LOCAL NOTES FROM CONERROSS.

Christmas Greatly Enjoyed by All. Numerous New Cases of Flu.

Conerross, Dec. 25.—Special: As this is Christmas day, the children of this community are up early enjoying looking through their stockings to see what Santa Claus has put into them during the night.

The writer extends to the readers of The Courier best wishes for a merry Christmas and a happy New Year.

We are glad to have our school teachers, who have come in from their respective places of employment, at home with us to spend the Christmas holidays.

We are glad to announce the improved condition of Grady Smith, who has been quite ill for several weeks. Several of his relatives, Mesdames William Wyatt and Jessie Golden and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wyatt and children, of Fairview, were among his week-end guests.

Jesse King made a short visit to relatives in Anderson last week.

Fred Roach and wife, of Westminster, spent Saturday and Sunday with Baxter Roach and family here.

The Blue Ridge school closed last Friday with a short Christmas program. In addition to this feature a Christmas box was brought by each teacher and distributed among the pupils of his or her room.

Among the new cases of influenza this week are Mr. and Mrs. Henry Logins, J. W. Alexander, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Dilworth, Ruby and Cecil and Nonnie Dilworth, Miss Ada Keith, Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Alexander, Bessie and James and Keith Alexander, T. D. Alexander and Mrs. S. M. Hunsinger.

Charles and Harriet DuBose, of Seneca, were guests of their grandmother, Mrs. E. C. DuBose, during the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Hunnicutt, of Westminster, were recent guests of their cousin, Grady Smith, of this community; also Mr. Smith's sister, Mrs. Ila Kelley, of New Hope, spent several days last week at his bedside during that time.

Ralph Cannon and wife, of Walhalla, are at the home of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Reese Cannon, of this community.

Miss Pearle Hunsinger, matron of the Six-Mile Academy, arrived here yesterday to spend the vacation with her mother and other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hesse and Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Barker were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Cleland, of Westminster.

Clifton Cobb, of North Carolina, is spending this week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Cobb, of this section.

We were glad to have Dewey Butler and wife and sister, Miss Edna, of Taylors, Greenville county, with us at Sunday school and church services at Conerross Sunday. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Sloan Addis, of Westminster, at which places they were visiting.

Mrs. Steve Blackwell, of near this community, is critically ill at this writing. We hope she will soon be much better.

Roy Arvo, who has been attending school at Long Creek, is a welcome guest this week at the home of his parents here.

Miss Cora Fretwell spent several days last week with her sister, Miss Elsie, at Earle's Grove, and attended the Christmas exercises.

Last night while the people of the community were hanging their stockings for receiving their Christmas gifts, Henry Hesse, of this community, decided that he preferred setting steel traps, which he did, and placed two near his home, and this morning he received two large hoot owls as his Santa Claus gift, which your correspondent had the pleasure of seeing this beautiful Christmas morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Grover Hubbard, of Richland, spent Christmas eve with W. O. Alexander and family here.

Sam Haynes, of Honea Path, was a recent visitor to his cousin, W. F. Haynes, of Conerross. He was accompanied by Joe Todd, of Walhalla.

W. V. Hale, of the Wolf Stake community, has purchased a farm in our community and has moved to it within the very recent past. We are glad to have Mr. Hale and family in our community and welcome them into both church and Sunday school and all of our church organizations.

Miss Salena DuBose and brother, Galliard, of Greenville, are at the home of their mother, Mrs. E. C. DuBose, of this community, for a few days.

R. M. Dilworth and family, of Newry, were spend-the-day guests of relatives in this vicinity recently.

Miss Eva Arve, of Waynesville, N. C., is on a ten-day visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Arve.

Mrs. Mary Murphree and son Joe, of Westminster, were in this section recently and went from here to Wolf Stake where they visited relatives.

Wille Meredith and family spent last Saturday with relatives in Walhalla. They were accompanied home by their brother, Malon, who is enjoying Christmas here.

MRS. MARY NEVILLE ANSEL.

