

THE ANDERSON MEETING. ONE OF THE LARGEST HELD DURING THE CAMPAIGN.

Evans and Ellerbe Go for Each Other and their Partisans Applaud Them--The Senatorial Candidates are Very Mild.

ANDERSON, S. C., Aug. 7.—Two thousand five hundred people sat on an old cotton platform, with a contingent perched in the trees near by, to hear and swoop up the day's performance.

Evans and Ellerbe next denounced as false the insinuation that he avoided the Governor during the Darlington riots.

THE SENATORIAL CANDIDATES. Senator Butler waited until their mutual subsided.

Mr. John Gary Evans was made supremely happy by long continued cheers when he was introduced.

THE GUBERNATORIAL CANDIDATES. Mr. John Gary Evans was made supremely happy by long continued cheers when he was introduced.

Mr. Evans ended with the usual hand played on the opening of the dispensary.

Mr. Tindal, after giving in the history and theory of the Reform movement and impressing the importance of education, asserted that he had come into "the race to erige and crawl before no man."

Mr. Evans advanced but Ellerbe rebuked him saying: "I can handle this crowd."

Evans and Ellerbe next denounced as false the insinuation that he avoided the Governor during the Darlington riots.

THE SENATORIAL CANDIDATES. Senator Butler waited until their mutual subsided.

Mr. Evans advanced but Ellerbe rebuked him saying: "I can handle this crowd."

Evans and Ellerbe next denounced as false the insinuation that he avoided the Governor during the Darlington riots.

THE LAST MEETING OF THE CAMPAIGN HELD AT ABBEVILLE ON WEDNESDAY.

ABBENVILLE, Aug. 8.—Down in a study hollow under big pines and poplars, 2,500 to 3,000, some say 3,500 people, including 600 Georgians from Ellerbe's party, gathered for the last meeting of the campaign.

Mr. Ellerbe next denounced as false the insinuation that he avoided the Governor during the Darlington riots.

THE SENATORIAL CANDIDATES. Senator Butler waited until their mutual subsided.

Mr. Evans advanced but Ellerbe rebuked him saying: "I can handle this crowd."

Evans and Ellerbe next denounced as false the insinuation that he avoided the Governor during the Darlington riots.

THE SENATORIAL CANDIDATES. Senator Butler waited until their mutual subsided.

Mr. Evans advanced but Ellerbe rebuked him saying: "I can handle this crowd."

Evans and Ellerbe next denounced as false the insinuation that he avoided the Governor during the Darlington riots.

THE SENATORIAL CANDIDATES. Senator Butler waited until their mutual subsided.

Mr. Evans advanced but Ellerbe rebuked him saying: "I can handle this crowd."

Evans and Ellerbe next denounced as false the insinuation that he avoided the Governor during the Darlington riots.

THE SENATORIAL CANDIDATES. Senator Butler waited until their mutual subsided.

Mr. Evans advanced but Ellerbe rebuked him saying: "I can handle this crowd."

Evans and Ellerbe next denounced as false the insinuation that he avoided the Governor during the Darlington riots.

THE SENATORIAL CANDIDATES. Senator Butler waited until their mutual subsided.

THE POLITICAL PROBLEM. THE RESULT OF THE GUBERNATORIAL RACE IN DOUBT.

THE SILENT VOTE AN UNKNOWN QUANTITY.—A Prediction as to the Result by Counties—Many Schemes Reported Brewing to Defeat Tillman.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Aug. 10.—A few days ago I said in the Register that the man who pretends that he knows who is going to be nominated in the Reform primaries on Saturday for Governor

Mr. Tindal referred to a speech he made last year and talked in his usual way.

Mr. Evans advanced but Ellerbe rebuked him saying: "I can handle this crowd."

Evans and Ellerbe next denounced as false the insinuation that he avoided the Governor during the Darlington riots.

THE SENATORIAL CANDIDATES. Senator Butler waited until their mutual subsided.

Mr. Evans advanced but Ellerbe rebuked him saying: "I can handle this crowd."

Evans and Ellerbe next denounced as false the insinuation that he avoided the Governor during the Darlington riots.

THE SENATORIAL CANDIDATES. Senator Butler waited until their mutual subsided.

Mr. Evans advanced but Ellerbe rebuked him saying: "I can handle this crowd."

Evans and Ellerbe next denounced as false the insinuation that he avoided the Governor during the Darlington riots.

THE SENATORIAL CANDIDATES. Senator Butler waited until their mutual subsided.

Mr. Evans advanced but Ellerbe rebuked him saying: "I can handle this crowd."

Evans and Ellerbe next denounced as false the insinuation that he avoided the Governor during the Darlington riots.

THE SENATORIAL CANDIDATES. Senator Butler waited until their mutual subsided.

THE POLITICAL PROBLEM. THE RESULT OF THE GUBERNATORIAL RACE IN DOUBT.

THE SILENT VOTE AN UNKNOWN QUANTITY.—A Prediction as to the Result by Counties—Many Schemes Reported Brewing to Defeat Tillman.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Aug. 10.—A few days ago I said in the Register that the man who pretends that he knows who is going to be nominated in the Reform primaries on Saturday for Governor

Mr. Tindal referred to a speech he made last year and talked in his usual way.

