

PERUNA Best All Around Medicine Ever Made

I Hope You Will Publish This Letter

Mr. W. H. Edgar, 49 Cooper St., Atlanta, Georgia, writes: "I suffered for fifteen years with rheumatic symptoms. Peruna cured me and I think it is the best all around medicine ever made. I hope you will publish this letter for the benefit of others who suffer."

Those who object to liquid medicine can procure Peruna Tablets.

BREAD NEXT ON GOVT. LIST

For Regulation Against Greed of Unscrupulous Bakers.

Washington, Nov. 7.—An attempt to reduce bread prices will be the next move of the food administration in assuming control of the principal food commodities. At the request of Administrator Hoover, President Wilson will issue within a few days an order directing that every baker in the country be required to do business under a Federal license.

Rules and regulations governing the baking industry already have been drawn up by the food administration and will be put into operation as soon as the executive order is out. They will provide a standardized loaf of probably two sizes and standardizations of the bread contents. The bread formula has been selected and bakers will be permitted to use no other.

The new war bread will contain a reduced amount of fats, as both the lard and milk content will be cut down considerably. It probably will be produced in 20-ounce and 10-ounce loaves. No prices will be fixed outright, but the regulations will prescribe that only reasonable prices may be charged. Consumers' committees have reported to the administration that in most places loaves of this size can be sold at ten and five cents, respectively.

Food administration officials are giving serious consideration to the situation created by the short wheat crop, and it is believed likely that before many months bakers may be required to add a certain amount of corn flour in baking bread. Dietetic experts now are working out formulas containing wheat flour substitutes.

Cincinnati Authority Tells How to Dry Up Any Corn or Callus So It Lifts Right Off.

You corn-pestered men and women need suffer no longer. Wear the shoes that nearly killed you before, says this Cincinnati authority, because a few drops of freezezone applied directly on a tender, aching corn stops soreness at once and soon the corn loosens so it can be lifted out, root and all, without a bit of pain. A quarter of an ounce of freezezone costs very little at any drug store, but is sufficient to take off every hard or soft corn or callus. This should be tried, as it is inexpensive and is said not to inflame or even irritate the surrounding tissue or skin. If your wife wears high heels she will be glad to know of this.—Adv.

Clemson's Military Staff.

Clemson College, Nov. 7.—The Clemson military staff of instruction, discipline and supervision has at last been completed by the appointment of John E. Oberg as quartermaster of the institution. Mr. Oberg is a native Swede, but has had seven years' experience in the United States army, and comes highly recommended for his work as quartermaster. The Clemson military staff is unique in that each member of the staff is of a different nationality. Col. McFeeley, the commandant, being an American; Major Turnbull, the assistant commandant, a Canadian, and Capt. Oberg, the quartermaster, a Swede.

All the fertilizer factories advanced prices on all grades of fertilizer on November 5th. The advances range from 10 to 30 per cent on the different qualities. The manufacturers say that the increase in price is due to the advances in raw materials.

SHIPPING LOSSES WERE LOW.

British Reports Lowest Loss for a Number of Months.

London, Nov. 7.—A marked decrease in British merchant ships sunk during the last week is noted in the admiralty report to-night. Only eight vessels over 1,000 tons were sunk by mine or submarine and four vessels under that tonnage. No fishing vessels were sunk.

The summary: Arrivals, 2,684; sailings, 2,379; British merchantmen over 1,600 tons sunk by mine or submarine, including two previously, eight; under 1,600 tons, including one previously, four; fishing vessels sunk, none. British merchant vessels unsuccessfully attacked, including five previously, six.

The British ships reported lost by the latest admiralty report are smallest in point of numbers since the unrestricted submarine warfare began early in the year. They probably are the smallest in tonnage also, for, while in the week ending September 16 only eight vessels of 1,600 tons or over were sunk, 20 vessels under that tonnage were destroyed. The next best record in point of numbers was in the week ending September 30, when 13 vessels were sunk, 11 large and two small.

Italians Lose Five.

Rome, Nov. 7.—The Italian shipping losses from submarine in all seas for the week ending November 4 were two steamers under 1,500 tons and three sailing craft under 100 tons.

Two French Victims.

Paris, Nov. 8.—The losses to French shipping by submarine or mine in the week ending November 4, were one vessel over 1,600 tons, and one under that tonnage.

"SOME TATERS."

