

A Sure Sign of Success. No one who reads the Herald but will be gratified to know that its increased business, both in advertising and subscription, is such as to warrant the present enlargement.

To the business community of Columbia, Orangeburg, Charleston and Augusta, it will at once be seen that there is no better medium of circulation through which to advertise, than in its columns.

Friend Wilson of Abbeville is informed that the ink did arrive, and that warrentum thanks for the same. The Bulletin however seldom favors us with a visit.

Friend Wilson of Abbeville is informed that the ink did arrive, and that warrentum thanks for the same. The Bulletin however seldom favors us with a visit.

The Charleston News. We have been favored with the first numbers of this paper, lately started in Charleston, and half its appearance with pleasure.

The Forwarding Business. So long as our roads are disconnected, must the public generally employ agents to assist them with their business, at distant points; a custom both wise and economical.

Attention is invited to card of Stocker & Son, Orangeburg, they purchase cotton and produce, and will forward the same to any point.

Numbers of anonymous letters having been received at Headquarters, the following information is respectfully given to those persons who are in the habit of writing such letters, and who seem ashamed to attach their names to them.

One old friend E. E. Jackson is afloat in a craft which carries a valuable cargo of merchandise, whose mooring is at Bedell's row, Columbia.

In a card to be found elsewhere, it will be seen, that the old firm of Williams & Covert have once more resumed business.

The villain! there must be a secret free masonry between officials, or else how account for the rascality; but as it comes from a newspaper, which many skeptics say cannot tell the truth, a liberal allowance must be made accordingly.

An old criminal was once asked what was the cause which led to his ruin, when he answered—"Cheating a printer out of two years' subscription! When I had done that the devil took such a grip on me that I could not shake him off." Delinquents, reflect before it is too late.

Texas papers report the robbers infesting Texas as having everything their own way. Several persons in Hayes County were hanged till nearly dead, in order to extort money from them.

Wife Preferable.—The use of the word "lady," instead of the word "wife," is a vulgarism in language. We often notice it in exchange papers. There is no better or more expressive word than "wife," and we hope journalists will insist on its correct use.

A letter from Paris received in Washington says that great home prevails among the French officials, in order to extort money from them. Between San Antonio and Austin the stages and wagons were regularly robbed.

The Springfield Republican says the cow that drank eighteen gallons of whisky recently in Troy has been furnishing her owner with milk punch ever since.

A brilliant French Countess had committed suicide at Baden-Baden, in consequence of losses at the gambling table.

COMING.—It is said that a large emigration of Germans to this State may shortly be expected.

LOCAL ITEMS.

Corporal Bowman, of Co. K, 56th Reg., committed suicide last week. He shot himself through the heart. No cause is assigned for the rash act.

Folks will confer favors, and we must return compliments. The dashing Adjutant Eoomis, touched us vitally this morning, while under a cloud, and we are now as bright as a new dollar. May he never grow dry.

The unusual number of advertisements this week, together with the fact that a "chill" took hold of our "four" when he was the most needed, obliges us to lay over several communications. No offense is meant to the authors, necessity compels it.

We are requested to state that Capt. C. W. Parker will open an extensive and beautiful assortment of Dry Goods, on to-morrow, in the store next to the Provost Marshall's office, Law Range. This stock of goods, it is said, is most desirable and embraces a very large variety of just such articles as the ladies love to look at.

"The proof of the pudding is in chewing the bag," and the surest way to test a cigar is to smoke it, and that we have done, and not one but many. The clean thing is done at Harris', and it is he who has the article, which while puffing will drive off the blues, and smooth away all wrinkles.

The Meeting.—On Saturday, was quite large, but strange to say, no one seemed to know what brought them there, or what they had to do. Confusion was predominant. A chair being appointed, a motion was called for, several of which were offered, but as most of them were in appro- perty they fell to the ground.

Advertisements.—Every body is advertising in town now, all who have anything to sell, and we are pleased to name them as follows:

- Webb & Lovelace—Dry Goods, Groceries, and a general variety of desirable articles, cheaper than the cheapest.

COMMUNICATED. NEWBERRY, S. C., Aug. 28, 1865.

Numbers of anonymous letters having been received at Headquarters, the following information is respectfully given to those persons who are in the habit of writing such letters, and who seem ashamed to attach their names to them.

There is no doubt but what the presence of Yankees in Newberry are distasteful to some few people, but they will have to abide by it for some time. "Fools in pantaloons" do not seem to be as numerous as "Fools in petticoats," as some of the latter class are to be seen on the street nearly every morning, dressed in good style, and flourishing their diamond rings, but who are actually willing to sell their furniture, while others are dependent on their neighbors for the greater portion of their daily bread.

The last card received denote, by the writing, a lady of education, and it is a great pity that she can find no better use for it than by writing to a Yankee and being afraid to sign her name.

For shame, Ladies! Can you not find some better employment to occupy your sweet leisure. Remember the adage, "those who live in glass houses should not throw stones."