Mr. Evans advanced but Ellerbe rebuked him saying: "I can handle this crowd."

Evans and Ellerbe next denounced as false the insinuation that he avoided the Governor during the Darlington riots.

THE SENATORIAL CANDIDATES. Senator Butler waited until their mutual subsided.

Mr. Evans advanced but Ellerbe rebuked him saying: "I can handle this crowd."

Evans and Ellerbe next denounced as false the insinuation that he avoided the Governor during the Darlington riots.

THE SENATORIAL CANDIDATES. Senator Butler waited until their mutual subsided.

Mr. Evans advanced but Ellerbe rebuked him saying: "I can handle this crowd."

Evans and Ellerbe next denounced as false the insinuation that he avoided the Governor during the Darlington riots.

THE SENATORIAL CANDIDATES. Senator Butler waited until their mutual subsided.

Mr. Evans advanced but Ellerbe rebuked him saying: "I can handle this crowd."

Evans and Ellerbe next denounced as false the insinuation that he avoided the Governor during the Darlington riots.

THE SENATORIAL CANDIDATES. Senator Butler waited until their mutual subsided.

THE POLITICAL PROBLEM. THE RESULT OF THE GUBERNATORIAL RACE IN DOUBT.

THE SILENT VOTE AN UNKNOWN QUANTITY.—A Prediction as to the Result by Counties—Many Schemes Reported Brewing to Defeat Tillman.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Aug. 10.—A few days ago I said in the Register that the man who pretends that he knows who is going to be nominated in the Reform primaries on Saturday for Governor

Mr. Tindal referred to a speech he made last year and talked in his usual way.

Mr. Evans advanced but Ellerbe rebuked him saying: "I can handle this crowd."

Evans and Ellerbe next denounced as false the insinuation that he avoided the Governor during the Darlington riots.

THE SENATORIAL CANDIDATES. Senator Butler waited until their mutual subsided.

Mr. Evans advanced but Ellerbe rebuked him saying: "I can handle this crowd."

Evans and Ellerbe next denounced as false the insinuation that he avoided the Governor during the Darlington riots.

THE SENATORIAL CANDIDATES. Senator Butler waited until their mutual subsided.

Mr. Evans advanced but Ellerbe rebuked him saying: "I can handle this crowd."

Evans and Ellerbe next denounced as false the insinuation that he avoided the Governor during the Darlington riots.

THE SENATORIAL CANDIDATES. Senator Butler waited until their mutual subsided.

Mr. Evans advanced but Ellerbe rebuked him saying: "I can handle this crowd."

Evans and Ellerbe next denounced as false the insinuation that he avoided the Governor during the Darlington riots.

THE SENATORIAL CANDIDATES. Senator Butler waited until their mutual subsided.

THE POLITICAL PROBLEM. THE RESULT OF THE GUBERNATORIAL RACE IN DOUBT.

THE SILENT VOTE AN UNKNOWN QUANTITY.—A Prediction as to the Result by Counties—Many Schemes Reported Brewing to Defeat Tillman.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Aug. 10.—A few days ago I said in the Register that the man who pretends that he knows who is going to be nominated in the Reform primaries on Saturday for Governor

Mr. Tindal referred to a speech he made last year and talked in his usual way.

Mr. Evans advanced but Ellerbe rebuked him saying: "I can handle this crowd."

Evans and Ellerbe next denounced as false the insinuation that he avoided the Governor during the Darlington riots.

THE SENATORIAL CANDIDATES. Senator Butler waited until their mutual subsided.

Mr. Evans advanced but Ellerbe rebuked him saying: "I can handle this crowd."

Evans and Ellerbe next denounced as false the insinuation that he avoided the Governor during the Darlington riots.

THE SENATORIAL CANDIDATES. Senator Butler waited until their mutual subsided.

Mr. Evans advanced but Ellerbe rebuked him saying: "I can handle this crowd."

Evans and Ellerbe next denounced as false the insinuation that he avoided the Governor during the Darlington riots.

THE SENATORIAL CANDIDATES. Senator Butler waited until their mutual subsided.

Mr. Evans advanced but Ellerbe rebuked him saying: "I can handle this crowd."

Evans and Ellerbe next denounced as false the insinuation that he avoided the Governor during the Darlington riots.

THE SENATORIAL CANDIDATES. Senator Butler waited until their mutual subsided.

WHO WILL BE GOVERNOR? HOW THINGS STAND AT THE CLOSE OF THE FIGHT.

According to the Columbia Register and Governor Tillman the Race for Governor is Nip and Tuck Between Evans and Ellerbe.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Aug. 5.—The Register of today prints the following from its Memphis correspondent, Mr. W. W. Price, who has followed the speakers all over the State:

"The people are trying to figure out who is to be the next Governor, or rather who is to be the Reform nominee for that place. This now perplexing question will be answered in a few days by the people of the State. There are going to be some surprises, is a prediction I make."

