PRESIDENT COTTON GROWERS

Will Speak in Greenville, Anderson, Columbia and Sumter.

Clemson College, Sept. 3.—Arrangements have been made by the South Carolina Cotton Growers' Co-operative Association and the Extension Service of Clemson College for Carl Williams, of Oklahoma, president of the American Cotton Growers' Exchange, to speak at Greenville, Anderson, Columbia and Sumter on Sept. 8th and 9th, according to W. W. Long, director of the extension service, who thinks that this will be an unusual opportunity for South Carolina people interested in co-operative marketing. Mr. Williams will speak as follows:

Greenville, 11 a. m., Thursday, Sept. 8th.

Anderson, 4 p. m., Thursday, Sept. 8th.

Columbia, 11 a. m., Friday, Sept. 9

Sumter, 4 p. m., Friday, Sept. 9.

Carl Williams can tell the whole story of co-operation for selling cotton. He is one of the leaders in the organization of the Oklahoma Cotton Growers' Co-operative Association, which was the first State association completing organization, 34,000 farmers having signed the contract. The Oklahoma association, under the leadership of Mr. Williams and others, is selling the 1921 cotton crop of that State under contract. He is also president of the American Cotton Growers' Exchange, which is the overhead cotton marketing association under which are federated the four or five State organizations already completed, and to which will be added other organizations as they are completed. His coming to South Carolina should boost the organization work in this State, and it is hoped that our farmers and others interested will make a point of hearing him speak at one of the four meetings as scheduled above.

Chattanooga School Community.

Mountain Rest, R. F. D., Sept. 5.—Special: Miss Pauline Mongold, who is a junior this year at the Georgia State Normal, has returned to Athens to resume her studies.

The family of Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Barker are enjoying a new Ford.

Miss Lois Mongold will leave next week for Demorest, Ga., where she is a prep. senior at Piedmont College.

Miss Grace Dell James has returned to her home in Bishopville. As a lay-by teacher for adults, sent out by the State Board of Education, she was unable to obtain a class at the school house. But with the loan of a horse by Mrs. W. B. Mongold and a saddle by Mrs. Isaac Henry, she was enabled to make a daily circuit of seven homes, giving lessons. Those who took regular lessons were Mrs. Adeline Ramey, Mrs. Julia Blackwell, Mrs. Indy Holmes, Mrs. Rebecca Cobb, Mr. and Mrs. Bry Cobb, Sr. As a gift a Bible was placed in the day school library.

Through the kindness of Miss Ethel Counts a number of helpful bulle-

QUIETING DOWN ON COAL FRONT

Situation Has Settled Itself Into One of Police Duty.

Charleston, W. Va., Sept. 6.—Taking advantage of the quiet situation in that part of the West Virginia mining region where fighting occurred last week between miners and others and State and county forces, Brig.-Gen. H. H. Bandholtz left military headquarters shortly after 9 o'clock today for an inspection of the affected territory. The general and his staff left by motor car for St. Albans, where he boarded a train the was bound for points up the Coal river valley. He expected to be gone all day.

Before leaving Gen. Bandholtz said that all parts of the affected mining zone were very quiet.

The situation has apparently settled itself into one of police duty in the hills of Boone and Logan counties, according to officers at army headquarters. Troops to-day pushed into the fastnesses of Spruce Fork Ridge, searching the ground for missing arms and any evidence of buried bodies. During the fighting last week there were reports that numbers of miners killed were buried in the woods. There is still no definite list of the number of casualties as a result of last week's shooting. Permits are not required in country districts to make interments, it was said, and for this reason no official list of the dead can be made. The number of persons killed is not believed to have been large.

Gen. Bandholtz in his latest report to Washington, stated that he would recommend a prompt return of the Camp Dix troops if conditions do not change. He also was of the opinion that it would not be necessary to invoke martial law.

Ice Cream Supper at Picket Post.

There will be an ice cream supper at Picket Post school house on the night of Thursday (to-morrow,) Sept. 8th. Cake and lemonade will also be sold. The school will also render a short program. The proceeds will be used for the improvement of the school. The public is cordially invited to attend. E. C. Pickens, Principal.

Gifts have been placed in the homes of the school patrons. In connection with the inquiry as to children who have not milk to drink, in 25 homes there are only five where there is no cow.

Mrs. N. L. Robins and Miss Kate Robins have returned to their brother's, after a pleasant visit among relatives in Walhalla.

Miss Amy Lyles will leave this week for Darlington to visit her brother, making the trip by car through the country with her brother, O. C. Lyles.

The latest newcomer is the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Phillips—Grace Pearl—on Aug. 29th.

Mrs. Caroline Bowers, of Clayton, Ga., was buried at Double Springs on Sunday, Rev. L. H. Raines conducting the funeral service.

THE LOCAL NEWS FROM SENECA.

The Schools Opened New Session in Fine Condition—Personals.

Seneca, Sept. 6.—Special:—Mrs. Leavell returns to Oxford, Miss., this week, after spending several months with her daughter, Mrs. J. H. Bryan, and son, Joe Brown. Mrs. Leavell has a large number of friends here who would be delighted to have her make her home in Seneca.

