

PICKENS SENTINEL.

LOCAL NEWS.

Cotton 73.

It seems that winter has put in an appearance.

The first wheelman for Pickens—Mr. B. A. Burns.

Sheriff Richey carried one of his hands in a sling last week.

The third party here does not amount to a row of pins.—Chairman Irby.

J. P. Carey, Esq., attended the stock and poultry show at Seneca last week.

Mrs. M. J. Harris, of Greenville county, visited her son T. D. Harris last week.

The State will give Cleveland a majority of at least 15,000 votes.—Chairman Irby.

Misses Estelle and Etta Boggs are visiting relatives and friends in Liberty this week.

Vote the Democratic ticket straight next Tuesday, as you are in honor bound to do.

Mr. W. O. Willard, of Liberty, is speaking of moving to this place with his family.

None of the farmers who voted in the recent primary will vote for Weaver.—Chairman Irby.

The only third party strength is reported from Pickens, Oconee and a part of Anderson.—Chairman Irby.

Give the SENTINEL your advertising and job work. It will do you good work and treat you right every time.

We have seen and heard many accounts of mad dogs recently. The drouth must be developing the craze.

Mr. W. W. Martin, a Cleveland democrat, called in to see us last Monday and reports Mrs. Martin improving in health.

Mr. D. W. Hopkins was called to Central last Saturday to see his brother Arthur who is very low with typhoid fever.

Capt. J. W. Brunson, of Spartanburg, passed through here last Monday on his way to the mountains to survey some land.

Mr. M. F. Hester, the efficient mail carrier, has rented Judge Durant's house and will move his family to town this week.

The town council has issued license to Mr. B. Byars who will soon open up a first class meat market in the old court house.

Rev. W. K. Boggs has resigned his charge in Augusta, Ga., and accepted a call from Bethel Presbytery to be an evangelist.

Mr. Joseph Boatright has completed in neat style a very convenient and comfortable law office for C. E. Robinson next to the post office.

Miss May C. Bossard from Sumter, Miss Lou L. Gridley and Miss Marie H. Mitchell of the town of Easley, who were at the Amble House, have left for their homes.

These men (the farmers who voted in the primary) know that their oaths bound them as much to sustain the national as the State nominees.—Chairman Irby.

Messrs. Jere and E. F. Looper left last Monday for the mountains of North Carolina on a big hunt. Uncle Jere said he wanted to have one more good hunt before he died.

Mr. N. M. Madden, of Central was in to see the Sentinel last Monday. The almond tree is flourishing on his premises, but he is as active and cheerful as a young man if this summer.

Miss Blanche Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Wilson, died last Wednesday night. She had been an invalid all her life and a great sufferer. Her remains were buried at Seneca last Friday.

Rev. J. McF. Seabrook and family are happy in their new home near Greenville, N. C., at which place he has been installed pastor of the Presbyterian Church. We assure those people they have made a wise selection of a pastor.

Mr. W. J. Gillespie certainly goes head in the class of best raisers this fall. He placed on our table last week a beet weighing twelve pounds. We challenge this or any other county to beat this beet, or to beat Mr. Gillespie farming.

They were indignant at the town people voting against Tillman for Hunker in 1890. Surely now they would not commit a greater political crime by forswearing themselves and reneging on the democratic nominees.—Chairman Irby.

Behannon & Wilson, house, sign, carriage and wagon painters, beg leave to announce the fact that they are located in Pickens and solicit your patronage. First class work guaranteed, and prices as low as the lowest. All orders left at McFall's store will receive their prompt attention.

Mr. Beckett Riley has been elected to take charge of the Generose Academy for the next year and will open school there in about two weeks. People's Advocate.

We congratulate the people of the Generose Academy upon their selection of a teacher. Mr. Riley is a thorough scholar.

