RED CROSS WINNING IN FIGHT FOR HEALTH

Better, Stronger Citizenry Now Emerging Out of Work in United States.

The American Red Cross as an evangelist of better health has looked its problem square in the face. How it accepted the task revealed to it in the nation's physical condition as brought out during the World War...

The task of the Red Cross Public Health nurse in the 1,240 nursing services now operating throughout the country instructing their communities in health-essentials and disease prevention is demonstrating the possibilities of human betterment and the great benefits of enlightenment.

During the last year 313 new public health nursing services were established by Red Cross Chapters, and several hundred services so convincingly proved their effectiveness that they were taken over by public authorities. In order to promote this work $30,000 was allotted to provide women to prepare themselves for public nursing.

In home hygiene and care of the sick instruction, which fits the student in methods of proper care where illness is not so serious as to require professional service, the Red Cross conducted 3,884 classes during the last year, enrolled 2,850 instructors, 93,448 students and issued 42,050 certificates.

On June 30, 1922, nutrition service embraced 1,100 classes, with a total of 27,523 children and 2,589 enrolled dietitians. Seventy-eight food selection classes graduated 733 who received Red Cross certificates. In general health activities Red Cross Chapters maintained 377 health centers, serving as many communities, provided 38,751 health lectures for large audiences everywhere, while clinics numbered over 10,000.

Costly Fire at State Farm.

Columbia, Oct. 30.—Three barns on the State penitentiary farm at DeSausure, in Sumter county, were burned Saturday, with the destruction of a large part of the year's corn crop and 174 bales of cotton. No stock was burned. The loss was well covered with insurance.

ANNUAL RED CROSS ROLL-CALL

Will Occur This Year from Nov. 11th to Nov. 30th—Your Help Needed.

To the Members of Friends of the Red Cross: It is impossible for me to meet all of you personally, as I should like to do, but I am enabled to say a word directly to you through the courtesy and co-operation of The Keowee Courier.

The annual Red Cross Roll-Call will be held this year from Nov. 11 to Nov. 30th. Will you not write or speak an encouraging word to Dr. W. R. Craig, chairman, Walhalla, S. C., or to Dr. J. S. Stribling, vice chairman, Seneca, S. C.?

Your Red Cross Chapter is, or it should be, one of the forces for the progressive betterment of your county, but your chapter and the national organization are dependent upon the public support. Locally and nationally, Red Cross officers will appreciate your active co-operation and pledge you their best efforts to keep the organization faithful to its obligation to disabled soldiers and in its many other services to the country.

Sincerely yours, Harry L. Hopkins, Manager Southern Div. A. R. C.

Chauga Local Notes.

Chauga, Oct. 30.—Special: The health of this section is good at present.

Our farmers are very busy sowing grain. It seems that all have come to the conclusion that bread must be made at home.

There was quite a crowd here on Sunday to attend the singing and to listen to some soul-inspiring music led by Messrs. Morton, Phillips and Downs and others. All seemed to enjoy themselves to the fullest.

Our fall and winter term of school opened here this morning with very bright prospects. Henry Elrod and Miss Maud Spencer are faithful workers in the school room, and we are expecting this term to be one of the best that we have had. Education seems to be the first thought in the minds of our people now.

Clyde Chambers and wife, of Greenville, were visitors here Sunday. James A. Black, of Eastminster, was a recent visitor to his son, Robt. Black, and spent the day here at the singing. We were indeed glad to meet him again. He once lived in our midst.

Our population seems to be increasing. We are glad to report that twin boys were recently born to Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Smith. This is the second set of twins in this family. J. B. Cox also has two sets of twins in his family.

Numbers of our people are talking of attending the fair at Westminster. This fair ought to be encouraged by every one. Our county ought to come to the front. We can and must produce the best of everything, and we must change our way of farming and destroy all insects. We hear some of our farmers say that they expect to burn all of the woodland this time and break up all "bug roots." We have got to "declare war" if we expect to win.