Aged Lady Laid to Rest Last Thursday in St. John's Cemetery.

In the death of Mrs. Mary Neville Ansel, which occurred last Wednesday morning, Walhalla lost one of her oldest citizens and a lady who was known in every section of Oconee for her good works. She had spent practically her whole life in Walhalla, and there are few lives that have so long and continuously blessed those who have lived in and near the community.

Mrs. Ansel was the widow of the late John J. Ansel, and was in her 85th year. She had spent more than fifty years in Walhalla. She was well known, and there are indeed many who recall her many deeds of kindness and constant labor of love with friends, neighbors, and among the poor and distressed. Her name will long be remembered for her good works and her kindly, always interested and charitable disposition.

Mrs. Ansel had been a member of the Methodist church since early girlhood, and she was not merely a member of the church; she was a consistent member, and a follower of the meek and lowly Nazarene. She will be greatly missed in the home, in the church and in the community at large.

The funeral services were conducted by her pastor, Rev. A. W. Barr, of the Methodist church, who was assisted by Rev. W. B. Aull, pastor of the Lutheran church.

The deceased is survived by the following children: John A. and G. M. Ansel, of Walhalla, and Jas. F. Ansel, of Chattanooga, Tenn., and one daughter, Mrs. G. F. Clarkson, of Antreville, S. C. There are numerous other relatives and a host of friends here and elsewhere who deeply mourn the passing of this most excellent woman.

Both of her children from a distance, James F. Ansel and Mrs. G. F. Clarkson, arrived in Walhalla before their mother passed away, and remained over until after the funeral.

The Courier joins with hosts of others in extending sincere condolence to the bereaved ones in their hour of sorrow.

PROF. WM. S. MORRISON DEAD.

Well Known Clemson Professor Died Suddenly Last Monday.

Clemson College, Dec. 26.—Prof. Wm. S. Morrison, one of the oldest professors at Clemson College, died suddenly last night at his home here from acute indigestion. He had been a well-known educator of this State for many years.

Prof. Morrison was a native of Fairfield county, having been born at Winnsboro. He was in his 70th year, having been born April 7th, 1853. He became identified with Clemson College in July, 1893. He was one of the most highly esteemed gentlemen of this State and was an active worker in church and Sunday school circles. His death will be the source of great sorrow over the entire State.

PERPETUAL YOUTH

by CHRISTOPHER G. HAZARD

TIME, to be ever young, is born again With every year, and thus he flaunts his youth. Were he incarnate once alone, sure then He evidently would be old, in truth.

Thus is he envious, yet all his frost But pales the crimson banner of the rose; It laughs upon his spiteful labor lost, Renewed in fragrances when winter goes.

Nor knows the urchin the interior star That, all untouched by him, will yet attain Its heaven, and from its glorious heights afar Will twinkle down and smile at him again!

Accident in Road Near Madison.

(Tugaloo Tribune, Dec. 19.)

While returning from Madison on last Friday night the buggy in which Mrs. John T. Smith and Miss Christine Davis were riding turned over and Mrs. Smith suffered a broken arm as she was hurled against the ground. Miss Davis lodged in the buggy top and was only slightly injured. Mrs. Smith's arm was broken at the wrist. The front wheel of the buggy ran over something, causing the vehicle to turn over. The side pieces of the top broke as Mrs. Smith went to the ground. It was a very dark night and the obstruction could not be seen.

THE LOCAL NEWS FROM SENECA

Bishop Candler to Preach in January D.A.R. School Girls Entertained.

Seneca, Dec. 26.—Special: The numerous friends in this and other sections of the State will be gratified to know that Mrs. J. B. Pickett, who has been seriously ill, her life having been despaired of at one time, has passed the crisis, and unless complications arise, she will soon be on the road to recovery.

Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Burgess and daughter Mary left Friday for Union Springs, Ala., to spend the Christmas season with their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Burgess. It is probable that Miss Typhaine Burgess, of Easton, Md., will join the family there in a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Garrison, of McColl, and Clyde Garrison, of Charleston, are with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Garrison, for the holiday season.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Shelor and two little children, George, Jr., and Archie, of Anderson, spent Christmas with Mr. Shelor's mother, Mrs. John W. Shelor, of the Richland community, and other relatives in Seneca.

