The Age To Which Man Should . Live.

(From the Canadian Churchman) There has been very little, if any change, in the duration of man's life since the days of the patriarchs, that is, some four or five thousand yours ago. Every one did not attain to great age in those days, any more than they do to-day, for various reasons stated in the Bible, and as that is the place we have to go for early records I will begin with a quotation from it. Genesis. vi. 3: And the Lord said, My Spirit shall not always strive with man, for that he also is flesh: yet his days shall be an hundred and twenty

Once, during his second term, DR M P CRAWFORD DR R C BROWN Grover Cleveland was asked to speak at a function in a certain town, and when he arrived at the depot the wind was blowing a gale, sleet was driving and hailstones nearly as large as marbles were fiercely falling. Of course, the inevitable brass band was there, and at sight of the president the performers struck up with all the strenuosity at their command. "That is the most, realistic music I ever heard," remarked Mr Cleveland. "What are they trying to play?" asked Secretary Olney, who accompanied him. "Hail to the Chief !" replied the president, with a cheerful smile.

The public is aroused to a know ledge of the curative merits of that great medical tonic, Electric Bitters, for sick stomach, liver and kidney. Mary H. Walters, of 547 St. Clair Ave., Columbus, O., writes "For several months, I was given up to die. The New Orleans States says: "A Japanese colony in Texas raised last season a crop of rice which they sold at $2.50 a bushel They propose to plast 250 acres in rice this year. As a halt acre is considered a good sized farm in Japan, this implies a successful venture. They also propose to raise strawberries and other small fruits. Recently three prominent Japanese connected with the exhibit of that country at St Louis visited Texas with a view to arrange for the immigration of more Japanese. The people of Texas received them hospitably and are pleased at the prospect of such a desirable class of immigrants.

skill To earn my daily bread.

I belong to the "lower classes." That's a phrase we often meet: There are some who sneer at us working girls

As they pass us on the street. We are only the "lower classes," But the Sacred Records tell That when the Christ, our Master, Came down on earth to dwell,

He was one of the "lower class es." And he had to toil for bread-So poor that at times he had no place On which to lay his head.

- He dwelt not with the rich and mighty

Under gilded palace dome, But with the poor and the laboring He chose to make his home.

Ah ! wealth and high position Should seem of little worth

To us whose fellow-laborer

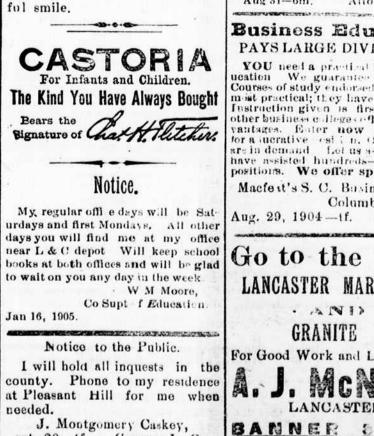

- Is the King of Heaven and Earth.
- So, working girl, when you meet with scorn,

Just lift your head in pride: The shield of honest womanhood

Can turn such sneers aside; And some day 'twill be understood That the purest, truest pearl Amid the gems of womanhood Is the honest working girl.