Organize B.Y.P.U. at Ebenezer.

The young people of Liberty Baptist church will be present to organize a B.Y.P.U. at Ebenezer on next Sunday, Nov. 5th, at 7:30 p. m. A cordial invitation is extended to all to attend.

Muriel B. Spring, noted European dancer, recently insured her legs for a million dollars.

COURTENAYS PAY LARGE SUM

Into Uncle Samuel's Treasure Chest. Trouble Grew Out of Mill Sale.

Columbia, Oct. 27.—The Courtenay Manufacturing Company to-day paid the Federal government $123,505.53 in income and excess profits taxes and penalties to cover the liens taken out against its property early in the month by the internal revenue department. It was stated to-day at the office of the Collector of Internal Revenue.

Only One Phase of Case Settled.

(Greenville News.) After lingering in the courts for several months and going through various phases of litigation, the suits involving the purchase of the Courtenay Manufacturing Company by W. L. Gassaway and stockholders of the Isaquena Mills, were settled yesterday, and a consent order, marking the close of the legal proceedings, was signed by Judge Thos. S. Sease and filed with Harry A. Dargan, the clerk of court.

While the terms of the settlement were not included in the order, which was merely a formal document to mark the end of the litigation, it was learned by the Greenville News last night from various persons connected with the proceedings that Campbell Courtenay had surrendered notes aggregating $600,000, given by Mr. Gassaway and the Isaquena stockholders as part of the purchase price of the Courtenay mill, and that the Gassaway interests had paid the sum of $150,000 in cash, and became clear owners of the property, agreeing at the same time to meet taxes accrued since the purchase of the mill in 1918. Under this settlement, it is understood, the mill becomes the property of M. L. Gassaway and the present Isaquena stockholders at a price of about $1,350,000, instead of $1,800,000, which was the 1918 sale figure.

Since other notes to the amount of $300,000 had become due during the time the matter rested in the courts, notes to the amount of $600,000 had matured, it was stated. With the agreement, these notes were surrendered to the Isaquena interests and taxes amounting to approximately $100,000 will be paid by the present owners.

The action taken yesterday only affects the civil side of the issue and is not in any way connected with the criminal proceedings instituted by the Federal government, which alleges evasion of Federal taxes by Campbell Courtenay and others.

THE S. C. COTTON ASSOCIATION

Preparing to Take Action Against Its Members who Violate Contracts.

Columbia, Oct. 30.—Every member of the South Carolina Cotton Growers' Co-operative Association who sells cotton outside of the association will be proceeded against in the courts of the State and forced to pay liquidated damages of five cents a pound for every pound sold outside of the association. The officials of the association feel that there is no alternative for them in this matter and they are determined to invoke every provision of the law passed by the General Assembly protecting the association from violations of the contract against every member who does violate it.

Several members of the association have been reported for violating the contract—probably about six in all. Rigid investigations are being conducted in each case, and if the association finds that the contract has been violated, and if the contract has been really violated, legal proceedings will follow.

Members of the association are almost unanimous in demanding that all violators of the contract be proceeded against. They declare that to permit any one guilty of breaching the contract to escape would be to break the backbone of the organization and would create a spirit of dissatisfaction among members.

"We propose to proceed without fear or favor against every man who does not fully live up to the contract," says a statement by the association. "Thus far there have been only about six alleged violations of the contract. We are investigating each one of these carefully, and will proceed in each case as the result of our investigation justifies. The members of the association may rest assured that no guilty party will escape."

Ford Car Burned at Pendleton.

Pendleton, Oct. 30.—A match to a cigarette, an instant combustion of gasoline, and a Ford in flames at the Blue Ridge Filling Station Saturday night caused great excitement and nearly resulted in a fatal burning.

It was the car of Lee Owen, driven by Edward Owen, a boy about 15, and had been filled with gasoline to overflowing when the driver struck the match. Men standing by quickly pushed the car out of the station into the open street, where it burned down.

