the opportunity to vindicate myself."

This statement was made in a voice scarcely audible throughout the room. It trembled with suppressed emotion, as if the accused was upon the verge of a tearful collapse.

The Court replied: "The point of your guilt or innocence is a matter that was left to the jury. This court, thank God, did not have to pass upon it. The jury has decided after a fair and impartial trial that you are guilty of the offense, and it only remains for me to pass the sentence of the law, which is that you be taken to the county jail of Albemarle county, which is also used as the city jail of Charlottesville, and therein be confined in solitary confinement until the 20th day of January next; that on that day, between the hours of sunrise and sunset, you be taken from your place of confinement to some place within the inclosure of the said jail and there be hanged by the neck until you are dead, and may God have mercy on your soul."

A Policeman's Testimony.

J. N. Peterson, night policeman of Nashua, Ia., writes, "Last winter I had a cold on my lungs and tried at least half a dozen advertised cough medicines and had treatment from two physicians without getting any benefit. A friend recommended Foley's Honey and Tar and two thirds of a bottle cured me. I consider it the greatest cough and lung medicine in the world." Sold by Funderburk Pharmacy.

DOESN'T RESPECT OLD AGE.

It's shameful when youth fail to show proper respect for old age, but just the contrary is the case of Dr. King's New Life Pills. They cut off maladies no matter sever and irrespective of old age. Dyspepsia, Jaundice, Fever, Constipation all yield to this perfect pill. 25c, at Crawford Bros., J. F. Mackey & Co. and Funderburk Pharmacy, Drug Store.

Election Fatalities.

Wilmington, Del., Nov. 8.—During a fight at the polls of the first district of the second ward here tonight Harvey Miller was shot and killed by John Bell. Both are colored.

Camden, N. J., Nov. 6.—During an election row here tonight James Brown, aged 41 years was struck on the head with a club and died later in a hospital. No arrests were made.

Huntington, W. Va., Nov. 8.—During an argument over the election Charles Blake shot and killed Hunter Reynolds tonight. The town is wild with excitement. Extra police officers have been sworn in.

Cripple Creek, Col., Nov. 8.—Two Democratic election judges were killed in this district today, a Peabody sheriff was mortally wounded and a number of Democratic judges were beaten and thrown into jail. Ike Idelbolt and Chris Miller, judges at Gold Field, were shot down by one of Sheriff Bell's deputies. The sheriff ordered the deputy out of the polling place. He refused to go and turning upon the judges shot and killed them.

James Wofford, the deputy who killed the two election officers in Gold Field, was a secret service man during the military rule in the district. Miller and Idelbolt were union men.

At Midway, Ed Doyle, a deputy sheriff, assaulted Mrs. Kennedy, a Democratic judge and in a struggle that ensued tore her dress and slapped her. Ed O'Leary, a Democratic watchman, interfered and shot Doyle, fatally wounding him. O'Leary was arrested.

A Pathetic Scene.

It was a pathetic scene, and yet in some respects an amusing scene the reporter saw at the city prison this morning.

A man made in the image of his God came up street yesterday, visited a barroom and as a result fell into the hands of a police being placed behind the prison bar.

This morning after a night in a prison cell, he awoke with clear eyes, and being unable to put up a cash bond of $5-00 remained a prisoner. Wife and baby and old mother missed his accustomed home coming, and this morning appeared in his behalf.

The bond required was $5.00 and the poor old mother had $4.38. This she passed through the bars and went out in search of the additional 70 cents.

The wife, not more than a child in years and ways, stood by with the baby boy in her arms. The little fellow, bright, gay, joyful, little realizing the sad plight of his parents, cooed and crowed in delight when permitted to thrust his little hands through the bars. The child with proper environment and training might grow up to be a power in the land, but now the father is a drunkard and each hard earned penny goes for drink and fines.

This morning the man, himself behind the bars, and the wife and baby just on the outside, is overcome with remorse. The baby crawls with delight, the woman hangs her head in shame, and the man, shamefacedly, swears that he will never take another drink. It is the same old story of promises made and afterwards broken.

The man had made just such promises before, and yet the signs of a saloon and of drinking men drove all thoughts of the good resolves from his mind.—Charlotte News.

The News and Courier's argument for biennial sessions: "Annual sessions are held in only six States of the union." South Carolina should go with the majority. Divorces are allowed in every State in the union except South Carolina. The News and Courier must therefore, in consistency, advocate amending the constitution so that this State may get out of an honorable minority.—The State.

Fall River Mills.—vote to Resume Work With Reduced Scale.

Fall River, Mass., Nov. 3.—The cotton manufacturers of this city, whose mills have been idle since July on account of a strike of their employees over a 12 1-2 per cent. reduction in wages, today voted to open their plants to such operatives as desire to resume work under the reduction.

The vote to reopen the mills was taken after the manufacturers had rejected a proposition of the operatives to return pending action by an arbitration committee under the old rate of wages.
