Death of an Aged Lady.

Mrs Lucenia Robertson, widow of the late John Robertson of the Oakhurst section, died last Wednesday, Jan 11th, 1900, after a short illness. Mrs Robertson was 91 years of age and leaves two children surviving her, Mr A P Robertson of the Craigville section and Mrs E H Horton of Kershaw. She was a member of the Methodist church and her life was consistent with the profession she made. Her remains were interred at Salem churchyard Thursday afternoon after funeral services conducted by her pastor, Rev Mr Hicks.

Sudden Death.

Mrs Betsy Sinclair, wife of Mr Nelson Sinclair, died suddenly at her home several miles Northeast of town last Thursday. She was sitting before the fire after breakfast when a pain struck her suddenly in the left side of the neck and shoulder. A physician was phoned for but before he reached her home she was dead, having died in the chair where she was sitting.
The cause of death is supposed to have been neuralgia of the heart.
Mrs Sinclair was about 42 years of age, a daughter of the late J R Knight, and leaves her husband and seven or eight children surviving her. Her remains were interred yesterday afternoon.

Death of an Estimable Lady

The many friends here of Mrs.
Banks, mother of Prof. A. R.
Banks the superintendent of our graded school, were pained to learn of her death, which occurred last Tuesday night, Jan 10, 1905, at Fort Mill, S. C., where she had gone to visit her daughter, Mrs J. B. Mack. She left Lancaster just three weeks ago, seemingly in good health, but was cut down by pneumonia after a brief illness.

Mrs. Mary Elvira Banks, eldest daughter of John and Harriet Hudson Harrington, was born in Marion District (now Florence county) on Oct 1st, 1823, making her 81 years, 3 months and 10 days of age at her death. She leaves two children, Mrs. J. B.
Mack and Prof. A. R. Banks, ten grand-children and nineteen great-grand-children. Her husband, the Rev. Wm Banks, well remembered in Lancaster, once pastor of old Waxhaw Presbyterian church, died March 17, 1875—thirty years ago. Mrs. Banks was a highly cultured and most estimable lady. Her remains were interred at Fort Mill Wednesday afternoon, Rev. J. H. Thornwell conducting the funeral services. The exercises of the graded school here were suspended by order of the board of trustees through respect to the esteemed superintendent on the day of the burial.

Professor and Mrs. Banks returned home Thursday.

Committee Assignments of Lan- caster's Legislators

The Lancaster delegation has been assigned as follows on legislative committees:

Senator Hough as chairman of the Senate committee on penal and charitable institutions. Also on the judiciary, and the committee on privileges and elections, and retrenchment.

Representative Hamel appears on four house committees, viz: Incorporations, public printing, enrolled bills, and public schools.
Representative Foster was assigned to the judiciary, and the committee on State house and grounds.

—At an enthusiastic meeting of S O College alumni in Columbia Tuesday afternoon it was decided to raise an endowment fund of $100,000 for the institution.
More than $100,000 was subscribed in a very brief time.

—See Cloud's new advertisement. It always pays to read them.

—Mrs. W. U. Clyburn of Haile Gold Mine is spending a few days with his brother, Mr. L. M. Clyburn, at this place.

A handsome monument has been placed over the grave of the late Judge I D Witherspoon. It is in the form of a granite sarcophagus, and is a highly creditable piece of work. The cost was something over $600.—Yorkville Enquirer.

—The farmers of this county are certainly in earnest about holding their cotton. Mr Nisbet, the cotton weigher, is idle these days. He weighs on an average about two bales a day.

—We received a pleasant call yesterday from Mr Wilden Swar-ingen, editor and proprietor of The Edenton (N. C.) Transcript, who is here for a few days with his father, having come by from Raleigh where he attended the inauguration of the Governor this week. It has just been nine years since he was last in Lancaster and he is agreeably surprised at the growth and improvement of the town.

—“I am going to reduce the acreage in cotton on my farm this year 25 per cent. and I will use only half the amount of fertilizers I used last year,” said Mr J A Bridges of Heath Springs, in our presence yesterday. Mr Bridges raises about 80 bales per year.
Twelve acres to the plow is what he always puts in cotton but this year he will only put nine. Every farmer who does as Mr Bridges will do will be better off next fall.

An observer of such things says that there was less drunkenness in Fort Mill during the past week than he had ever known, which was probably due to Charlotte's dryness. Thus, it seems, the new Charlotte law bids fair to result in the making of two prohibition towns instead of one as intended.