West Union Church Officers to Meet.

The stewards and parsonage trustees are earnestly requested to meet on Saturday, Nov. 4th, at the parsonage in West Union, at 12 o'clock. D. A. Jeffcoat, P. C.

THE DENDY-BARBER WEDDING

Overshadows All Other Local Matters on Seneca's Social Calendar.

Seneca, Oct. 30.—Special: The Greys of Oconee U.D.C. Chapter will meet Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the home of Misses Stella and Olivia Barron. The program is to be as follows: Response to roll-call; current events; paper, "Local History," Miss Lalla Ballenger; reading, article by local author, Mrs. F. C. Aye; music selection.

The D.A.R. and U.D.C. chapters, the Once-a-Week Club, the Literary and Civic Club, the Parent-Teachers' Association, the church societies and other organizations of the town are especially invited to meet at the high school auditorium on Tuesday afternoon, Nov. 7th, in observance of "Cancer Control Week." An instructive program will be given. The public in general is invited, but the organizations are not only invited, but are urged to attend.

A brilliant nuptial of the early fall, centering the interest of a wide circle of relatives and friends in the Carolinas and Georgia, was the marriage of Miss Louise Dendy, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. K. Dendy, to Rev. E. L. Barber, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Carrollton, Ga., which was solemnized in the Seneca Presbyterian church on Wednesday evening, the 25th, at 9 o'clock, in the presence of a large assembly of friends of the families. The church was a dream of beauty in its artistic decorations. Quantities of yellow and white chrysanthemums, grouped with massive ferns, the organ loft railing being outlined with lighted candles, and with crystal candelabra holding numbers of candles towering above all others, made a brilliant scene. As the audience anticipated the entrance of the bride party Mrs. Julian Dendy sang "I Love You" and "At Dawning," followed by Mendelssohn's "Spring Song," with Marshall C. Dendy, brother of the bride, at the organ. To the strains of Lohengrin's Wedding March the bride party entered in the following order, the couples separating, entering opposite aisles: Miss Dorothy Shaw, of Sumter; Miss C. Mandeville, Carrollton; Miss Emmie Ansel, of Walhalla; with Charles Stribling, Greenville; Miss Mary Hines, Seneca, and G. W. Wise, Trenton, S. C.; Miss Nan Copeland Clinton, and Hugh Macaulay, Seneca; Miss Florence Collins, Montgomery, Ala., and S. Wilkes Dondy, brother of the bride. Rev. E. Wallace, entering from the side door, took his place in the center of the semi-circle which had been formed. The little flower girl, Frances Hopkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Eustace Hopkins, scattered rose petals in the pathway of the bride, and wore an accordeon plaited yellow frock. Next came the ring bearer, Miss Frances Wallace, lovely daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Wallace, of Pendleton, who was dressed in a dainty white organdie, and carried the ring in a large white chrysanthemum. Mrs. Hugh Macaulay, dame of honor and sister of the bride, was the next to enter. Then came the maid of honor, Miss Sara Davis. The bride, leaning on the arm of her groom, with his brother, Walter I. Barber, of Greenville, entered from a side door, meeting the bride at the altar, where the impressive ring marriage ceremony was performed by the bride's pastor, Rev. E. Wallace. Mendelssohn's Wedding March was used as a recessional.

The bride was a picture of girlish beauty in her wedding gown of white satin and lace, with court train and lace inserts, which hung from her shoulders. The mist tulle veil was gracefully arranged with a bandeau of orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses and valley lilies.

The maids of honor wore handsome gowns of yellow satin with lace overdraperies and carried arm bouquets of white chrysanthemums. The matron of honor was gowned in yellow satin of darker shade, and carried yellow chrysanthemums. The maid of honor wore a handsome creation of white satin with overdraperies of white crepe chiffon, carrying yellow chrysanthemums. The groom and his attendants were in full evening dress.