Dr. E. A. Hines was in Columbia recently attending the executive committee meeting of the State Board of Health, of which he is a member. Miss Louise Dendy leaves this week for Durham, N. C., to enter upon the duties of teaching in the high school of that city. Miss Dendy is a 1921 graduate of Winthrop College, and we bespeak for her pronounced success in her new field of work.

Mrs. W. J. Willis is expected home the latter part of the week, after a delightful stay at Blowing Rock and other popular summer resorts in the mountains of Western North Carolina.

All of Seneca extends a warm hand shake and welcome to Mr. and Mrs. Jas. L. Lowery and family on their return to Seneca after an absence of a couple of years, during which time they have resided in Shelby, N. C. They are occupying the new cottage owned by Fred Hopkins.

Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Daniel and family have returned to Sumter after spending the month of August at their summer home near town. Dr. Daniel is having some improvements made on his home preparatory to making Seneca his permanent home in the near future. This will be learned with pleasure by our people, who will give this most estimable family a cordial welcome.

The Wizard of Tamassée Chapter, D. A. R., will meet Tuesday afternoon, the 20th, and enter upon D. A. R. activities again, after having disbanded for the summer months. The place of meeting will be announced later.

Miss Margaret Morrison, of Clemson, visited Mrs. J. S. Stribling and other friends here for several days last week.

Miss Clyde Smith, who successfully taught the third grade in our school several years, will go to Abbeville, where she will be a member of the school faculty this year.

Rev. I. E. Wallace is holding a series of meetings this week in the Fair Play Presbyterian church.

The Woman's Auxiliary of the Presbyterian church is called to meet this (Wednesday) afternoon at 4:30 o'clock in the church. This being the quarterly business meeting of the year a full attendance is desired.

Within the next week there will be an outgoing of our girls and boys to enter the various colleges of the State. Among the number will be Miss Marie Helotte, who goes to Marysville College, Marysville, Tenn.; Miss Bennie Brown, Chicago; Miss Lela Barron and Miss Frances Alexander, Miss Helen Price, Winthrop; Miss Camille Wood, Anderson; Misses Alice Adams, Nina Harper, Grace Alexander, Madeline and Lois Dilworth, G. W. C., Greenville. The three last named are from Newry, but are Seneca High School graduates. The boys who will leave for college are Jim Shirley, Bailey Military Institute; Marshal Dendy, Presbyterian College; Albert Meiburg, Medical College, Charleston; Will Anderson, Clarence Ellison, Rhoderic Heller and John Morris, Clemson. Perhaps there are others of whom we have not been informed who will leave for college.

The teachers' recital which was given Friday evening in the school auditorium by Mrs. Julian Dendy, piano and voice, and Miss Ethel Cromer, expression, was a rare treat and was heard by an appreciative audience. Mrs. Dendy is an accomplished musician. Her technique and style, as well as her interpretation, are unusually fine. Her voice shows a wonderful degree of culture. Miss Cromer's readings were given in that natural, easy manner, and with her pleasant stage bearing made them most acceptable to the audience. Miss Elizabeth Thode rendered her part as accompanist very creditably. Seneca is to be congratulated upon having Mrs. Dendy and Mrs. Cromer on her school faculty.

Seneca schools opened last Thursday morning with unusually flattering prospects. The auditorium was filled with patrons and friends of the school. Supt. J. P. Coates had charge of the program. Rev. J. W. Willis led the devotional exercises and Rev. J. H. Hardy led in prayer. Both of these gentlemen gave short talks, which were very appropriate. They were followed by a talk from the County Superintendent of Education, L. C. Spears, who gave a concise outline of the work which has been planned for all the schools in Oconee. The same plans are to be presented State-wide. Supt. Coates' talk regarding the wonderful strides our school has made in the past few years shows the increased interest our people have in education. He also referred to the conspicuous absence of Rev. I. E. Wallace, who is always present at the opening session of the school, and Dr. E. A. Hines, chairman of the board of trustees, who have never missed an opening in twenty-four years until now. These gentlemen were unavoidably

PINK GRIFFIN PAID PENALTY

For His Crime—Was Murderer of Dr. Lipscomb, of Ninety-Six.

(Columbia State, Sept. 3.) "Pink" Griffin, confessed slayer of Dr. Lawton C. Lipscomb, of Ninety-Six, was electrocuted at the State penitentiary shortly after 11.30 a. m. yesterday, paying with his life for the crime he committed. Griffin was only slightly moved by the preparation for his electrocution, and his outward appearance was but little changed as he was placed in the chair.

The negro left a written statement with Rev. M. G. Johnson, pastor of the Ladson Presbyterian church, advising all negroes to join the church and lead a correct life. In his statement Griffin said he had fallen from grace and gotten into bad company. He advised all negroes not to "tote" a pistol, saying that unlawfully carrying a pistol had caused his death. When placed in the chair and asked by Col. A. K. Sanders, superintendent of the penitentiary, if he had any statement to make, Griffin said he was ready to meet his God and believed his people would benefit by the lesson of his execution. He intimated that he had not been given justice here on earth and was anxious to go where he would get justice.