(Anderson Mail.)

In its last issue The Keowee Courier felicitated itself on having seen a sweet potato weighing six pounds and eight ounces. This potato was in the possession of John Ansel, and The Courier goes on to say:

"Recently, too, Mr. Ansel, in conversation with Capt. J. R. Anderson, of the Blue Ridge Railway, learned that in the city of Anderson, at no distant date in the past, a wagon load of sweet potatoes was brought into the city, the smallest one of which weighed 6 pounds, the largest about 17 pounds. The two-horse wagon load contained about 175 potatoes. We flatly refuse to vouch for any of the Anderson story. Some one told Capt. Anderson, who told Mr. Ansel, who told us. We are all members of the Ananias Club, and neither of us is willing to vouch for a statement made by the other."

Capt. Anderson was perfectly correct in the story he told Mr. Ansel and there is no Ananias talk by anyone who repeated it. The facts about the wagon load of potatoes and the 17-pounder are just as related, and it doesn't strain the credulity of people here, who know what sweet potatoes should be, to believe the story.

If our venerable Walthalla contemporary would come down almost any Anderson county farmer could show him tubers that would put its measly little six-pound 'tater to shame. Why, Jehu Jones, of Starr, brought into the Daily Mail office yesterday morning a potato weighing 14 1/2 pounds, and it was only a fair sample of his patch.

Anderson county potatoes are "some 'taters."

Anderson county must raise the largest potatoes in the whole world. Other communities get puffed up over a seven-pound potato, but here it only takes one to the peck.

AN AMERICAN "DEFEAT."

(Boston Transcript.)

Our first fighting contact with the Germans is a small disaster. It is, however, a much smaller disaster than Bull Run, from which the cause of the American Union somehow recovered. It will be remembered that the first encounters of American fighters with the British in 1775, at Concord, Lexington and Bunker Hill, were all reverses. But in the fighting inspiration which they gave to the people they operated very much like successes. The thought of those dozen American soldiers in German hands and of the three boys left lying in the trench will help to introduce the American people to the idea that we are at least on the threshold of our war with Germany. The Germans, of course, knew perfectly well where our troops were completing their training on the Rhine-Marne Canal, and in a somewhat characteristic German manner they planted a barrage fire in the right spot to facilitate the training process. But they cannot by this small demonstration bring that portion of the line forward as a field of important operations. It is out of the line of fighting for the present. The German papers are, of course, gloating with fine humor over the capture of these twelve soldiers, and the poor fellows will undoubtedly receive their share of the kicks and cuffs and other forms of maltreatment which the Germans are accustomed to visit upon their Anglo-Saxon prisoners. But the boys took the risk of that when they volunteered. The mutual gnawing process, the separation of small scouting parties or of the men on exposed salients, is a familiar feature of trench warfare. The first report of barbarous treatment of the American prisoners will be apt to react very unfavorably on alien enemies in America.

B. R. Wreck Last Week.

(Farm and Factory, 8th.)

Blue Ridge mixed train No. 8, Walthalla to Anderson, was wrecked at 3 o'clock Monday afternoon at 17 1/2 mile-post, at Steel Creek trestle, seven miles west of Anderson. The wreck occurred as the train was approaching the trestle, and one heavily loaded car containing wood fell from the trestle, burying itself in the water beneath. This car fell about 30 feet. Three other cars were derailed on the trestle, but they were gotten back on the track without a great deal of difficulty.

Health About Gone

Many thousands of women suffering from womanly trouble, have been benefited by the use of Cardui, the woman's tonic, according to letters we receive, similar to this one from Mrs. Z. V. Spell, of Hayne, N. C. "I could not stand on my feet, and just suffered terribly," she says. "As my suffering was so great, and he had tried other remedies, Dr. _____ had us get Cardui. . . I began improving, and it cured me. I know, and my doctor knows, what Cardui did for me, for my nerves and health were about gone."

TAKE CARDUI The Woman's Tonic

She writes further: "I am in splendid health . . . can do my work. I feel I owe it to Cardui, for I was in dreadful condition." If you are nervous, run-down and weak, or suffer from headache, backache, etc., every month, try Cardui. Thousands of women praise this medicine for the good it has done them, and many physicians who have used Cardui successfully with their women patients, for years, endorse this medicine. Think what it means to be in splendid health, like Mrs. Spell. Give Cardui a trial.