A reception was given at the home of the bride immediately after the ceremony. Mrs. E. C. Doyle and Mrs. J. E. Hopkins greeted the guests at the door. The spacious Dendy home was beautiful in the decorations of yellow and white autumn flowers. Black cream and cake were served from tables by Misses Sue Gignilliat and Ludie Jordan. They were assisted by Misses May Griffin, Nina Harper and Margaret Garland. The guests were shown from the dining room to the gift room by Mrs. R. D. Neill and Miss Nell Wyatt, where Mrs. L. W. Verner and Mrs. W. J. Lunney received them. The array of numerous and costly gifts attested the popularity of the bride and groom.

Mrs. Barber is a Winthrop graduate of the class of '21, and had had one year of successful teaching in the city schools of Durham, N. C. By her sweet and gentle manners, she has endeared herself to a large circle of friends.

Mr. Barber is a young minister of the Gospel, with a flattering outlook for the future. Mr. and Mrs. Barber left amid a shower of rice and much merriment.

NEWS NOTES FROM TOWNVILLE.

Community Fair Brought Many Visitors to Town—Personal Notes.

Townville, Oct. 30.—Special: The Community Fair held here Friday brought many visitors to our town. The people of the town are justly proud of their first attempt at a fair. The display of fancy work as one entered showed the patience of the young ladies, for there were many difficult patterns. On to the right was a display of canned fruits and vegetables, cakes, butter and candy. On the second floor of the building was found the thrift department, antiques, old quilts and hand-woven bed spreads, which represented the work of the past generation.

The agricultural display was remarkable, showing the newer varieties of all vegetables, corn and oats, vetch and such things. There were also chickens, ducks, turkeys and hogs—even poodle dogs—on exhibition.

Our people are proud that they attempted a fair, and the credit must needs go to Mr. Shealey, superintendent of the school here, for he was the instigator, and his teachers cooperated with the ladies of the community club, thus making this a banner day for our town.

Miss Susie Shirley was a guest this week-end of relatives here. The school at Pine Grove opened Monday morning. This school is under the management of Dewey Brock, of West Union, who is assisted by Misses Burley, of Walhalla, and Thomson, of this State.

The good people of Seneca came to the Presbyterian church here recently to organize a Christian Endeavor society. A splendid program was carried out by the visitors and an effort was made to organize a society for the young people here.

Lubus Compton has moved back to Townville and is now occupying the house formerly occupied by the late Mrs. Walter Dickson. Mrs. Clara Dickson left Saturday to enter school at Anderson High School. She will stay in the home of Rev. A. E. Holler.

W. J. McGarrity Succeeds Williams.

Columbia, Oct. 28.—W. J. McGarrity, of Aiken, has been appointed by Governor Harvey as secretary of the State Board of Public Welfare to succeed Rev. G. Croft Williams, who recently resigned to become an adjunct professor at the University of South Carolina and also rector of St. John's Episcopal church. Announcement of Mr. McGarrity's appointment was made this afternoon. He has been principal of the Aiken Institute. He will assume his new duties at an early date.

Accident Fatal to Spartanburg Man.

Spartanburg, Oct. 28.—Rufus Thompson, 26 years of age, an employee of Inman Mills and a resident of that community, was instantly killed early to-night on the Appalachian highway, two miles west of this city, when he was struck by a car in which J. O. Odum and J. V. Ashmore, of Campobello, were riding. Both Odum and Ashmore are in the custody of officers at the county jail charged with manslaughter.

Thompson had gotten out of his car and was stooping behind it adjusting the rear light, when the other car crashed into him. The car rebounded, it is said, and its occupants drove on, eye-witnesses say, without stopping to inquire as to the damage done. They were arrested here an hour later, and the police say they were under the influence of whiskey. Thompson, who was killed, is survived by a widow and three children. With him in the car when the fatal accident occurred were several companions. His death will be investigated by the coroner.
