Bethel Presbytery.

17 ministers and 35 elders attended the meeting of Bethel Presbytery at Heath Springs this week. The opening sermon was preached by Rev. W. L. Lingle, the retiring moderator. Rev. W. D. Knox was elected moderator, and W. A. Hafner assistant clerk. Reports of the various committees showed the work of the Presbytery to be in good condition. The remainder of the proceedings as given by the correspondent of the News and Courier were as follows:

The Presbytery unanimously adopted the system of educational institutions that has been formulated and adopted for the establishment and control of Presbyterian schools and colleges.

An interesting conference was held on home missions, discussing the work in the Presbytery. The Rev. E. E. Gillespie, of Yorkville, delivered an address on the Assembly's home mission, after which a collection, amounting to $175, was taken up to help seat the Heath Springs Church.

The meetings of Presbytery were interspersed with good sermons and from beginning to end the hospitality of the people was unbounded.

Stover-Tennant.

A very pretty home wedding took place on Wednesday evening, Sept. 6, at half past eight o'clock at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. B. G. Tennant, when their daughter, Miss Johnnie Tennant, was united in marriage with Mr. R. L. Stover of Kershaw. The parlor was tastefully decorated with vines and pot plants, and as the strains of the wedding march began, the bride and groom entered and took their places in front of the officiating minister, Rev. S. C. Byrd. On either side of them stood the bridesmaids, Miss Mary Tennant and Miss Janie Stover.

The bride wore a beautiful gown of white organdie, set with lace medallions, and carried a bouquet of ferns and lilies. Her veil was fastened with a spray of white asters. The bridesmaids also wore white, and carried bouquets of roses and double white altheas.

After the ceremony, a short time was spent in congratulations and in admiring the wedding presents, after which the guests were invited into the dining room, where a sumptuous repast was furnished.

After supper, the bride donned her going-away costume, a very becoming toilet of changeable blue and grey silk, with hat to match; and the newly wedded pair left on the midnight train for Kershaw, their future home, followed by showers of rice and sincere congratulations from their numerous friends.—Winnsboro News and Herald.

The Confederate Monument.

In soliciting funds for the Confederate Monument, we feel that our call appeals to every resident of Lancaster County, and we need the aid of every one without exception; it is impossible, however to make a personal application to the people in every part of the county. We therefore make this proposition to the women of the county, (those living both in town, and the country,) that every woman send $1.00 to any of the following persons, who are each chairman, of their respective committees, for soliciting subscriptions—the names of those contributing will be regularly published in the county papers.

Mrs. L. B. Foster,
Mrs. John T. Green,
Mrs. M. R. McCordell, } Com.
Mrs. J. M. Riddle,

"I am going to sow plenty of oats this year," said a successful Lancaster county farmer the other day, "and I am going to sow them this month and sow them in the 'open furrow.' I have tried that method and I find it the best, safest method of sowing. I shall break my land good and deep and then harrow; then lay off in rows and plant with a Gantt cotton planter. Oats planted that way are not killed by the cold as with the old way, and they produce more." Which bears out the experience of all who have tried the "open furrow" plan.

Notice.

Whereas one fourth of the qualified voters of Lancaster County have filed with me, as Supervisor of this County, a petition asking for a vote on the question of the removal of all Dispensaries in said County, now, by authority vested in me by law, I hereby order an election, to be held in Lancaster County on the first Tuesday in October, 1905, on the question of "Dispensary" or "No Dispensary."