Miss Vivian Bradberry, who has been teaching in the Piedmont schools the past term, is at home for the Christmas holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Hopkins, of Atlanta, arrived last week to spend the holiday season with their home-folks. They will visit Mr. Hopkins' parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Hopkins, in Westminster, during their stay here.

Mrs. L. A. Dickson has her daughter, Miss Dorothy Dickson, of Winthrop College, and two sons, Malcolm, of the Theological Seminary, Columbia, and Winifred, teacher of agriculture in the Cross Anchor school, with her for the holidays.

Next Sunday being the fifth Sunday, there will be union services in the Presbyterian church, in which all denominations of the town are expected to unite. The choral club has given considerable time in preparation for a program of music, the music being a special feature of the services. If weather conditions are favorable, no doubt the church will be filled to capacity.

The church-going people will learn with pleasure that Bishop Warren A. Candler, of Atlanta, will preach in Seneca on the second Sunday in January. Our people have had the pleasure of hearing this distinguished divine on previous occasions and will be glad to have another opportunity of hearing him.

A Christmas pageant was presented in the Presbyterian church Sunday evening at the hour for preaching, the members of the Sunday school, including a number of primary and junior children, being on the program. During the program Miss Mildred Heller, on behalf of the Christian Endeavor Society, presented to Rev. I. E. Wallace a handsome Bible. Her presentation speech was most feelingly given, special mention being made of his work among the young people's organizations, the Boy Scouts, Christian Endeavor—all his influence on these young lives helping to make Seneca a cleaner and better town for them to live in. Mr. Wallace's resignation as pastor of the Presbyterian church has been the cause of profound regret by his hosts of friends here.

A beautiful Christmas program was given in the Baptist church Sunday evening and was creditably carried out by a large number of young people of the Sunday school.

The January meeting of the U. D. C. chapter will be held at the home of Mrs. B. R. Lawrence (with several joint hostesses). As there will be an election of president and corresponding secretary at this time, a full attendance is desired. The chapter regrets that circumstances were such that the president, Mrs. C. M. Bowen, and corresponding secretary, Mrs. G. W. Ballenger, deemed it necessary to tender their resignations of the above offices. Members will please notify Mrs. Lawrence as early as convenient if they cannot be present. The hour for the meeting is 3.30 o'clock.

Miss Stella Bowen and Miss Alma Jeffcoat, pupils of the Tamassee D.A.R. school, are guests of the Seneca D.A.R. members for the Christmas holidays and are receiving a cordial welcome, visiting in the different homes and in many ways having attentions shown them. They speak in the highest praise of the D.A.R. school and the wonderful opportunity offered the girls who attend the school. Miss Grace Dell James, the superintendent, and her staff of teachers are doing splendid work. The young ladies will leave Saturday afternoon for Tamassee to resume their studies at the reopening of the school on Monday morning.

DEATH OF MRS. LUTHER MEDLIN

Oconee Lady Passed Away at Home at Ware Shoals Dec. 16th.

Ware Shoals, Dec. 21.—Special: On the 16th of this month the dear angel visited the home of Luther Medlin and claimed his darling wife, aged 24 years and 9 months. Mrs. Medlin had been a sufferer for the past two years from that dread disease, tuberculosis. She was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Gilmer and the idol of the home. She was a real child of God; therefore we weep not as those who have no hope, but look forward to the day when we shall meet in that celestial city, where separation never comes. She leaves to mourn her death her husband and a darling little girl, her father and mother, three sisters and many relatives and friends. The bereaved family have the sympathy of many here and hosts of friends in Oconee.

A loving one from us is gone; A voice we loved is stilled; A place is vacant in our home That never can be filled.

Funeral services were conducted at the home of her father, after which the remains were laid to rest in the cemetery at Donalds to await the dawn of the resurrection morn.