Mrs. Mary A. Donnelly, mother of Mrs. J. R. Riley, died last Tuesday at Easley at the advanced age of ninety years. She had been in delicate health for some time and her death was not unexpected. Her remains were buried at Seneca, N. C. The bereaved family have friends of a host of friends.

Friends of Governor Tillman will find him in the election next afternoon for the Third Party candidates because it would justify the regular democracy in 1890. Hunker. The men who sell well were under no oath to vote the ticket.—Chairman Irby.

The largest assemblage seen in some time gathered in the church last Wednesday evening for the marriage of Lieut. T. Q. of the 7th Regt., U. S. Cavalry, and Miss Maryson, daughter of Rev. J. O. of the same denomination.

The Old Court House.

What will be done with the old court house? This is asked by almost every man that comes to town. It is very evident that it is in the wrong place where it now stands and it is probable that something will be done with it by the next board of Commissioners. The present Commissioners will not do anything with it, but will leave the matter for their successors to dispose of. There are a great many views and opinions as to what is best to do with it. In fact the opinions upon this matter are as varied and different as the Democratic, Republican, and Third Party platforms. Some think it best to tear the whole thing down and sell it and get it out of the way. Some think it best to sell it as it stands to some one for a store. Some others think it would pay the county to roll it back by the side of the new court house and rent it out for offices and a town hall. Still others think it would be a paying investment for the county to move it to the lower side of the court house lot and put steel cages in it and repair it generally so as to make a jail of it. This seems to be the most popular idea, and we think, a good one. There is no doubt but that something will have to be done with the old building, for it is badly in the way where it now stands and besides it is a fire brand for the new court house. We think our Commissioners will do very wrong to allow the old building to stand where it is. It would make a splendid jail with very little cost; and according to Chairman Hendricks, we will soon be in a condition that we will stand more. The old jail, too, is a terrible rat trap, and being old is not only a bed for disease but is liable to be burned on the least provocation. We hope they will make a jail of it. In this matter we would like to have the views of our citizens, because it is a public matter and the expressions of citizens would be a great help to the commissioners. Any one who feels disposed to express an opinion upon the subject we will be glad to publish it.

Next Monday.

Next Monday is sale day and the following lands will be sold: E. H. Brock vs. T. J. Hunt, et al., two tracts in Decatur township of fifty and forty-eight acres, respectively. The first tract includes mill, gin, presses and fixtures. Terms cash. In the case of James F. Ranney, et al., vs. E. Toccoa Ranney, et al., two tracts in Liberty township aggregating 100 acres. Terms, one-half cash. In the case of G. M. Lynch, admr., vs. W. K. Stewart, 125 acres in Eustatow township. Terms cash. In the case of J. C. Wilson vs. Mary E. Matthews, 10 acres near Pickens C. H. Terms, one-half cash. In the case of A. P. Johnston, admr., vs. Carver Randall, et al., 100 acres in Central township. Terms cash. In the case of Claudius Burns, et al., vs. Eliza Hughes, et al., 100 acres in Currituck township. Terms, one-half cash. In the case of O. L. Durant vs. J. D. Curton, et al., one house and lot in Pickens. Terms cash. In the case of Ransom Duke vs. James Duke, eighty acres in Pickens township. Terms cash.

A Chance for Land Investment.

I offer for sale on reasonable terms, my farm on headwaters of Rice's Creek, two miles from the town of Easley, containing dwellings on the place, a fine orchard and well of pure water. A three-horse crop is open for cultivation and in good condition. aug31mdnov10 J. B. CLYDE.

The Queen and President.

Who will be president? Send your answer, with eight two-cent stamps, for a sample copy of the Canadian Queen, containing rules and conditions, and secure one of the following valuable prizes: To the first correct answer will be awarded a Steinhay or Chickering Piano the next, each a pair of beautiful Diamond Ear-Rings; the next ten, each a first-class Sewing Machine, and to the last ten will be awarded each a full Silver Tea Service, value $60.00. In addition to these, every person correctly naming the next President will have their choice of a magnificent Diamond Bracelet, a pair of Diamond Ear-Rings, or an imported Opera Glass. Double daily schedules reaching all western points most comfortably and cheaply. Through routes, time-tables and other information, call on any agent of this great system, or address: R. W. HUNT, C. L. HOPKINS, Trav. Pass. Agt., Charlotte, N. C., oct28priga, Charlotte, N. C.

