Eleven comforts made by neighbor housekeepers.

On Saturday, Sept. 16, the neighbors were invited to a quilting. Mrs. J. S. Sheppard assisting as hostess. One quilt was made and eleven comforts, the ladies stopping work only when the cotton gave out. Mrs. Cornelia Jones came calling, and seeing the need, offered to send cotton for the other three comfort tops. The girls will make these, and also hem the ones tacked as a sewing lesson.

Those who were present at the quilting were: Mesdames A. Ernest, William Sheppard, W. C. Whitmore, Z. N. Green, Grant, Head, and Misses Aileen Whitmore, Marie and Laura Sheppard, Hettie Green, Julia and Eunice Cowan and Marguerite Ernest.

Through the work of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Sheppard a splendid lot of home grown vegetables and fruits in tin and glass is on the pantry shelves.

GREAT GIPSY SMITH MEETING

Mrs. Saille and Mamie Burgess, of Greenville, have returned home, after a week's visit with their brother, Dr. J. H. Burgess, and family. They have scores of warm friends in Seneca who were delighted to have them in their midst.

The Interdenominational Sunday School Association of Oconee county will hold a convention at Richland church on Sunday, the 8th of October. There will be a morning and an afternoon session. A full program has been arranged. Every Sunday school in Oconee is urged to be represented. Although you may not be officially called on to represent your school, all who can attend should do so, especially the superintendents of the various schools, and the teachers, are urged to attend.

The first meeting of the Once-a-Week Club after the summer vacation will be held Thursday afternoon, the 28th, at the home of the president, Mrs. S. K. Denny.

The death angel entered the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Perry Friday evening at 8 o'clock and claimed their little four-year-old daughter, Imogene, after a week's illness from diphtheria. The body was taken to Clarksville, Ga., for interment the following day. Profound sympathy is felt for the bereaved parents in the death of their first-born little one.

Rev. Marshall Woodson left Tuesday morning for Columbia to resume his course in the Theological Seminary, this being his senior year. Mr. Woodson most acceptably filled the pulpit of the Presbyterian church in the absence of the pastor, Rev. L. H. Wallace, during the summer. He threw himself most earnestly in the work of the church and gave untiringly of his services throughout the Gipsy Smith evangelistic campaign and the three weeks' series of meetings. His friends are numbered far and near in Oconee, who regret to have him leave, although he extended his stay in our midst for a month on account of the Gipsy Smith meeting.

The Gipsy Smith meetings are now recorded as history, as Sunday night brought to a close the greatest revival that has ever been known in Oconee. Several hundred persons united with the various churches in the county on profession of faith, others by letter, and many church members consecrated themselves to the Master's service. The time was ripe for the ingathering of souls after hearing the evangelist preach the truth with such power, literally unfolding the Word of God so earnestly for these three weeks. Mr. Smith and his party left Monday morning, surrounded at the station with a large crowd, who had gathered to bid the good people good-bye. Rev. Mr. Smith will spend a week with his family in their winter home at Jackson, Miss. Miss Abernethy went direct to Savannah, Rev. J. A. Wood left for his home at Canton, Miss.

Miss Hessie Arve and brothers, of Madison, spent the week-end with H. W. Arve and family, of Coneross. They were accompanied by Misses Minnie and Rosa Lee, of Westminster.

Our Sunday school and the B.Y.P.U. meetings have not been very largely attended for the past few Sundays, owing to our people attending very regularly the wonderful Gipsy Smith revival at Seneca. The majority of our people were very much impressed by the great power and earnestness and influence of the evangelistic messages delivered by Rev. Mr. Smith during the series of meetings.

Miss Willie Walters, of near Westminster, and her husband, Mr. W. T. Walters, were in this community the past week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Aiken, of Greenville, were guests of the latter's brother, T. W. Byrd, and family here recently.

Our pastor, Rev. L. H. Raines, preached here Friday evening, Saturday and Sunday evening and also Sunday morning. After administering the ordinance of baptism to eight of our bright young girls and boys during this short series of meetings, Mr. Raines delivered some very stirring sermons which will not soon be forgotten.

Miss Willie Walters, of Westminster, accompanied Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Barker on their usual week-end visit to Coneross. They stopped with the Misses Barker.

Mrs. Blanchett, a very elderly lady of Walhalla, spent a few days last week here with her son-in-law, J. D. Abbott, and family.

Miss Lizzie McLean and brother, of Oakway, left last week, after an extended visit to their relatives, B. McDonald, and family here.

Miss Nina Abbott, of this vicinity, spent several days of last week with her friend, Miss Trixie Gribble, of Walhalla.

The community people met on last Monday and picked over the crop of cotton of Judge Abbott, who has been in bed with fever for about two months. We are glad to report that Mr. Abbott is able to walk around in the house and yard some, and we hope that he may soon be strong again.

Mrs. Victor McDonald was a recent visitor to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Will Roach, of the Ebenezer community.

Mrs. S. M. Hunsinger, of Long Creek, spent some time here with her daughter, Mrs. J. V. Dilworth, recently.

Miss Willie Mae Davis, of Westminster, was a welcome visitor last week at the home of her grandmother, Mrs. Nettie Hesse, of this community.

The Y. W. A.'s will hold their meeting Thursday at 4 p. m. All the members are urged to be present, as we are expecting to plan the program for the week of prayer (the first week in October.)

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. P. Dean, of Avalon, Ga., were welcome guests in our community recently. They were accompanied by Miss Audry Land, of Avalon.

MADE BIG DELIVERY OF COTTON

Josh Kirven, of Darlington, Turned in 1,200 Bales to Association.

Columbia, Sept. 25.—The largest delivery of old cotton yet made to the South Carolina Cotton Growers' Association was made last week by Josh Kirven, of Darlington, who turned over 1,200 bales old long staple cotton to the association. Delivery of this cotton under the terms of the contract was optional, but Mr. Kirven decided that he would sell the cotton through the association.

Officials of the association say that old cotton is pouring in from every section of the State. Members of the organization are delighted with the advances which they are receiving, according to letters which are being received at headquarters. The association is now making an initial advance of 12 cents a pound on short staple, old and new cotton, and 18 cents a pound on long staple, old and new.

The first fire to occur in association cotton was in Lee county Monday afternoon, when some cotton belonging to L. D. Welch, of Elliott, was burned en route from the gin to the depot. Mr. Welch notified the association Tuesday at noon of his loss, and Wednesday at noon the association had a check from the insurance company for the cotton.

For several years past Dr. Magill has been field secretary of the National Education Association and is well known in the educational world. His election as general secretary of the International Sunday school work is considered an accession to the Sunday school association work and is meeting with general approval. State Superintendent Leon C. Palmer, of the South Carolina Sunday School Association, expects to have him visit this State at an early date.