The current of 1,900 volts was switched on, and within three minutes and 45 seconds from the first turn life was pronounced extinct by Dr. R. T. Jennings, penitentiary physician. Relatives, including Griffin's wife, were present to claim the body.

The electrocution was witnessed by a number of relatives of Dr. Lipscomb, including two brothers of the slain man, a brother-in-law and numerous friends from Ninety-Six. A majority of the witnesses were from Ninety-Six and surrounding territory.

NEWBERRY HAS A TRAVELING

Still That "Makes it Up," Charging Toll, Just Like Thresher.

Newberry, Sept. 3.—It has remained for Newberry county genius to perfect the most modern method of manufacturing home brew and evading the prohibition laws in slaking the thirst of those parched with the prohibition drought.

The latest thing in the booze line is a traveling distillery that has made its appearance in one portion of the county. So far as its operations are concerned it is patterned after the old fashioned threshing machine and gin. It differs in this respect, among others, that the traveling and operation are done, mostly at night.

Regular engagements are made with the proprietor of this traveling distillery. He makes his schedule, for instance, to be at A's house on Monday night, B's house on Tuesday night, C's house Wednesday night, and so on through the entire community. Whether engagements are made for Sunday night this deponent sayeth not, his information extending not so far as that.

This traveling distillery business is a reality—as much so as the traveling thresher or traveling gin ever was. The customers put their meal and other ingredients in soak in anticipation of the coming of the traveling still on the appointed day (or night rather), and when the still arrives the "mash" is ready to be run through. It is run through at so much toll, and the stiller moves on to the next customer. It is said that the automobile plays an important part in this new itinerant business.

NEGRO BURGLAR IS SHOT DEAD

While Engaged in Looting Home of Resident of Charleston.

Charleston, Sept. 1.—Dorrill Muckenfuss, a young grocery store employee of this city, shot and killed at his home an unidentified negro burglar about 4 o'clock this morning, while the intruder was rifling the pockets of his trousers. The negro, after being shot once in the left side, ran from the bedroom to the porch, and slid down one story on a post to the ground, where he fell and died shortly afterward. He took the trousers with him, holding on to them until he started his slide down the post. A coroner's jury at an inquest to-day exonerated Mr. Muckenfuss of all blame. The negro was unknown to the police or to Mr. Muckenfuss.

Marauder Was Local Negro.

(News and Courier.)

The negro who was killed at an early hour last Thursday morning by Dorrill Muckenfuss while in the act of robbing the Muckenfuss home at No. 34 Coming street, was identified yesterday morning as Augustus Montgomery, who lived at No. 26 Burns lane. The man's wife called at the Roper Hospital, where the body lay awaiting identification, and identified it as that of her husband. It was later learned that the negro had a police record, having been arrested in August, 1920, on a charge of having stolen a gold watch, diamond and other property from a Charleston home. He was released, however, on producing the stolen goods and making restitution of all.

DEATH COMES TO A PRISONER

Held on Spartanburg Gang After a Severe Beating by Guards.

Spartanburg, Sept. 2.—Tom Hatchette and Lee Porter, guards on the white chaingang operated by the county highway commission, were bound over last night by a coroner's jury holding an inquest into the causes of the death of Thomas H. Keelan, who died at the camp on Wednesday after being severely whipped by the guards. They gave bond in the sum of two thousand dollars each and have been released.

Keelan was arrested last Friday for hobnobbing and was sentenced to serve thirty days for his offense. He was asked if his people would pay a fine for him, and he is alleged to have said that his people needed the money worse than he did, and took the days.

Wednesday morning he was unwell, vomiting and showing evidence of being sick, but the guards insisted on his working, and when he could not perform the duties imposed upon him he was severely whipped. After he got down and was taken to the shade of a tree it is alleged that Hatchette kicked him and threw a bucket of water in his face.

The physician who held the autopsy said that there was no organic trouble; that his heart, spine and brain were normal, and that death was not due to any organic trouble. He also stated that he did not think the beating alone would have produced death, but that the man's being ill and getting the flogging he did made it possible for him to be overcome by the heat.

The jury recommended that the men both be discharged from the guarding of convicts. There is considerable feeling in the vicinity where the camp is located, near the Glenn Springs, over the occurrence.

The Hessian Fly.

Clemson College, Sept. 6.—Special: With increased interest in the planting of wheat, many inquiries are being received by the division of entomology as to the safety dates for planting wheat to escape the Hessian fly. These dates are based on Hopkins' Law of Altitude and Latitude, which forms a practical guide to wheat farmers throughout the country. The dates have been worked out very carefully and are on file in the office of the extension entomologist. Anyone interested in the dates for his locality may get them by writing to the Extension Service, Clemson College, S. C.

According to the Clemson College entomologists the important points in Hessian fly control are as follows:

1. Plow down stubble deeply as soon after harvest as possible.
2. Keep down volunteer grain by disking and plowing.
3. Give careful attention to the preparation of the seed bed.
4. Sow wheat on safety dates.

The co-operation of farmers in the community is very necessary to get the best effects from safety dates because of the tendency of the fly to migrate, especially during its spring generation.