"Well, the fact and the straight fact is this: The man who says he knows who is going to be the Reform nominee has soda water on the brain and needs examination. Governor Tillman agrees with me. I spent Friday night with him at Clemson College, and in conversation with several persons he said the race is one with as much doubt in it as he ever had in his life."

"I've mentioned the subject of bets in my column before. I have found that the odds in the betting on the gubernatorial race are offered on Evans, but a good deal of even money is going up, and Ellerbe's friends have been getting more confident every day for the last two weeks."

"It has been my opinion that the odds have gone the rounds of the campaign, and at Abbeville Wednesday there was a general handshaking and a lot of stucco farewells. There has not been an unpleasant incident in the party from beginning to end, except that last week Butler and Tillman at Union, and that was to have been expected sooner or later. The other candidates have been brothers, dwelling in peace and harmony."

"The interesting Weekly Bulletin of the State Bureau.

For the week ending August 6th the temperature deviated but little from the normal, but up to and including Friday the 2nd, a minimum of 50 having been reported from S. Matthews on Sunday; elsewhere the lowest was but 59, while the highest temperature for the week, 95, was reported from Greenwood and Spartanburg on Tuesday the 2nd. The week began and ended with cloudy weather and gave only from two to three entirely clear days in the interior, while along the southern coast every day was cloudy or partly cloudy; northward along the coast, in the vicinity of Georgetown, there was more sunshine, amounting to about the average."

The rainfall for the week was excessive, until the 14th, when it was scattered and although heavy in places not generally so; in fact some portions of the State were dry and needing rain, but during Saturday afternoon heavy showers occurred in many counties and by night a general heavy rain set in, and the rain continued steadily, or with short intervals through to Monday night at which time the weather still looked threatening. The rainfall over the entire State during this period varies from two to five inches, and the measurement not being available at this writing, the effects of this heavy rainfall on ground already too wet for the best development of most crops cannot be fairly estimated but will be reflected in the tone of next week's bulletin. Injury is already apparent due to frost, which have submerged large tracts of fertile bottom lands highly cultivated and covered with most promising fields of corn and cotton as well as grass for hay and pasturage. Hillside crops sustained injury from the washing rains. During the week cotton has fallen off in condition, or at best, had failed to take the gains it should at this season. Few correspondents but that reported excessive shedding of fruit or else growing to weed and fruiting too little. The soil that showed an unhealthy condition of the plant; rust also noted in many localities; many fields laid by in grass. The falling off in condition is estimated at from 10 to 40 per cent. There are portions of the State where the crop is in the most excellent condition.

Whiskey's Work. DIES MOINES, Iowa, Aug. 8.—The little village of Charlton, near here, this morning was the scene of a horrible tragedy. At 10:30 O'clock, J. B. Jenkins, King, night baggage man of the Hartford Road at that place, entered the home of his betrothed, Miss Julia Murphy, and after a bitter quarrel drew a revolver and shot her. He then turned on her sister, Mrs. Josie Owens, and fired a bullet into her killing her instantly. Mrs. Murphy, mother of the girls, rushed into the room only to meet with a bullet from the revolver fired by the apparently insane man. Her injury is such that the physicians have little hope of her recovery. She then turned the weapon upon herself and fired a bullet into her brain. He died an hour later. Jenkins had been drinking for several days and it is believed the murder and suicide was the outcome of a quarrel between himself and Miss Murphy over her betrothal condition. The women were highly respected and in good circumstances.

A Young Murderer. MONTGOMERY, Ala., Aug. 8.—A special to the Advertiser from Opelika, Ala., gives an account of a horrible tragedy near that place. The thirteen year old son of Mrs. Sam Love, had some trouble with Emmet Brooks, the fourteen year old son of Mr. Charles Brooks. The result was young Brooks received a bullet shot in his stomach and is thought to be fatally injured. The father of young Brooks killed his son to avenge the murder. The father does not appreciate the enormity of his offense and talked freely of the difficulty. He says Brooks snatched his gun from him, and then assaulted him with a heavy stick. The parents of the children are neighbors, between whom existed friendly relations.

Life Saving Girls. PENSACOLA, Fla., Aug. 7.—Last night the fully rigged Norwegian steamer "Stephenson," stranded on Santa Rosa Island, nearly 100 miles from the saying station, while trying to enter this harbor. A terrible southeast gale was blowing at the time. The government dispatches the life saving station from May to September, leaving only the captain in charge. Capt. Broadwater, with the assistance of his three daughters and one man, hauled their vessel, with the crew of the life line and rescued the crew of the vessel. The vessel is in seven feet of water and is rapidly going to pieces.

Table with 2 columns: County Name and Number of Votes. Includes counties like Abbeville, Aiken, Allendale, Anderson, Bamberg, Berkeley, Charleston, Chester, Chesterfield, Columbia, Darlington, Edgefield, Florence, Georgetown, Greenville, Laurens, Lexington, Marion, Marlboro, McCormick, Oconee, Pickens, Spartanburg, Sumter, Williamsburg, York.