Wm. Prigo, Luttsville, Mo., writes:

"I was afflicted with sciatica, and had lost the use of one arm and one leg for nine years. I went to Hot Springs and also tried different doctors, but found no cure until I tried Botanic Balm. It made me sound and well. I am well known in this vicinity."

There were tobacco crops raised in this county of which we had not been advised.

Besides the crops of Messrs. James F. Lay and Thomas H. McWhorter, we find that Mr. Walter L. Boggs, of Liberty, is in the business to the extent of three barns or one barn full three times. We spent the evening at his father's last Friday and he gave us a sample in "the hand" which looks very much like the stuff they ship from the tobacco farms in Virginia. Mr. Boggs says he is not yet prepared to say whether tobacco is a good money crop or no, but can tell better about this feature of the business after he sells.

McFALL'S ALMANACK

FOR 1892.

November.

This is the month that the average merchant wants to make all the collections he can in order to pay his own bills. He goes about this in various ways. There's a right and wrong way, but who knows which is which? People are somewhat like horses. Some will go along smooth and easy without any trouble. Others have to be coaxed. Others will not go for nothing, but a man don't deserve praise for what he is forced to do, no more than a horse. And this Almanack realizes the fact that this is the year of all others, to try men's grit. We take it, that the average merchant in this country has straitened his own credit to accommodate his customers. He is entitled to a legitimate profit on what he sells, it is the interest on his money, his time, and his work. It is not fair to expect him to pay for all that right-minded persons expect to pay for. They don't want it for nothing, but there are so many different "Species of Creation" nowadays that it's hard to tell in the Spring what's going to happen in the Fall, and affecting on this brings to my mind an incident of my youthful days. Being sent to mill one day, and while the good old miller was grinding my "turn" I tried to "take in the situation" and, say he, tried to see everything and how it worked, but one thing that got my attention was the old word, in Pickersberry hills, high up on the

"PORE WEDDIT IS A BAD PAY KILLED HIM

Instinctively I looked around for a grave, but not finding one, concluded they had tossed him over in the creek. "Food for fisher."

Then as I turned to read it over again I wondered what he "killed him" for. For the good miller had just told me that "credit" was the "best friend a poor man ever had," and now as I have had more experience with mankind, I often wonder what anybody wants to kill his "best friend" for? But they don't all have "murder in their hearts," as my "big look" will show. I take it that this issue of the SENTINEL will pass through the hands of 1,000 people, 500 of them will read this advertisement and remember that they have in years gone by bought something here that they haven't paid for. Some for one cause, some for another. Some, because they can't pay all, don't pay anything—this is not right. See here. If 500 men were to pay me one dollar each, I could pay off a bill of $500.00. If these same men were to pay me two dollars each I could pay a bill of $1,000, and were they to send me five dollars each, I could pay bills which they have had out for a long time, the amount of $2,500. Don't hold back one dollar because you haven't got two. Don't hold back the two because you haven't got five, but pay what you can and do it now.

You haven't paid anything that you ride on—that's the way to make things run and hard times easy. If your attention is called to the fact that you haven't paid anything in a long, long time, don't take it as a "peasy dandy" but look at it as if, and knock the spots out of it with a dollar or two and keep on knocking it, edgewise and sideways, and flat down, and after awhile you will find it crumpled so it will never start at you again.

Parties who disregard these things and treat with "debt contempt" will not enjoy each other's FURTHER INDULGENCE. THE TIME IS UP.

W. T. McFALL.
