CHILD DIES OF HYDROPHOBIA.

Batesburg, Nov. 19. - A very sad death occurred here last night. Carrel Hook, the 11 year old son of Mr. J. W. Hook, died after an illness of about four days. It will be remembered Carroll was bitten about two months ago by what was supposed to be a mad dog. Every attention was given him by the local physicians and he was earried to a madstone and treated for some time, and he had seeme ingly recovered from the effects of the bite. For the last three weeks he had been in school performing Greenville News from Seneca, J. his usual duties there. About R. Kay, treasurer of Oconee four days ago he began to show county is short about $2,000. symptoms of fever and complain Comptroller General Jones went of a pain in his arm. Drs. E. K Hardin and W. P. Timmerman were faithful in their treatment of the case, but all to no avail. It is the opinion of those who saw the little sufferer, and of the physicinus also; that his death resulted from the bite received on the 21st of September.

Destroyed Russian Arsenal.

Tokio, November 18 .- (3 P. M.) - A telegram from Moji reports the destruction of another Russian arsenal and magazine at Port Arthur. The Japanese discovered, it is said, the location of the arsenal and centered their artillery fire upod it. After dropping two hundred shells in the locality, they succeeded in blowing it up. The Japanose are widening their saps and are using them to move their guns followed.

The Russians continue their spirited sorties, using band grenades in their attacks upon the

A great many of our readers remember Rev. Joe Mundy, of Statesville. Joe used to come to Monroe semi-oecasianally and lecture Sunday afternoons in the court house. He was a past master in taking upa collection and in making sport of the amen corner church member. Joe has gone from the gutter to the pulpit and from the pulpit back to the gutter time after time, and has stood at about all the intermediate points all along the route. The last time we heard anything of the Rev Joe was in last Friday's Statesville Landmark, saying that Joe was trying to raise money to go to Keeley Institute to be cured of his great moral infirmity, and that he would deliver a lecture in the court house in Statesville on the following Sabbath and take a col lection for the purpose of defraying expenses while in the booze hospital. - Monroe Enquirer.

The Liquor Business.

The next reform in order in South Carolina is to get rid of the dispensary, and it needn't be replaced either by bar-rooms or state prohibition. License private parties under heavy bond to dispose of whiskey as the dispensary does-in sealed vessels containing not less than half a pint, not to be drunk on the premises and not to be sold between sunset and sunrise. Make the bond heavy and the license high. Take the state out of the mercantile business. Withdraw its capital from the wholesale liquor business. Reduce the constabulary and abol. ish the purchasing board. Elimate scandal and corruption and substitute a simpler, better, more moral and practical system. Give every county the privilege of local option and let any which wish it have prohibition. The dispensary must go. Its manner of selling is good, but its manner of buying and methods of management are bad. Retain the good and reject the bad. The people of the state will demand of the next general assembly this great reform. - Spartanburg Journal.
