the Republicans there is little or no need of organization, for the leaders rely on appeals to the ignorance and antipathies of their supporters. It is prudent, therefore, to assume that the solid party strength of the political enemy will be arrayed against us. The danger which confronts us is due to Democratic apathy far more than to Republican activity. The way to meet it, and the only way, is by incessant political work from this time until the closing of the polls on election day. South Carolina may well prove to be the pivotal State in the present gigantic contest. If the Democrats carry the whole of the Southern States, together with New York, New Jersey and Connecticut, or if they lose New Jersey and Connecticut and carry in their stead the State of Indiana, Grover Cleveland will be the next South Carolina be lost to the Democracy in this emergency the Democrats must carry New Jersey or Connecticut in addition to Indiana, or must find in the Northwest or among the Pacific States nine electoral votes to take the place of those given to Blaine by reason of indifference or over-confidence in South Carolina. It is best that the Democracy of the State should know the whole truth. South Carolina's electoral votes will be given to Cleveland and Hendricks if every Democratic vote, white and colored be duly polled and counted on election day. Any lukewarmness, any carelessness in any county in South Carolina, puts the State in jeopardy. There is no security, no certainty of victory, but in diligent, untiring and systematic canvassing during the few days that are left. The County Chairmen, as the immediate representatives of the Democratthe result of the election in their res-Logan would term the "old veterans," pective counties. Full instructions by which party spirit has been aroused have already been given to them, and in former Presidential canvasses. They who have already dared and won so much for the Democratic party will not falter in this year as in former days, when the this supreme hour of trial for the State election was held in October, but it is and the republic.

Besides the Cauvassing Committee appointed by the County Chairman, there is room for volunteers. Intelligent citizens everywhere can render valuable service by calling on their aneighbors and showing them the importance of voting at the approaching that while New York and New Jersey election. Every Democrat who con- may both go Republican they can win stitutes himself a committee of one can without either if they carry Indiana, reach a dozen voters or more. And, again, in this way only five voters in ference of about three thousand votes in the State.

There is much to accomplish, and the time is short. It will be the fault withstanding Deputy Commissioner of the Democrats who realize the mothe time is short. It will be the fault mentous character of the present political struggle if their friends and acquaintances are not by personal appeal partment, is preparing to go to his own stairs. The united efforts of even a handful of sagacious and zealous Democrats in every county will give cohesion and energy to the Democratic host. All along the line there will be unity and strength, with a determination to command the success which the State requires and deserves.

BLAINE'S LYING.

TERRE HAUTE, IND., October 23 .-Mr. Blaine left Evansville at 8.30 this morning, having before him a long day's ride to Lafayette. At Terre Haute he made a short speech, in which he draw a distinction between President of the United States; but if the New and the Old South; the new seeking industrial development and laboring to lead the people away from the prejudices of the past; the old, prejudiced, bitter and hostile to Northern interests, devoted to the "Lost Cause," narrow of vision and incapable of taking in the sweep and magnitude of our great future. This Old South, constituting, he said, the main element of strength in the Democratic party, was now striving and hoping, with the aid of Indiana and New York, to get control of the National Government, and it was for the people of those States to say whether they are prepared to hand over the Government o that element.

Malarial Poison.

Having spent much of my time for the past three years in and near Albany, Ga., I had gradually absorbed malaria into my system, and my general health was completely broken down; this poison culminated last November in a congestive chill, and I was confined to the bed and house for five months; was treated by the best physicians, by all the approved methods with no benefit; my health was awfully broken down; my skin almost as vellow as a pumpkin; a thick heavy coat on my tongue; no appetite; and in a miserable fix generally. I was induced in April last to take Swift's Specific, and the first few doses coninced me that it was what I needed. The first bottle relieved me of the nis store and his mother starting up stiffness in the neck, the second gave me perfect use of my arms, and I feel ment when three pistol shots startled strong and well in every way. ATLANTA, GA., October. 22.- In the case of the National Bank of Augusta against Robert E. Judge Rooney, in charging the jury, held that, if part of the consideration was legal and part was illegal, the legal part should stand.
