WIDRAWAL OF SWEARINGEN

From Gubernatorial Race Fell Like Bomb in Political Camp.

Columbia, June 17.—Somewhat of a political bombshell was thrown here to-day by the announcement of John D. Swearingen, State Superintendent of Education, that he had decided to withdraw from the race for Governor and again offer for his present position.

There has been much political maneuvering in Columbia to-day in efforts to line up candidates, and various announcements are pending between now and the time for the closing hour of filing pledges, which will be at noon on Monday.

New Candidates at the Last Hour.

Columbia, June 19.—A number of new candidates filed their pledges at the last hour, before the lists closed at noon Monday.

Two candidates filed their pledges to run for the office of Attorney General in opposition to Attorney General Sam M. Wolfe, these being Harold Eubanks and D. M. Winter, both young attorneys of Columbia.

One candidate entered in opposition to Walter E. Duncan, incumbent, for the office of Comptroller General—T. Hagood Gooding, of Hampton.

Two new candidates filed for Governor—William Coleman, of Union, and J. J. Cantey, of Summerton.

Paul Moore, of Columbia, withdrew from the race for State Superintendent of Education. There are two "bonnets" in the ring, those of Mrs. Bessie Rogers Drake, of Bennettsville, and Mrs. Martha Wallace, of Columbia, for State Superintendent of Education.

State Treasurer Carter is the only State officer without opposition.

Mexican Train Bandits Are Killed.

Calexico, Cal., June 16.—Francisco Garcia and four of his followers are dead, seven were wounded and four soldiers of the Mexican army were killed and nine wounded in a fight resulting from an attempt to hold up a Southern Pacific train laden with $450,000 in gold bullion, according to a report received here to-night.

The money was en route from a point in the State of Nayarit, Mexico, to Mazatlan, Sinaloa, for shipment to the First National Bank of Los Angeles. The attempt at robbery was made at dawn to-day, according to advices received.

WOMAN DEAD, MAN WOUNDED.

Fatal Cutting Affray Between Two Negroes at Williston.

Williston, S. C., June 18.—As a result of a cutting affray here last night just before 12 o'clock, Carrie Miller is dead and Tom Dunbar has been lodged in the Barnwell county jail. Both parties are colored. The woman was about 30 years of age and the man 18. According to witnesses at the coroner's inquest, there seems to have been bad blood between the two for several weeks, and Saturday night Carrie Miller and another woman, Daisy Anderson, walked from the business section of the town to the home of the latter, where they found Dunbar. This brought on a difficulty, and the woman sought refuge in Daisy Anderson's home. After waiting about 20 minutes she came out to go to her home, which is next door, and it is alleged that she was accosted by Dunbar, who inflicted a severe wound in the neck, severing the jugular vein, causing almost instant death. Sheriff Sanders and Coroner Hallford were notified and an inquest was held this morning, which resulted in a verdict that Carrie Miller came to her death from knife wounds inflicted by Tom Dunbar. When questioned concerning the matter Dunbar stated that the dead woman cut him severely before he cut her. He was painfully but not seriously cut about the head and body.

Took Life Rather than Wait for Girl.

West Palm Beach, Fla., June 18.—Because he would not wait until the girl he wanted to marry arrived at the age of 15 or 16, Charles J. Sands, a fisherman of North Palm Beach, to-night cut his throat in the parlor of the girl's home and rushed into the yard to expire in a few moments. The girl's age was 12. No arrests were made in connection with the coroner's investigation, county authorities deeming it unnecessary to hold any of the members of the family.

Darlington, June 19.—Judge Edward Melver, of Cheraw, 4th Judicial circuit, died here this afternoon about 3.30 o'clock. Judge Melver opened court this morning, but as he was not feeling well adjourned court at noon and returned to his hotel, summoned medical aid, and soon passed away.

Judge Melver was known as one of the ablest jurists of the State. He was a son of the late Chief Justice Henry Melver, of the Supreme Court. He had never married.

NEGRO PROTESTS INNOCENCE.

Hanged Legally After Rescue from Hands of a Mob.

Irwinton, Ga., June 16.—Jim Denson, negro, who made a sensational escape from a mob bent on lynching him one night a few weeks ago, and who was later captured and taken to the Bibb county jail for safe-keeping on a charge of criminally assaulting an aged white woman, was legally hanged this morning. The trap was sprung at 10.15, and Denson was pronounced dead five minutes later.

Denson protested his innocence to the last. He was brought here shortly before the hour for the execution from Macon by Sheriff W. L. Plyler and two deputies.

The negro mounted the scaffold coolly, and when asked by Rev. M. W. Flanders, pastor of the Methodist church here, to tell whether or not he was guilty, Denson raised his manacled hands and said to the crowd of more than a hundred and fifty people:

"I am here before all of you gentlemen, and I got to stand before God to-day. What I am charged with I am innocent. If I was guilty I would say so, for I will have to answer myself. What I am charged with I am innocent."

HAVE YOU PLANTED MELONS ?

Save Them—New Publication Explains Prevention Stem-End Rot.

Clemson College, June 17.—Many carloads of watermelons are lost annually by South Carolina melon growers through stem-end rot, developed while the melons are in transit to market, which could be saved with slight trouble and expense by a simple treatment of the stems with Bordeaux paste at the time of loading the cars. To help melon growers save this big loss during the shipping season now at hand, the extension service has issued Information Card No. 21, "Prevention of Stem-End Rot of Watermelons," which may be had, upon request from the Extension Service, Clemson College, S. C., or from your County Agent.

The card calls attention to the method of treatment, which consists of recutting the stems at the cars and painting them with Bordeaux paste, and to the method of making the paste by using eight ounces of bluestone and four ounces of starch to one gallon of water, this quantity of paste being sufficient to treat two to four carloads of melons. This home-made paste is easily made according to the directions given and may be kept a week or ten days if desired in glass or earthen vessels. A commercial paste now may be obtained if desired.
