

[For The Ledger.
The Event of the Season at Sharon
S. C.]

On the evening of January 18, 1905, Miss Mae Bell Sims and Mr. C. L. Kennedy both of Sharon, S. C., were united in marriage. This union was consummated at the Presbyterian church by Rev. W. W. Ratchford, an uncle of the bride's of Waxhaw, N. C.

The church was beautifully decorated in green. Cedars were used for a background. Ivy and ferns formed a mound on which burned a pyramid of candles. Garlands of ivy were gracefully festooned overhead with a bower of mistletoe suspended just over the bridal altar. The wedding march was beautifully rendered by Mrs. E. H. Anderson of Blacksburg, S. C.

The bridal party entered the church in single file, crossed over in front of the altar and stood opposite. First came the ushers, Mr. Thomas Sims of Sharon down the left aisle and Mr. Leroy Dunn of Lancaster down the right aisle. Mr. Sims was followed by Miss Jennie Cain of Memphis, Tenn., and Mr. Dunn by Mr. E. F. Ratchford of Carlisle, S. C. Then followed the other couples: Miss Bessie Robinson of Bullock Creek, and Mr. H. W. Shannon of Sharon; Miss Anna Faulkner of Bethany and Mr. R. C. Ratchford of Waxhaw, N. C.; Miss Belle Plaxico of Smyrna and Mr. J. S. Rainey of Sharon; Miss Della Rhyne of Blacksburg and Mr. J. A. Whitesides of Smyrna; Miss Sadie Grist of Carlisle and Dr. W. M. Kennedy of Chester; Miss Lola Byers of Sharon and Mr. W. C. Thomson of Bullocks. Next came the maid of honor, Miss Alice Ratchford of Waxhaw, N. C., followed by the bride on the arm of her brother, Mr. Davis Sims. The groom came down the opposite aisle with his brother, Mr. W. A. Kennedy of Leslie.

The bride is one of the most attractive and popular girls in our town. She was beautifully attired in a white silk, her veil was held in place with a bunch of white carnations. She carried ferns and carnations tied with a white ribbon.

The maid of honor wore a white silk with white girdle and carried ferns and carnations. The other maids wore white silk mulls with green girdles and carried ferns and carnations tied with green ribbon.

The groom is a rising business man of excellent character. The large crowd that assembled to witness the marriage and the numerous presents received attest to the popularity of these young people. A reception was tendered the party at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Sims. The color scheme of white and green was carried out in the decorations in the parlors, hall and dining hall.

We wish for these young people a long and sweet union of hands and hearts.
A Friend.

Bill in Senate to Care for Destitute Confederates.—Cotton Seed Traffic.

Special to Charleston Post.

Columbia, Jan. 21.—After much debate and nearly a score of attempts to amend the House today passed, without amendment, Mr. Geldell's bill to regulate the traffic in cotton seed and unpacked lint cotton. The bill was opposed by the low country members.

The House killed Mr. Graham's bill to prohibit the taking of liens or mortgages on crops planted on lands of another without consent.

It also killed Mr. Sabon Mauldin's bill to tax property at its actual value.

It passed his bill to repeal the secret feature of the income tax, as it did the Senate resolution to investigate Greenville county's finances.

It passed Mr. Morgan's automobile bill.

In the Senate Mr. Brooks introduced a bill creating a board of managers consisting of B. W. Taylor, W. J. Gooding, J. Perry Glean, W. W. Ray and Iredell Jones, who were required to operate an infirmary for destitute Confederates on what is known as Wallace land near the asylum. The board is to be the judge of the persons to be admitted and is to use the money refunded on unclaimed pensions for maintaining the institution.

In both houses thrusts were made at the bill to perpetuate the historical commission, but the matter was postponed.

Favorable reports were submitted in the House today on the following:

Mr. Ashley's bill to repeal the act establishing the bureau of immigration. At Mr. Ashley's request it was made a special order for next Friday.

To make obstruction of a road or street a misdemeanor. Mr. Morgan's bill to allow special legislation as to roads. To forbid cock fighting.

These were unfavorably reported: To provide a tax for the better enforcement of the dispensary law; to regulate the sale for collection and charges as to freight; to require the sinking fund commission to sell or lease the State land in its possession; to repeal the law as to laborers' verbal contracts; to require all hangings to be done in the penitentiary; to prohibit child marriage; to provide for private examination of victims in rape cases.

Law of Trespass to be Changed.

The State, 21st inst.

Nearly all the morning session of the house of representatives was spent in discussing Mr. Ardrey's bill to prohibit trespass. The bill as finally passed to third reading is as follows:

"Section 1; That from and after the approval of this act, any person or persons entering upon the lands of another, for the purpose of hunting, fishing, trapping, netting, gathering fruit, vegetables, herbs, or cutting timber on the same without the consent of the owner or manager thereof, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof, shall pay a fine of not less than five (5) nor more than twenty (25) dollars, or be imprisoned at hard labor not less than ten (10) or more than thirty (30) days for each and every offense."

An Awful Sunday Passed in St. Petersburg.

Strikers Rise in Revolt Against the Government, and they, their Wives and Children, are Shot Down Like Dogs.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 22.—

This has been a day of unspeakable terror in St. Petersburg. The strikers of yesterday gave up to desperation by a day of violence, fury and bloodshed, are in a state of open insurrection against the government. A condition almost bordering on civil war exists in the terror-stricken Russian capital. The city is under martial law, with Prince Vasilchikoff as commander of over 50,000 of the Emperor's crack guards. Troops are bivouacking in the streets tonight at various places on the Nevsky Prospect, the main thoroughfare of the city.

Minister of the Interior Sviatopolk-Mirsky presented to his Majesty last night the invitation of the workmen to appear at their palace this afternoon and receive their petition, but the Emperor's advisors had already taken a decision to show a firm and resolute front, and the Emperor's answer to 100,000 workmen trying to make their way to the palace today was a solid array of troops who met them with rifle, bayonet and sabre. The priest, Gopon, the leader and ideal of the men, in his golden vestments, holding aloft the cross and marching at the head of thousands of workmen through the Narva Gate, miraculously escaped a volley which laid low half a hundred persons.

The figures of the total killed or wounded at the Moscow Gate, at various bridges and islands and at the Winter Palace vary. The best estimate is 500, although there are exaggerated figures placing the number as high as 5,000. Many men were accompanied by their wives and children, and in the confusion, which left no time for discrimination, the latter shared the fate of the men. The troops, with the exception of a single regiment, which is reported to have thrown down its arms, remained loyal and obeyed orders. But the blood which crimsoned the snow has fired the brains and passions of the strikers and turned women as well as men into wild beasts; and the cry of the infuriated populace is for vengeance.

The sympathy of the middle classes is with the workmen.
